The National Science Foundation's Materials Research Science and Engineering Centers Program National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Physics and Astronomy, Solid State Sciences Committee, MRSEC Impact Assessment Committee, 2007-10-31 The Materials Research Science and Engineering Centers MRSEC Impact Assessment Committee was convened by the National Research Council in response to an informal request from the National Science Foundation Charged to examine the impact of the MRSEC program and to provide guidance for the future the committee included experts from across materials research as well as several from outside the field The committee developed a general methodology to examine the MRSEC centers and after extensive research and analysis came to the following conclusions MRSEC center awards continue to be in great demand The intense competition within the community for them indicates a strong perceived value Using more quantitative measures the committee examined the performance and impact of MRSEC activities over the past decade in the areas of research facilities education and outreach and industrial collaboration and technology transfer The MRSEC program has had important impacts of the same high standard of quality as those of other multi investigator or individual investigator programs Although the committee was largely unable to attribute observed impacts uniquely to the MRSEC program MRSECs generally mobilize efforts that would not have occurred otherwise Because of an observed decline in the effectiveness of the centers the committee recommended a restructuring the MRSEC program to allow more efficient use and leveraging of resources The new program should fully invest in centers of excellence as well as in stand alone teams of researchers to allow tighter focus on key strengths of the program In its report the committee outlines one potential vision for how this might be accomplished in a revenue neutral fashion Information Literacy for Science and Engineering Students Mary DeJong,2024-08-22 This engaging handbook gives students and working scientists and engineers the information literacy skills they need to find evaluate and use information Beginning with a strong foundation in the utility structure and packaging of information this useful handbook helps students and working professionals decode real world information literacy problems Mary DeJong provides a compelling context and rationale for the skills scientists and engineers need to succeed in challenging careers that rely on the successful discovering and sharing of complex information Students will appreciate the in depth information on sources especially those needed for research assignments and scientists and engineers who write for publication will benefit from chapters on searching databases and organizing and citing sources Written with science and engineering students and professionals in mind this book is thorough well paced engaging and even funny The 5-year Outlook on Science and Technology ,1981 Future Materials Science Research on the International Space Station National Research Council,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,National Materials Advisory Board,Commission on Engineering and Technical Systems,1997-11-27 International Public Procurement Khi V. Thai,2016-07-30 Using a comparative framework this volume presents case studies of issues of public procurement and discusses how procurement professionals and policy makers in different regions are responding to these challenges This book discusses current issues in public procurement Over the past few decades public procurement has had to evolve conceptually and organizationally in the face of unrelenting budget constraints government downsizing public demand for increased transparency in public procurement as well as greater concerns about efficiency fairness and equity Procurement professionals have also had to deal with a changeable climate produced by emerging technology environmental concerns and ongoing tension between complex regional trade agreements and national socioeconomic goals The first section discusses innovation and reforms in public procurement and how practitioners are adapting to and making use of new technologies The second section addresses the challenges of maintaining transparency equity and fairness in public procurement The final section discusses preferential public procurement and introduces strategies for building sustainable public procurement systems By combining theory and analysis with evidence from the real world this book is of equal use to academics policy makers and procurement professionals A Research Agenda for Geographic Information Science Robert B. McMaster,E. Lynn Usery,2004-08-30 A close relationship exists between GIS and numerous applications including cartography photogrammetry geodesy surveying computer and information science and statistics among others Scientists coined the term geographic information science GIScience to describe the theory behind these fields A Research Agenda for Geographic Information
