the most trusted institutions in the country regardless of political belief During tumultuous times this trust means that museums have a unique and important responsibility to fulfill their civic mission A century ago John Cotton Dana argued that the most important thing a museum can do is produce a public benefit The Civic Mission of Museums argues that museums play an essential role in the cultivation of engaged and informed citizens The book outlines a spectrum of civic learning that includes civic knowledge civic mindset civic skillset and civic action It offers concrete examples of impactful civic programming exhibits and public engagement from a diverse set of museums It ends with a practical toolkit gleaned from across the country for museum professionals to utilize
