Mestizo Nations Juan E. De Castro, 2022-08-30 Nationality in Latin America has long been entwined with questions of racial identity Just as American born colonial elites grounded their struggle for independence from Spain and Portugal in the history of Amerindian resistance constructions of nationality were based on the notion of the fusion of populations heterogeneous in culture race and language But this rhetorical celebration of difference was framed by a real life pressure to assimilate into cultures always defined by Iberian American elites In Mestizo Nations Juan De Castro explores the construction of nationality in Latin American and Chicano literature and thought during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Focusing on the discourse of mestizaje which proposes the creation of a homogenous culture out of American Indian black and Iberian elements he examines a selection of texts that represent the entire history and regional landscape of Latin American culture in its Western indigenous and neo African traditions from Independence to the present Through them he delineates some of the ambiguities and contradictions that have beset this discourse Among texts considered are the Indianist novel Iracema by the nineteenth century Brazilian author Jos de Alencar the Tradiciones peruanas Peruvian Ricardo Palma s fictionalizations of national difference and historical and sociological essays by the Peruvian Marxist Jos Carlos Mari tegui and the Brazilian intellectual Gilberto Freyre And because questions raised by this discourse are equally relevant to postmodern concerns with national and transnational heterogeneity De Castro also analyzes such recent examples as the Cuban dance band Los Van Van's use of Afrocentric lyrics Richard Rodriguez's interpretations of North American reality and points of contact and divergence between Jos Mar'a Arguedas's novel The Fox from Up Above and the Fox from Down Below and writings of Gloria Anzald'a and Julia Kristeva By updating the concept of mestizaje as a critical tool for analyzing literary text and cultural trends incorporating not only race culture and nationality but also gender language and politics De Castro shows the implications of this Latin American discursive tradition for current critical debates in cultural and area studies Mestizo Nations contains important insights for all Latin Americanists as a tool for understanding racial relations and cultural hybridization creating not only an important commentary on Latin America but also a critique of American life in the age of multiculturalism

Indigeneity and the Decolonizing Gaze Robert Stam, 2023-01-26 Against the long historical backdrop of 1492 Columbus and the Conquest Robert Stam's wide ranging study traces a trajectory from the representation of indigenous peoples by others to self representation by indigenous peoples often as a form of resistance and rebellion to colonialist or neoliberal capitalism across an eclectic range of forms of media arts and social philosophy Spanning national and transnational media in countries including the US Brazil Canada France Germany and Italy Stam orchestrates a dialogue between the western mediated gaze on the Indian and the indigenous gaze itself especially as incarnated in the burgeoning movement of indigenous media that is the use of audio visual digital media for the social and cultural purposes of indigenous peoples themselves Drawing on examples from cinema literature music video painting and stand up comedy Stam shows how indigenous artists intellectuals and activists are responding to the multiple crises climatological economic political racial and cultural confronting the world Significant attention is paid to the role of arts based activism in supporting the struggle of indigenous artistic activism of the Yanomami people specifically to save the Amazon forest and the planet
