First Tales Of A Thai Village:

First Tales of a Thai Village Tony James, Idle Scribbler, 2014-11-04 Ghosts superstition and semi sorcery are all the stuff of daily life in Ban Somboon a tiny village in far flung Isaan Thailand's poorest province Far from Bangkok and the country's famed sun sea and sex resorts Ban Somboon sees few foreigners farang Nestling close to the Cambodian border the village is a community where ancient Khmer traditions and customs linger When a farang of pensionable age from Britain arrives to make his home in the village he faces a steep learning curve First Tales of a Thai Village chronicles the myriad shocks and surprises discoveries both of delight and dismay clashing cultures and struggles with an impenetrable language that he experiences Along the way he burrows into Buddhism encounters some scary Khmer magic and fends off the wiles of would be brides

Agricultural Change and Peasant Choice in a Thai Village Michael Moerman, 2023-09-01 This study examines the agricultural practices and decision making processes of a small Tai Lue village in northern Thailand focusing on the period from 1959 to 1961 with a follow up visit in 1965 Conducted through anthropological fieldwork the research involved living among villagers learning their language and participating in their daily life The primary aim was to understand how villagers in Ban Ping made farming decisions with a specific interest in their adoption of new agricultural technologies such as tractors which had significantly changed rice cultivation by 1960 By concentrating on the local culturally informed perspectives of the villagers the study seeks to provide insights into the factors that influence farming choices within the community The analysis explores the complexities of farming decisions through two perspectives rational decision making processes related to technology and broader social factors tied to the village's extracommunity relations The methodological approach involves a detailed systematic examination of how decisions were made in 1960 with subsequent insights from the 1965 field trip reserved for the study's final chapter to maintain the integrity of the initial analysis By doing so the research attempts to reveal the processes through which farmers select among different agricultural practices emphasizing the importance of understanding localized decision making in efforts to improve agricultural development and economic policies This work is intended not only for ethnographers studying agricultural practices but also for those involved in economic development offering a grounded perspective on the technological and social dynamics of rural communities The study reflects the author's engagement with development work in Thailand drawing on experiences with various international and Thai organizations The research benefits from the support of local Thai officials community members and academic institutions whose cooperation made it possible to document the nuanced interactions between tradition technology and economic change in Ban Ping This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1968 Travelers' Tales Thailand James

Ethnicity, Borders, and the Grassroots Interface with the State John A. Marston, 2014-01-05 Ethnicity Borders and the Grassroots Interface with the State brings together exciting new work by anthropologists working on mainland Southeast Asia The volume honors anthropologist Charles F. Keyes and the chapters here address concepts central to Keyes' own work ethnicity religion and modernity as they can be applied to the countries of Thailand Vietnam Cambodia and Laos The volume also reflects recent scholarly interest in cross border issues as reflected both in the complexity of identity where ethnic groups extend across boundaries and in increasing cross border mobility The volume is divided into three sections The first The State and Public Ceremony includes chapters on a ceremony of national heritage as celebrated in Vietnam and the United States Shan novice initiation near the border of Myanmar in Thailand and the restoration of the monkhood in Cambodia The second section The Grassroots Negotiation of Modernity contains chapters about the concept of sufficiency in Thai farm production the ways modernity is conceived among the Lahu in Thailand and the complexities of the Thai system of identity cards The final section Crossing Borders of State and Nation focuses on the stateless Lao population in northeastern Thailand Vietnamese migrants to Laos and Western farang men married to northeastern Thai women Contributors to the book include scholars based in Thailand Vietnam the United States Australia and Mexico The book is an invaluable reference for scholars of Southeast Asia and will also appeal to the general reader Highlights Brings together a range of new anthropological research on mainland Southeast Asia Compiled in honor of anthropologist Charles F. Keyes and draws on key concepts he developed in his work Includes sections on The State and Public Ceremony The Grassroots Negotiation of Modernity and Crossing Borders of State and Nation Contributors include scholars based in Thailand Vietnam the United States Australia and Mexico

David's Story David Cox, 2025-07-10 David's Story is a personal reflection on the fascinating life of the author as seen through his eyes in his seventy seventh year Most importantly it is a story focusing on love gained lost and then of love returning in more ways than one From his working class beginnings in Bolton the author's rebellious streak led to some interesting experiences In this memoir David reflects on his upbringing and family relationships during which time he lived in many different places his life as a student at the London School of Economics LSE and his political awakening his friendships an intense and long lasting love affair love later returning his career as a social worker his running marathons his support for Nottingham Forest

Football Club his experiencing cancer and his later life During David s childhood the family lived in eighteen homes in England and as a result he attended half a dozen different schools Despite all these changes he was still successful academically at school When he was eighteen in 1967 he became a student at LSE at a time when there was a major student revolt arising in considerable part as a response to the Vietnam War He discusses also his early friendships and the beginning of his social work career in east London at a time when he was very inexperienced and unqualified For him it was very much a question of sinking or swimming An intense love affair began during this period It was to be as W B Yeats described it as but a dreamy kind delight It was wonderful yet it was nearly to destroy both him and his girlfriend It was to last on and off for many years After the love affair ended he did not believe that he would ever marry but then love was to return many years later in more ways than one after he met Parinya in Thailand He was soon to marry her He also describes how his career as a social worker continued in east London and later in inner city Nottingham involving difficult and stressful work New friendships are also described There are chapters as well about becoming a marathon runner and also his passion as a supporter of Nottingham Forest Football Club At a later stage after working for a national charity for several years and then travelling around the world he returned to work in London as a manager of services for people with learning disabilities Later in the book he describes his experience of Thai ways with Parinya Then cancer threatened to cut short his life with his wife He was subsequently to move with Parinya out of London to Banbury Oxfordshire The covid epidemic was subsequently to pose further threats He then describes their recent life together Love and friendship have sustained David and compelled him to reflect on his life with gratitude I the final chapter of the book he offers reflections on our current society the wider world and his heroes and anti heroes

