

Overview

This document provides technical supporting information for the 30 indicators and four chapter-specific call-out features that appear in the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA's) report, Climate Change Indicators in the United States, 2014. EPA prepared this document to ensure that each indicator is fully transparent—so readers can learn where the data come from, how each indicator was calculated, and how accurately each indicator represents the intended environmental condition. EPA uses a standard documentation form, then works with data providers and reviews the relevant literature and available documentation associated with each indicator to address the elements on the form as completely as possible.

EPA's documentation form addresses 13 elements for each indicator:

1. Indicator description
2. Revision history
3. Data sources
4. Data availability
5. Data collection (methods)
6. Indicator derivation (calculation steps)
7. Quality assurance and quality control (QA/QC)
8. Comparability over time and space
9. Data limitations
10. Sources of uncertainty (and quantitative estimates, if available)
11. Sources of variability (and quantitative estimates, if available)
12. Statistical/trend analysis (if any has been conducted)
13. References

In addition to indicator-specific documentation, this appendix to the report summarizes the criteria that EPA uses to screen and select indicators for inclusion in reports. This documentation also describes the process EPA follows to select and develop those indicators that have been added or substantially revised since the publication of EPA's first version of this report in April 2010. Indicators that are included in the report must meet all of the criteria. Lastly, this document provides general information on changes that have occurred since the 2012 version of the Climate Indicators in the United States report.

The development of the indicators report, including technical documentation, was conducted in accordance with EPA's Guidelines for Ensuring and Maximizing the Quality, Objectivity, Utility, and Integrity of Information Disseminated by the Environmental Protection Agency.¹

EPA may update this technical documentation as new and/or additional information about these indicators and their underlying data becomes available. Please contact EPA at: climateindicators@epa.gov to provide any comments about this documentation.
