

A stylized map of Venice, Italy, rendered in a light gray tone. The map features the characteristic irregular layout of the city, with numerous small, detailed line drawings of buildings and structures scattered across the landmasses. Overlaid on this map are numerous small, solid orange circles. These circles are distributed across the map, with some appearing in small groups and others in isolation. The bottom right corner of the image is filled with a dense, regular grid of these same orange circles. The overall aesthetic is minimalist and architectural.

Elements Of Venice:

Elements of Venice Giulia Foscari Widmann Rezzonico, 2014 Developed as a research project parallel to FUNDAMENTALS the 14th Venice Architecture Biennale curated by Rem Koolhaas this book introduces a radically new way of seeing Venice With examinations of twelve different architectural elements the guide allows readers to better understand the fundamental transformations that have shaped Venice over the past ten centuries Back cover Handbook on Big Data Marketing and Management in Tourism and Hospitality Nikolaos Stylos, Jeremy Zwiegelaar, 2025-04-09 This comprehensive Handbook serves as a key reference for Big Data theorization and implementation that will drive the next generation of marketing and management in tourism and hospitality It explores the need for systemizing knowledge around using Big Data in decision making and how the service industries are heavily influenced by data driven sciences and their relevant applications

Seven Elements that Changed the World John Browne, 2021-11-15 The fascinating story of how seven elements iron carbon gold silver uranium titanium and silicon have changed modern life for good and ill With carbon we access heat light and mobility at the flick of a switch while silicon enables us to communicate across the globe in an instant Yet our use of the Earth's mineral resources is not always for the benefit of humankind our relationship with the elements is one of great ambivalence Uranium is both productive nuclear power and destructive nuclear bombs iron is the bloody weapon of war but also the economic tool of peace our desire for alluring gold is the foundation of global trade but has also led to the death of millions John Browne CEO of British Petroleum BP for twelve years vividly describes how seven elements are shaping the world around us for better and for worse Combining history science and politics Seven Elements takes you on a present day adventure of human passion and innovation This journey is far from over we continue to find surprising new uses for these seven elements In this narrative of discovery readers will come to understand how titanium pervades modern consumer society how natural gas is transforming the global energy sector and how an innovative new form of carbon could be starting a technology revolution

Syllabi for the Academic Years ... American Society for the Extension of University Teaching, 1901 Bulletin, 1887 Architectural Exaptation Alessandro Melis, Telmo Pievani, Jose Antonio Lara-Hernandez, 2024-03-29 Architectural Exaptation When Function Follows Form focuses on the significance and the originality of the study of exaptation It presents exaptation as an opportunity to extend architectural design towards more sustainable approaches aimed at enforcing urban resilience The use of exaptation's definition in architecture supports the heuristic value of cross disciplinary studies on biology and architecture which seem even more relevant in times of global environmental crises This book aims to make a critique of the pre existing and extensive paternalistic literature Exaptation will be described as a functional shift of a structure that already had a prior but different function In architecture a functional shift of a structure that already had a function may apply to forms of decorative elements embedded in architectural components and to both change of function of tectonic elements and the change of use of an architectural space The book is illustrated with examples from around the globe including China Italy Mexico New Zealand the USA and the UK and looks at different civilizations and diverse historical periods ranging from the urban to the architectural scale Such examples highlight the potential and latent human creative capacity to change the use and functions something that cities and buildings could consider when facing disturbances Exaptation is shown as an alternative narrative to the simplifications of evolutionary puritanism It also offers an innovative perspective and presents an opportunity to re think the manner in which we design and redesign our cities This book will be of interest to architecture planning urban design and biology researchers and students Winner of the Gerd Albers Award 2024 This award is for the best book contribution in the field of Urban Planning and is awarded by International Society of City and Regional Planners ISOCARP Venice's Intimate Empire Erin Maglaque,2018-06-15 Mining private writings and humanist texts Erin Maglaque explores the lives and careers of two Venetian noblemen Giovanni Bembo and Pietro Coppo who were appointed as colonial administrators and governors In Venice s Intimate Empire she uses these two men and their families to showcase the relationship between humanism empire and family in the Venetian Mediterranean Maglaque elaborates an intellectual history of Venice s Mediterranean empire by examining how Venetian humanist education related to the task of governing Taking that relationship as her cue Maglaque unearths an intimate view of the emotions and subjectivities of imperial governors In their writings it was the affective relationships between husbands and wives parents and children humanist teachers and their students that were the crucible for self definition and political decision making Venice s Intimate Empire thus illuminates the experience of imperial governance by drawing connections between humanist education and family affairs From marriage and reproduction to childhood and adolescence we see how intimate life was central to the Bembo and Coppo families experience of empire Maglaque skillfully argues that it was within the intimate family that Venetians relationships to empire its politics its shifting social structures its metropolitan and colonial cultures were determined

