Lalemand Green Behavior Scale:

The Influence of Knowledge, Beliefs, and Efficacy on Commitment and Engagement in Sustainable Behavior Shelby D. Anderson, 2014 The current study investigated the influence of climate change knowledge belief in science and green efficacy on Missouri State University students commitment to environmental sustainability and reported engagement in sustainable behaviors Self efficacy is one's belief that he/she will succeed in specific situations and has been shown to be a predictor of motivated behavior Green efficacy is one's belief that he/she can engage in sustainable behaviors and have an impact with their behavior A scale was developed to assess individual green self efficacy in order to better understand individual motivation to engage in sustainable behavior A factor analysis of the green self efficacy scale yielded two distinct attitudes about engagement in sustainable behaviors weak green self efficacy and strong green self efficacy Strong green self efficacy attitudes correlated strongly with engagement in sustainable behaviors and commitment while weak green self efficacy attitudes correlated negatively A hierarchical regression analysis indicated a mediating effect green self efficacy and commitment to environmental sustainability has between the climate change knowledge and sustainable behavior relationship Strong green self efficacy and commitment explain unique variability in the engagement of sustainable behaviors

Personality and Environmental Behavior Michelle Ranae Alcorn, 2018 As restaurants continue to be a major contributor to the economy operations continue to negatively impact the environment Within the industry sustainability initiatives are becoming more popular however success depends on the buy in of employees The purpose of this study was to examine the relationship between and impact of personality traits on environmentalism of restaurant employees By detecting personality traits associated with environmentalism a better understanding of environmental behavior is obtained This understanding can be used to motivate pro environmental behaviors of employees by tailoring sustainability programs to appeal to different personalities Employees working in green certified and non certified restaurants completed a 95 item questionnaire measuring environmental attitude personal conservation behavior on the job environmental behavior personality and demographics Data collection was completed using three methods on site mailed questionnaires and online A total of 229 questionnaires were completed A significant relationship existed between personality and environmentalism Specifically personality was a significant predictor of environmental attitude personal conservation behavior and on the job environmental behavior Employees working in green certified restaurant operations had significantly higher levels of agreeableness conscientiousness extraversion openness environmental attitude personal conservation behavior and on the job environmental behavior and lower levels of neuroticism than employees working in non certified restaurant operations Findings from this study contribute to understanding the factors that impact environmental behavior Potential environmental champions can be identified by their personality traits and encourage other employees to perform green practices Furthermore recruitment of employees exhibiting these pro environmental traits could increase environmental performance in restaurant operations Additionally training and educational programs could be formatted based on the differences among personality traits to elicit pro environmental behaviors of employees

Psychological and Behavioral Decision Making of Green Consumption Ruyin Long,Hong Chen,Xiuping Li,2022-11-11

Green Factors and Green Behavioral Intentions Sanjoy Kumar Roy,2023 Consumers unsustainable behavioral intentions contribute to environmental degradation and impede sustainability Using green products is one way to reduce this effect and promote environmental growth Therefore this study aims to ascertain young customers intentions regarding their green behavior Additionally it evaluates the expanded theory of planned behavior in the Bangladeshi environmental context A sample of 382 undergraduate students was gathered using a structured questionnaire and the convenience sample approach The researcher used structural equation modeling to evaluate various associations After that necessary condition analysis NCA was performed to examine the levels of every factor necessary for students green behavior The study results reveal that green TPB perception GTP green product sensitivity GPS green product trust GPT and green product value GPV are significant predictors of green behavioral intention GBI This study s primary contribution is adding a brand new higher order construct GTP It comprises three TPB components attitude subjective norms and behavioral control Again environmental awareness moderates the association between GPS and GBI Furthermore the NCA s findings indicated that these variables were necessary to various degrees for students GBI Decision makers may use the study s insights to create successful regulations that will help them better understand young customers and develop appropriate green initiatives

Does it Have to be a Sacrifice? Martin Binder,Ann-Kathrin Blankenberg,Jorge Guardiola,2019 Our well being is influenced by our notion of what constitutes a good life a vital part of our identity While pro environmental behavior is often found to be positively related to individuals well being our research delves into the extent to which this relationship is influenced by individuals identity measured both as green self image and their notion of the good life in general Using survey responses from Spanish university students n 640 and paying close attention to the subjective perception of what it means to be satisfied with their lives we find that green behavior is negatively related to life satisfaction in our sample In contrast green self image is positively related to life satisfaction Whether pro environmental behavior is positively related to life satisfaction further depends on whether one s notion of the good life and hence happiness is utopian stoicist or based on a fulfillment or virtueview In addition well being loss from pro environmental behavior also decreases with the available disposable income Preschool and Kindergarten Behavior Scales Kenneth W. Merrell,2002

Development of an Environmental Disposition Scale Jady Chen,2020 Promoting sustainable behavior or environmentally responsible behavior poses challenges because there is no overarching solution for behavior changes Both surveys and interventions are context specific meaning behaviors do not necessarily influence other behaviors and the same values norms and beliefs do not necessarily translate to the same level of sustainable behavior Because there are regional differences in ideologies in the United States a country level approach to encourage sustainable behavior would not be as effective as having interventions that directly correlate with the motivations that encourage environmentally responsible behavior A survey conducted with undergraduate students at the University of Central Florida demonstrates that although values and beliefs are good predictors of sustainable behavior norms and self efficacy are more consistent predictors Implementing strategies to increase sustainability norms and self efficacy could improve environmentally responsible behavior for college students Psychology John Thoegersen,2013 Economic arguments such as saving money are often used to promote pro environmental actions for example reducing energy use However research shows that people s environmental motives are sometimes better drivers of behavioural change Transition Behavior Scale Stephen B. McCarney,Paul D. Anderson,2000 Transition Behavior Scale Stephen B. McCarney,1989 Transition Behavior Scale Stephen B. McCarney,Paul D. Anderson,2000 The Desired Loving Behavior Scale Mary B.
