To read about MLA documentation, see 53 and 54 in The Bedford Handbook, Eighth Edition.

Write "true" if the statement is true or "false" if it is false.

1. A parenthetical citation in the text of the paper must always include the following information if available: the author's name, the work's title, and a page number.
2. The works cited list is organized alphabetically by authors' last names (or by title for a work with no author).
3. The works cited list should include all of the works the writer consulted while researching the paper.
4. An in-text citation names the author (if there is an author) either in a signal phrase introducing the cited material or in parentheses after the cited material.
5. When a work's author is unknown, the work is listed under "Anonymous" in the list of works cited.
6. The list of works cited is titled Bibliography.
7. When a work has no page number, it is possible that nothing will appear in parentheses to mark the end of a citation.
8. In the parentheses marking the end of an in-text citation, use the abbreviation "p." or "pp." before the page number(s).
9. When a paper cites two or more works by the same author, the in-text citation includes at least the author's name and the title (or a short version of the title).
10. An entry for a Web source in the list of works cited gives the date the Web source was accessed.
