one of the most talented painters of his generation producing a vast body of works that in both scale and technical accomplishment is unsurpassed amongst his contemporaries In his extensive writings in contemporary journals and books he pursued a singular vision for the purpose of art to serve as a vehicle for social change as well as to inspire individuals to be drawn to a higher spiritual reality Delvilles thinking is heavily indebted to the hermetic and esoteric philosophy that was widely popular at the time and his paintings poetry and writings reformulate the main tenets of this tradition in a contemporary context In this regard his aesthetic and artistic goals are similar if not identical to those found in the writings and art of Kandinsky and Mondrian during the early twentieth century

Le Peintre-graveur Illustré (xixe Et Xxe Siècles) Loys Delteil,1923 British Museum Catalogue of Printed Books ,1884 Realism in the Age of Impressionism Marnin Young,2015-07-24 The late 1870s and early 1880s were watershed years in the history of French painting As outgoing economic and social structures were being replaced by a capitalist measured time Impressionist artists sought to create works that could be perceived in an instant capturing the sensations of rapidly transforming modern life Yet a generation of artists pushed back against these changes spearheading a short lived revival of the Realist practices that had dominated at mid century and advocating slowness in practice subject matter and beholding In this illuminating book Marnin Young looks closely at five works by Jules Bastien Lepage Gustave Caillebotte Alfred Philippe Roll Jean Fran ois Raffa lli and James Ensor artists who shared a concern with painting and temporality that is all but forgotten today having been eclipsed by the ideals of Impressionism Young s highly original study situates later Realism for the first time within the larger social political and economic framework and argues for its centrality in understanding the development of modern art The Feminist Encyclopedia of French Literature Eva M. Sartori,1999-07-30 The earliest known literary productions by women living in Europe were probably written by French writers As early as the 12th century women troubadours in the south of France were writing poems French women continued writing through the ages their number increasing as education became more available to women of all classes And yet of the great number of works by women writers who preceded the current feminist movement very few have survived A few writers such as Marie de France George Sand and Simone de Beauvoir became part of the canon But critics mostly male had judged the works of only a few women writers worthy of recognition As part of the feminist move to reclaim women writers and to rethink literary history scholars in French literature began to take a new look at women writers who had been popular during their lifetimes but who had not been admitted into the canon This reference book provides extensive information about French women writers and the world in which they lived Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries for authors literary genres such as the novel poetry and the short story literary movements such as classicism realism and surrealism life cycle events particular to women such as menstruation and menopause events and institutions which affected women differently than men such as revolutions wars and laws on marriage divorce and education The volume spans French literature from the Middle Ages to the present and covers those writers who lived and worked mainly in France The entries are written by expert contributors and each includes bibliographical information The entries focus on each writer s awareness of how her gender shaped her outlook and opportunities on how categorizations structures and terms used to describe literary works have been defined for women and the ways in which women writers have responded to these definitions The volume begins with a feminist history of French literature and concludes with a selected general bibliography and a chronology of women writers
