

Lab 7 Activity: Waves

In this laboratory you will learn about wave characteristics, including the propagation of a wave, the relationship between wave speed to the frequency and to the wavelength, and the relationship between wave speed and wave velocity.

Exercise 1: Wave Characteristics

Waves are disturbances that travel through mediums or empty space. The medium can be generally categorized as either a solid, liquid, or gas. The wave can be categorized as either a transverse wave or a longitudinal wave. The wave can be categorized as either a mechanical wave or an electromagnetic wave. In this activity, we will explore the characteristics of a wave, including wave speed, wavelength, frequency, and period.

In wave, we find wave's characteristics. I found wavelength the most interesting the graph of wave characteristics (period, frequency, and wave speed) and the graph of wave characteristics (wavelength, frequency, and wave speed).
