Conservation Drones Serge A. Wich, Lian Pin Koh, 2018-05-31

Increasing numbers of ecologists and conservation biologists have begun to explore the use of drone technology to obtain accurate and up-to-date data on the distribution and density of species, as well as the threats to their habitats, in their ongoing attempts to conserve and monitor biodiversity. Conservation drones are low-cost, autonomous, and operator-friendly unmanned aerial vehicles that can be used for surveying, mapping, and monitoring both habitat and biodiversity. They are fast becoming a valuable complement to ground-based surveys and satellite imagery for a wide range of ecological and conservation applications. The authors pioneered the use of conservation drones for the purpose of monitoring orangutan populations in Southeast Asia. They subsequently founded ConservationDrones.org to share their knowledge of building and using drones with colleagues in the wider environmental community. This website has proved highly popular, and this book aims to further build capacity to use drones and inspire others to adapt emerging technologies for practical conservation.

Deep Learning for Unmanned Systems Anis Koubaa, Ahmad Taher Azar, 2021-10-01

This book is used at the graduate or advanced undergraduate level and many others. Manned and unmanned ground, aerial, and marine vehicles enable many promising and revolutionary civilian and military applications that will change our life in the near future. These applications include, but are not limited to, surveillance, search and rescue, environment monitoring, infrastructure monitoring, self-driving cars, contactless last-mile delivery vehicles, autonomous ships, precision agriculture, and transmission line inspection, to name just a few. These vehicles will benefit from advances of deep learning as a subfield of machine learning, able to endow these vehicles with different capabilities such as perception, situation awareness, planning, and intelligent control. Deep learning models also have the ability to generate actionable insights into the complex structures of large data sets. In recent years, deep learning research has received an increasing amount of attention from researchers in academia government laboratories and industry These research activities have borne some fruit in tackling some of the challenging problems of manned and unmanned ground aerial and marine vehicles that are still open Moreover deep learning methods have been recently actively developed in other areas of machine learning including reinforcement training and transfer meta learning whereas standard deep learning methods such as recent neural network RNN and coevolutionary neural networks CNN The book is primarily meant for researchers from academia and industry who are working on in the research areas such as engineering control engineering robotics mechatronics biomedical engineering mechanical engineering and computer science The book chapters deal with the recent research problems in the areas of reinforcement learning based control of UAVs and deep learning for unmanned aerial systems UAS The book chapters present various techniques of deep learning for robotic applications The book chapters contain a good literature survey with a long list of references The book chapters are well written with a good exposition of the research problem methodology block diagrams and mathematical techniques The book chapters are lucidly illustrated with numerical examples and simulations The book chapters discuss details of applications and future research areas