Syllabi of the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching American Society for the Extension of University Teaching,1901 Ibero-American Ecocriticism J. Manuel Gómez,2024-02-19 Ibero American Ecocriticism Cultural and Social Explorations presents a distinct view of the diverse social and physical geographies of the Americas their political and cultural connections to the Iberian Peninsula and their relationship to the environment in its diverse representations The topics ranging from myths and legends poetics young adult literature arts and performance to cinematography by women dialogue across chapters reveal a persistent usage of nature and environment as recurrent themes Through visual and plastic arts as well as poetic narratives of social utopias dystopias the contributors provide original readings on the effects of societal views and struggles to protect and consciously exploit the natural world The uniqueness of this book relies therefore on the geographical and cultural approach to the poetics of nature and its metaphorical and physical embodiment place and geography through utopian and dystopian world recreation and representation and finally the nexus with ecology and social actors Venice's Most Loyal

City Stephen D. Bowd, 2010-11-15 This innovative microhistory of a fascinating yet neglected city shows how its loyalty to Venice was tested by military attack economic downturn and demographic collapse Despite these trials Brescia experienced cultural revival and political transformation which Bowd uses to explain state formation in a powerful region of Renaissance Italy

Neil Leach Steven Pile and David Frisby Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation Charlotte Templin, 1995
 Soon after its publication in 1973 Fear of Flying brought Erica Jong immense popular success and media fame Alternately pegged sassy and vulgar Jong's novel embraced the politics of the women's liberation movement and challenged the definition of female sexuality Yet today more than twenty years and several books later literary reputation continues for the most part to elude Jong Typecast by her adversaries as a media seeking sensationalist Erica Jong has been unfairly side stepped by academia Charlotte Templin contends In this carefully researched study augmented by personal interviews with Jong Templin assembles and analyzes the medley of responses to Jong's books by reviewers critics writers academics and the media by liberals conservatives and feminists She examines the diverse opinions on the merit and relevance to contemporary life of Fear of Flying the invocation of a high culture low culture dichotomy to discredit How to Save Your Own Life the anatomy of literary success with Fanny Jong's reception in a postfeminist age and the trivialization of Jong's works that is inevitable with mass media exposure Templin also shows how antagonistic reviewers tend to identify Jong with her fictitious characters a practice more common when the author is a woman and judge her to be guilty of the sin of not being a proper woman In turn she shows how reviewers reveal something of their own values and ideological biases in their critiques and how literary reputations are built destroyed and altered over time The first book to make a detailed examination of the reputation of a woman writer Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation provides an excellent case study for the literary reception of women writers within a broad cultural context Templin's analysis offers valuable insight into the reception of women writers especially commercially successful women writers and dramatically illustrates the relation of literary reputation to popular appeal and cultural mores City Competitiveness and Improving Urban Subsystems: Technologies and Applications Bulu, Melih, 2011-10-31 Cities are becoming the wealth producing centers of national economies Increasing the operational efficiency of the city will bring a competitive edge to the whole system Yet many city subsystems cannot work together creating significant problems and inefficiencies City Competitiveness and Improving Urban Subsystems Technologies and Applications uses information science perspectives to improve working subsystems in transportation sewage electricity water communication education health governance and infrastructure since their efficient and synchronized operation is vital for a competitive city This pioneering approach will interest researchers professionals and policymakers in urban economy regional planning and information science disciplines who wish to improve the competitiveness of their cities A Mathematical History of the Golden Number Roger Herz-Fischler, 2013-12-31 This comprehensive study traces the historic development of division in extreme and mean ratio the golden number from its first appearance in Euclid's Elements through the 18th century Features numerous illustrations Making and Moving Sculpture in Early Modern Italy Kelley Helmstutler DiDio, 2017-07-05 In recent years art historians have begun to delve into the patronage production and reception of sculptures sculptors workshop practices practical aesthetic and esoteric considerations of material and materiality and the meanings associated with materials and the makers of sculptures This volume brings together some of the top scholars in the field to investigate how sculptors in early modern Italy confronted such challenges as procurement of materials their costs shipping and transportation issues and technical problems of materials along with the meanings of the usage hierarchies of materials and processes of material acquisition and production Contributors also explore the implications of these facets in terms of the intended and perceived meanings for the viewer patron and or artist A highlight of the collection is the epilogue an interview with a contemporary artist of large scale stone sculpture which reveals the similar challenges sculptors still encounter today as they procure manufacture and transport their works

Comedy and the Public Sphere Árpád Szakolczai, 2013 The book aims at reframing the discussion on the public sphere usually understood as the place where the public opinion is formed through rational discussion The aim of this book is to give an account of this rationality and its serious shortcomings examining the role of the media and the confusing of public roles and personal identity It focuses in particular on the role of the theatrical and comical in the historical development of the public sphere and in this manner reformulating definitions of common sense personal identity and culture
