Life Sciences March 2014 Cluster Paper:

The Life Cycle of Clusters Dirk Fornahl, Robert Hassink, 2017-04-28 One size fits all cluster policies have been rightly criticized in the literature One promising approach is to focus cluster policies on the specific needs of firms depending on the stage of development emergence growth sustainment or decline their cluster is in In this highly insightful book these stage specific cluster policies are analysed and evaluated Moreover several chapters also focus on smart specialization policies to promote regional development by taking into account the emergence and adaptation of clusters and industries Selected

Papers from the 3rd International Symposium on Life Science Valentin A. Stonik, 2020-12-10 This book contains information for specialists in various fields of science From the point of view of pharmacology data are reported regarding the effect of echinochrome A and related metabolites from sea urchins on the survival and functional properties of stem cells which can facilitate ex vivo application of this compound in medicine For scientists who isolate and establish structures of marine natural compounds an article devoted to the proof of the microbial origin of a typical metabolite earlier found exclusively from marine invertebrates 6 epi monanchorin may also be of interest A range of new marine metabolites was discovered from the both marine invertebrates and marine microorganisms particularly in marine isolates of fungi Some marine natural products could be applied to treat such diseases as Parkinson s disease ischemic stroke viral infections and so on Magnificamide a new peptide from sea anemones inhibits porcine and human saliva amylases showing its probable antidiabetic properties Application of the genomic approach was discussed in studies on various marine bacteria producing marine enzymes with unusual specificity The lectins capable of recognizing glycoforms of different substrates demonstrate the possibility to be used to elaborate new medical diagnostics Places of Invention Arthur P. Molella, Anna

Karvellas, 2015-09-15 The companion book to an upcoming museum exhibition of the same name Places of Invention seeks to answer timely questions about the nature of invention and innovation What is it about some places that sparks invention and innovation Is it simply being at the right place at the right time or is it more than that How does place whether physical social or cultural support constrain and shape innovation Why does invention flourish in one spot but struggle in another even very similar location In short Why there Why then Places of Invention frames current and historic conversation on the relationship between place and creativity citing extensive scholarship in the area and two decades of investigation and study from the National Museum of American History s Lemelson Center for the Study of Invention and Innovation The book is built around six place case studies Hartford CT late 1800s Hollywood CA 1930s Medical Alley MN 1950s Bronx NY 1970s Silicon Valley CA 1970s 1980s and Fort Collins CO 2010s Interspersed with these case studies are dispatches from three learning labs detailing Smithsonian Affiliate museums work using Places of Invention as a model for documenting local invention and innovation Written by exhibition curators each part of the book focuses on the central thesis that invention is everywhere and fueled by unique combinations of creative people ready resources and inspiring surroundings Like the locations it explores Places of Invention shows how the history of invention can be a transformative lens for understanding local history and cultivating creativity on scales of place ranging from the personal to the national and beyond Curiosity And Passion For Science And Art Uwe B Sleytr, 2016-07-04 This book describes the accomplishments of a curious and imaginative scientist and his endeavours to translate or even to extrapolate scientific insights into the world of art The science section in this volume concerns studies on S layers a very important class of proteins found on the surface of numerous Bacteria and nearly all Archaea S layer proteins are one of the most abundant biopolymers on our planet and assemble into the simplest type of biological membrane Moreover they are unique building blocks and patterning elements for the production of complex supramolecular structures and nanoscale devices in nanobiotechnology molecular nanotechnology synthetic biology biomimetics and nanomedicine In the second part of this book the author goes on to passionately describe how his scientific activities stimulated his art work which in particular concerns the visualization of results and the potential of synthetic biology and evolutionary events induced by genetic manipulations Most importantly the engagement in art allowed him to leave the rather curtailed canon of science and reach a mental state of unlimited freedom of thoughts Mask like sculptures are used as examples to visualize the intersection between science and art and in particular the unpredictability and mystery of scientific visions Beyond Technonationalism Kathryn C. Iбата-Arens, 2019-04-16

