

Simon
Armitage
(b. 1963)

Remains

- 1 On another occasion, we get sent out to tackle looters raiding a bank.
And one of them legs it up the road, probably armed, possibly not.
- 5 Well myself and somebody else and somebody else are all of the same mind, so all three of us open fire.
Three of a kind all letting fly, and I swear this sounds like it's in the sounds of words

and the reader is listening in colloquial expression - makes it sound like an ordinary conversation

that's bold here
which contrasts strongly with the defensive action that follows

repetition sounds like
he's been for the reader to know it won't be him - hints that he feels guilty

this comes as a surprise the sudden violence doesn't fit with the casual tone

poetic voice
switches to -
this is now more personal

repetition
of 'I' at beginning of the verses
emphasises
the speaker
of the same

I see every round as it rips through his life -
I see broad daylight on the other side.
So we've hit this looter a dozen times and he's there on the ground, sort of inside out this violent metaphor contrasts shockingly with the colloquial style of the first two stanzas

this is quite a grotesque exaggerated image - he says he can see straight through the bullet holes in the man's body

this is an almost childish description of the man's body - the speaker seems unable to process
it in an adult way

two very casual, cold actions - no respect for the dead man. 'tosses'
and 'carted off' make it sound as if the body is a piece of rubbish

pain itself, the image of agony.
One of my mates goes by and tosses his guts back into his body.
Then he's carted off in the back of a lorry.

a virtual reminder of the death - it foreshadows
the memories that are going to haunt him

the stanza ending reflects the blinking - the disorientant carries you forwards, and the horror is still there when the next stanza starts

End of story, except not really.
His blood-shadow stays on the street, and out on patrol I walk right over it week after week.

20 Then I'm home on leave. But I blink short simple sentence suggests he thinks that once he's at home he'll forget the terrible things he's seen. The suddenness of the line also hints at the speaker being confused
