The rising costs of nutritious foods: The case of Ethiopia Bachewe, Fantu Nisrane,Minten, Bart,2019-08-27 Costs of healthy diets are worryingly rising in a number of developed and emerging economies However less is known on these costs for developing countries Using price data from a large number of markets in Ethiopia we find that real prices of all nutritionally rich food groups increased significantly between 19 and 62 percent over the period 2007 to 2016 This contrasts with 1 staple crops

grains roots and tubers which did not show any price increase and 2 oils fats and sugar the prices of which decreased substantially Using detailed nationwide datasets and relying on time series methods we link these price increases to changes in local markets demand and supply factors transaction costs and international trade We find that prices of nutritionally rich food groups compared to cereals are relatively less affected by international trade and exchange rate changes but more so by rapidly increasing local and city demand This rising demand is likely due to recent income growth and rapid urbanization and the high income elasticities for nutritious foods in Ethiopia Moreover we find that local production changes affected prices of nutritious items little but national price rises were found to have been significantly linked with food price rises in commercial clusters in the country Changes in transaction costs fuel and transport costs explained relatively little of the observed food price changes Osaka Mathematical Journal ,1951

Risk of foot-and-mouth disease SAT2 introduction and spread in countries in the Near East and West Eurasia McLaws, M., Ahmadi, B.V., Condoleo, R., Limon, G., Kamata, A., Arshed, M., Rozstalnyy, A., Rosso, F., Dhingra, M.,2023-10-30 Following the detection of foot and mouth disease serotype SAT2 FMD SAT2 in West Eurasia and the Near East in February 2023 a qualitative risk assessment was conducted Serotype SAT2 usually circulates only in Africa and so most animals in the region are fully susceptible to infection by this virus The likelihood of spread of the FMD SAT2 to unaffected countries via key risk pathways and the potential consequences of the FMD SAT2 incursion in the region were described and assessed Plausible pathways for the introduction of FMD SAT2 were identified for most countries Informal movements of live animals and common grazing are the pathways of greatest concern because direct live animal contact is a very effective mode of FMD transmission especially in the absence of sanitary measures The large increase of animal movements associated with festivals such as Eid al Adha as well as seasonal grazing movements increase the probability of FMD spread An incursion of FMD SAT2 would result in a substantial negative impact with the production losses and cost of control measures estimated at USD 3 6 6 5 billion depending on the extent of spread within the region Outbreaks of FMD also have a negative impact on food and nutrition security economy labour markets and the livelihoods of most vulnerable people To mitigate the risks of FMD SAT2 all countries should have an emergency response plan for FMD that is realistic for the country and supported with adequate resources for implementation A comprehensive list of preventive measures including strengthened biosecurity and vaccination is available in this document

Accelerating progress in improving diets and nutrition in Ethiopia Baye, Kaleab, Hirvonen, Kalle, 2020-06-11 Ethiopia has witnessed significant reductions in child mortality undernutrition and communicable diseases but more substantial and faster progress is still needed The rise in obesity and in noncommunicable diseases particularly in urban areas is alarming and requires urgent policy and programmatic attention Unhealthy diets drive both undernutrition and obesity and are the underlying cause of significant proportion of both communicable and non communicable diseases Maintaining the relatively high breastfeeding practices and increasing the diversity of diets will be critical to improving nutrition in Ethiopia Implementation of effective nutrition messaging that shapes consumer behavior to adopt healthy dietary patterns while bridging gaps in both the reach and the quality of such messaging is warranted The health extension program which is the cornerstone of the transformation of the health sector may need to be redesigned in a way that improves its reach and the quality of the services it provides and minimizes the risk of burnout of frontline health