The biomedical industry which includes biopharmaceuticals genomics and stem cell therapies and medical devices is among the fastest growing worldwide While it has been an economic development target of many national governments Asia is currently on track to reach the epicenter of this growth What accounts for the rapid and sustained economic growth of biomedical in Asia To answer this question Kathryn Iбата Arens integrates global and national data with original fieldwork to present a conceptual framework that considers how national governments have managed key factors like innovative capacity government policy and firm level strategies Taking China India Japan and Singapore in turn she compares each country's underlying competitive advantages What emerges is an argument that countries pursuing networked technonationalism NTN effectively upgrade their capacity for innovation and encourage entrepreneurial activity in targeted industries In contrast to countries that engage in classic technonationalism like Japan's developmental state approach networked technonationalists are global minded to outside markets while remaining nationalistic within the domestic economy By bringing together aggregate data at the global and national level with original fieldwork and drawing on rich cases Iбата Arens telegraphs implications for innovation policy and entrepreneurship strategy in Asia and beyond

Metabolic Syndrome and Complications of Pregnancy Enrico Ferrazzi, Barry Sears, 2015-06-24 This book explores the nature of pregnancy and metabolic syndrome as proinflammatory conditions and explains how pregnancy provides a window of opportunity for preventing the lifelong complications of metabolic syndrome during which key risk factors can be identified and beneficial dietary changes can be implemented The book's opening sections discuss inflammation in the context of pregnancy including the nature of the placenta as a proinflammatory tissue In the main body it points to new possible connections to truncal obesity inflammation metabolic syndrome and major obstetrical syndromes including preeclampsia gestational diabetes and pre term delivery Based on the insights offered by this analysis the remainder of the book focuses on a variety of nutritional measures and diets that can be of benefit during and beyond pregnancy Readers will learn how the higher level of compliance with medical instructions during pregnancy can be capitalized on to ensure enduring health benefits for mother and child alike Science, the State and the City Geoffrey Owen, Michael M. Hopkins, 2016 The book is about the link between science and business how discoveries made in academic laboratories are taken up by venture capitalists and investors and converted into products which if they are successful provide treatments for disease and may generate substantial returns for investors SDG14 - Life Below Water Umesh Chandra Pandey, Ranjan Nayak, Krishna Roka, Trilok Kumar Jain, 2021-02-15 SDG14 Life Below Water Towards Sustainable Management of Our Oceans describes the dependence of human beings on shore and marine resources and highlights how oceanic life sustains the livelihoods of people living in coastal areas affects global economy and plays a significant role for making earth habitable Innovation and Production Ecosystems Bernard Guilhon, 2017-09-25 We do not know where Silicon Valley is really located Feldman writes because these types of organization when they are dynamic are moving and fluid Innovation and production ecosystems or clusters are proliferating today because they seem to be adapted to the demands of innovation growth and employment The process leading to their institutionalization escapes a summary analysis of the behavior triggered by monetary incentives or at the very least makes it richer The relational aspect becomes predominant the interactions between the participants testify to the difficulty of separating the geographical and social dimensions In the most prominent American clusters public private linkages and the building of social links express the centrality of networks in the innovation process The European vision seeks to articulate entrepreneurial discoveries with vertical public interventions The competitiveness poles in France suffer from the fact that public choices seem to be torn between two contradictory objectives efficiency and equity Unfolding Cluster Evolution Fiorenza Belussi, Jose Luis Hervás-Oliver, 2016-08-05 Various theories have been put forward as to why business and industry develops in clusters and despite good work being carried out on path dependence and dynamics this is still very much an emerging topic in the social sciences To date no overarching theoretical framework has been developed to show how clusters evolve Unfolding Cluster Evolution aims to address this gap by presenting theoretical and empirical research on the geography of innovation This contributed volume seeks to shed light on the understanding of clusters and its dynamic evolution The book provides evidence to suggest that traditional perspectives from evolutionary economic geography need to be wedded to management thinking in order to reach this point Bringing together thinking from a range of disciplines and countries across Europe this book explores a wide range of topics from the capability approach to network dynamics to multinational corporations to firm entry and exit and social capital This book will be of interest to policy makers and students of urban studies economic geography and planning and development