Future Anticipations in a Thai Village Phornchai Sripraphai, Kathleen Sripraphai, 1988 Power, Protection and Magic in Thailand Craig J. Reynolds, 2019-10-22 This biographical study of an unusual southern policeman explores the relationship between religion and power in Thailand during the early twentieth century when parts of the country were remote and banditry was rife Khun Phan 1898 2006 known as Lion Lawman sometimes used rather too much lethal force in carrying out his orders He was the most famous graduate of a monastic academy in the mid south whose senior teachers imparted occult knowledge favoured by fighters on both sides of the law Khun Phan imbibed this knowledge to confront the risks and uncertainty that lay ahead and bolster his confidence and self reliance for his struggle with adversaries Against the background of national events the story is rooted in the mid south where the policeman was born and died Based on a wide range of works in Thai language on field trips to the region and on interviews with local and regional scholars as well as the policeman s descendants this generously illustrated book accompanied by short video clips brings to life the distinctive environment of the lakes district on the Malay Peninsula Cinema's Doppelgänger Doug Dibbern, 2021-06-14 Cinema s Doppelgänger is a counterfactual history of the cinema or perhaps a work of speculative fiction in the guise of a scholarly history of film and movie guide That is it s a history of the movies written from an alternative unfolding of historical time a world in which neither the Bolsheviks nor the Nazis came to power and thus a world in which Sergei Eisenstein never made movies and German filmmakers like Fritz Lang never fled to Hollywood a world in which the talkies were invented in 1936 rather than 1927 in which the French New Wave critics didn t become filmmakers and in which Hitchcock never came to Hollywood The book attempts on the one hand to explore and expand upon the intrinsically creative nature of all historical writing like all works of fiction its ultimate goal is to be a work of art in and of itself But it also aims on the other hand to be a legitimate examination of the relationship between the economic and political organization of nations and film industries and the resulting aesthetics of film and thus of the dominant ideas and values of film scholarship and criticism Doug Dibbern s first book Hollywood Riots Violent Crowds and Progressive Politics in American Film won the 2016 Peter Rollins Prize He has published scholarly essays on classical Hollywood filmmakers film criticism for The Notebook at Mubi com and literary essays for journals like Chicago Quarterly Review and Hotel Amerika He has a Ph D in Cinema Studies from New York University where he teaches now in the Expository Writing Program Sacred Biography in the Buddhist Traditions of South and Southeast Asia Juliane Schober, 2002 This interdisciplinary collection of essays explores the biographical genre of the Buddhist traditions of South and Southeast Asia Scholars in the history of religions anthropology literature and art history present a broad range of explorations into sacred biography as an interpretive genre Each essay makes unique contributions and the collection as a whole engages methodological and interpretive approaches that are central to scholars of Buddhism and those specializing in the study of south and Southeast Asia

Self and Society in Southeast Asian Fiction Thelma B. Kintanar, 1988 The book begins with a brief survey of the development of modern fiction in Southeast Asia The fiction of five ASEAN countries Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Thailand is reviewed to analyze the major patterns in the relationship between the individual and his society as shown in the following themes the individual and his identities alienation and exile social class and the individual and commitment

Childbirth and Tradition in Northeast Thailand Anders Poulsen, 2007 This beautifully illustrated volume offers a rare study of Isan Thai customs and beliefs associated with pregnancy and birth and how they have changed over almost half a century Using a psychological and socio therapeutic framework Anders Poulsen discusses the function of various birth rites while giving an unmatched description of all traditions specifically connected to pregnancy and birth He includes an interesting description of the tradition of confinement by fire yuu fai and documents that it is still widely practiced contrary to what has been reported He also puts forward a theory of why some traditions maintain their importance while others fade away The findings of this study are supported by the transcription in Isan and translated in to English of the ritual texts that are used in these rites

More than Rural Jonathan Rigg, 2019-02-28 In the 1970s Thailand was developing but poor and largely agrarian By the 1980s it had become the fastest growing large economy in the world and in the process made the transformation from a low income to a middle income economy Fast forward to

2010 and Thailand had climbed yet another rung in the development ladder to become according to World Bank criteria an upper middle income economy Throughout this period of economic and social transformation contrary to historical experience and theoretical models one thing has remained constant the central role of Thai smallholder farming This conundrum the persistence of the smallholder in a time of extraordinary change lies at the heart of this book In More than Rural author Jonathan Rigg explores how people in the countryside have adapted to their changing world the new opportunities available and the consequences for rural life and living The Thai government has successfully developed the countryside but with unexpected results New household forms have emerged women have become mobile in a manner few expected and relations between rural and urban have changed Yet the smallholder has persisted and Rigg's attempts to understand why offer a fresh perspective on Thailand's development Setting aside the urban industrial point of view that we so often privilege Rigg asks different questions about Thailand's development What if he wonders the present changes are not simply way stations transitions to the main act of urbanization What if they represent a new form of rural livelihood Rigg's thoughtful nuanced approach to agrarian change viewing the countryside as more than agriculture the rural as more than the countryside and rural people as more than farmers offers insights into Thailand's wider transformations class identities intergenerational relations its political impasse and more Based on over three and a half decades of fieldwork in seventeen villages across three regions and encompassing more than one thousand households and a deep knowledge of primary and published sources More than Rural is a significant work with implications for contemporary development across Asia and the global South