Building the Digital Enterprise Mark Skilton, 2016-04-29 The digital economy is at a tipping point This practical book defines digital ecosystems discusses digital design using converging technologies of social networking mobility big data and cloud computing and provides a methods for linking digital technologies together to meet the challenges of building a digital enterprise in the new economy

Small Nations, High Ambitions X. Hubert Rioux, 2020-02-24 Given the importance that entrepreneurship and start up businesses in technology intensive sectors like life sciences renewable energy artificial intelligence financial technologies software and others have come to assume in economic development the access of entrepreneurs to appropriate levels of finance has become a major focus of policymakers in recent decades Yet this prominence has led to a variety of policy models across countries and even within countries as different levels of government have adapted to new challenges by refining or transforming pre existing institutions and crafting new policy tools Small Nations High Ambitions investigates the roots of such policy diversity at the subnational level offering in depth accounts of the evolution of Quebec's and Scotland's policy strategies in the entrepreneurial finance sector and venture capital more specifically As compared to other regions and provinces in the United Kingdom and Canada Quebec and Scottish venture capital ecosystems rely on a high degree of state intervention either direct through public investment funds or indirect through government backed hybrid or tax advantaged funds These two regions can thus be described as sponsor states heavily involved in the strategic backing of innovative businesses Whereas most of the literature on venture capital has focused on economic variables to explain variations in policy models this book seeks to explain policy divergence in Quebec and Scotland through political and ideological lenses Its main argument is that the development of venture capital ecosystems in these regions was underpinned by Quebecois and Scottish nationalisms which induced preferences for policy asymmetry and state intervention

The Capacity to Innovate Sarah Giest, 2021 In The Capacity to Innovate Sarah Giest provides insight into the collaborative and absorptive capacities needed to provide public support to local innovation through cluster organizations The book offers a detailed view of the vertical multi level and horizontal dynamics in clusters and cluster policy and addresses how they are managed and supported Using the biotechnology field as an example Giest highlights challenges in the collaborative efforts of public bodies private companies and research institutes to establish a successful ecosystem of innovation in this sector The book argues that cluster policy in collaboration with cluster organizations should focus on absorptive and collaborative capacity elements missing in the cluster context in order to improve performance Currently governments operate at different levels local to supranational in order to support clusters and cluster policies are often pursued in parallel to other programs As the book shows this can lead to uncoordinated efforts and ineffective cluster strategies Relational dynamics are often overlooked when working backwards from performance indicators since their effects are largely indirect but Giest demonstrates that both the cluster organization and the cluster eco system play a role The Capacity to Innovate advocates for a coordinated effort by government and cluster organizations to support capacity elements lacking within the specific cluster context Introduction to Regional Economic Development Mustafa Dinc,2015-12-18 This is a relatively simple and easy to read introduction of major regional and local economic development theories their theoretical evolution and other relevant topics such as governance institutions and local leadership within the globalization context It also discusses some basic analytical tools and provides a template for them in an easy to use MS Excel spreadsheet application It introduces conflict management procedures into regional development process and provides a regional decision support framework Rethinking Clusters Silvia Rita Sedita,Silvia Blasi,2021-05-22 This volume discusses how different geographical spaces can enhance or hinder the capacity of a variety of organizational settings to achieve economic value creation in the pursuit of sustainable regional development In order to provide the most comprehensive picture of new sources of value creation for sustainable transitions the book collects contributions that tackle this issue from a variety of perspectives and adopts a systemic approach where macro meso and micro levels of analysis are intertwined in three sections This multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approach comes from scholars operating in the fields of planning economic geography social entrepreneurship and organizational management The first section of the book adopts a macro level approach linking sustainability to the regional development theme and addresses how organizations work between different social interests to produce outcomes not previously realized The second section of the book focuses on the spatial dimensions of sustainable development with particular clusters industrial districts and regions considered as relevant units of analysis meso level analysis The third section of the book is dedicated to a micro level approach illustrating how to drive social entrepreneurship activities which are based upon sustainable business models centered in the creation of a shared value The book is geared towards scholars working on sustainable development issues intersecting the disciplines of regional studies economic geography and management and will appeal to geographers and researchers in economic development business innovation and sustainability transitions Growing Urban Economies David A. Wolfe,Meric S. Gertler,2016-05-09 Even in a globalizing knowledge based economy cities remain engines of growth innovation and diversity Increasingly they are also active participants in the creation of the social and political conditions necessary to create a thriving community The Innovation Creativity and Governance in Canadian City Regions series is a focused analysis of how developments at the local and regional level affect these three key determinants of future prosperity Growing Urban Economies summarizes its conclusions in a single volume that presents an overview of the evidence and its implications A rich and nuanced analysis of the interplay of social political and economic factors in thirteen Canadian city regions large and small this collection integrates research focusing on innovation creativity and talent retention and governance in order to understand the distinctive experience of each region A valuable cross section of city region development in a variety of circumstances Growing Urban Economies offers important insights into the way in which local conditions affect urban economies around the world

Sharing Cities Duncan McLaren, Julian Agyeman, 2015-12-04 How cities can build on the sharing economy and smart technology to deliver a sharing paradigm that supports justice solidarity and sustainability The future of humanity is urban and the nature of urban space enables and necessitates sharing of resources goods and services experiences Yet traditional forms of sharing have been undermined in modern cities by social fragmentation and commercialization of the public realm In Sharing Cities Duncan McLaren and Julian Agyeman argue that the intersection of cities highly networked physical space with new digital technologies and new mediated forms of sharing offers cities the opportunity to connect smart technology to justice solidarity and sustainability McLaren and Agyeman explore the opportunities and risks for sustainability solidarity and justice in the changing nature of sharing McLaren and Agyeman propose a new sharing paradigm which goes beyond the faddish sharing economy seen in such ventures as Uber and TaskRabbit to envision models of sharing that are not always commercial but also communal encouraging trust and collaboration Detailed case studies of San Francisco Seoul Copenhagen Medell n Amsterdam and Bengaluru formerly Bangalore contextualize the authors discussions of collaborative consumption and production the shared public realm both physical and virtual the design of sharing to enhance equity and justice and the prospects for scaling up the sharing paradigm through city governance They show how sharing could shift values and norms enable civic engagement and political activism and rebuild a shared urban commons Their case for sharing and solidarity offers a powerful alternative for urban futures to conventional race to the bottom narratives of competition enclosure and division

Decentralised Democracy in India M. V. Nadkarni, N. Sivanna, Lavanya Suresh, 2017-08-07 This book provides a vantage point of comparison of the actual reality of decentralisation in India with Gandhi s vision of decentralised democracy or what he referred to as Gram Swaraj It looks at the historical evolution of panchayats from ancient times to India s independence and critically discusses the developments after It examines the functioning of the present Panchayati Raj Institutions PRIs and the performances of urban local bodies The basic thrust of this work is the need for constitutional reforms meant to strengthen and deepen democracy The book will be useful to those in political studies policy studies public administration and development studies

Serviceology for Services Masaaki Mochimaru, Kanji Ueda, Takeshi Takenaka, 2014-05-16 Services are key activities in the globalization of the economy and also underlie the quality of life of local residents The advanced work presented in this book was selected from the proceedings of the First International Conference on Serviceology ICServ2013 held October 16 18 2013 in Tokyo This book provides a useful overall guide to the state of the art in theory and practice of services for researchers in various fields including engineering marketing economics and others This work also facilitates the scientific systematization of services and promotes technological developments for solutions of industrial issues

Territorial tools for agro-industry development Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-08-09 This sourcebook appraises these instruments and considers their nature and objectives their potential benefits and challenges and the approaches used to implement them It also examines the practices that have led to both successful and unsuccessful outcomes The publication provides a comprehensive review of the potential of these tools to enhance value addition deliver jobs increase exports and provide markets for new and existing producers in the targeted territories It notes however that implementation of these tools poses a number of challenges For example planners and practitioners sometimes use them interchangeably thus ignoring the specificities of the investments policies and processes required and their expected outcomes The sourcebook concludes that these tools have potential for catalytic impact but planners need to make sound choices that respect demonstrated principles and follow good practices for effective design and implementation
