Resource Management Plan for the Southern Diablo Mountain Range and Central Coast of California ,2006

South Park Bridge Project, Seattle ,2009 Urban Heritage, Development and Sustainability Sophia Labadi,William Logan,2015-10-23 More than half of the world's population now live in urban areas and cities provide the setting for contemporary challenges such as population growth mass tourism and unequal access to socio economic opportunities Urban Heritage Development and Sustainability examines the impact of these issues on urban heritage considering innovative approaches to managing developmental pressures and focusing on how taking an ethical inclusive and holistic approach to urban planning and heritage conservation may create a stronger basis for the sustainable growth of cities in the future This volume is a timely analysis of current theories and practises in urban heritage with particular reference to the conflict between and potential reconciliation of conservation and development goals A global range of case studies detail a number of distinct practical approaches to heritage on international national and local scales Chapters reveal the disjunctions between international frameworks and national implementation and assess how internationally agreed concepts can be misused to justify unsustainable practices or to further economic globalisation and political nationalism The exclusion of many local communities from development policies and the subsequent erosion of their cultural heritage is also discussed with the collection emphasising the importance of grass roots heritage and exploring more inclusive and culturally responsive conservation strategies Contributions from an international group of authors including practitioners as well as leading academics deliver a broad and balanced coverage of this topic Addressing the interests of both urban planners and heritage specialists Urban Heritage Development and Sustainability is an important addition to the field that will encourage further discourse A County of Small Towns T. R. Slater,Nigel Goose,2008 Exploring the history of the principal towns of Hertfordshire England from the medieval period to the 19th century this collection of essays includes chapters on important towns including Alban Ashwell Berkhamsted Hertford Hitchin and Ware A rich resource on the urban history of Hertfordshire it features essays on topography medieval town economy commons and boundaries industry and the influence of the Dissolution on the region Cedar Creek and Belle Grove National Historical Park, General Management Plan ,2010

Kingdom, Civitas, and County Stephen Rippon,2018-04-19 This book explores the development of territorial identity in the late prehistoric Roman and early medieval periods Over the course of the Iron Age a series of marked regional variations in material culture and landscape character emerged across eastern England that reflect the development of discrete zones of social and economic interaction The boundaries between these zones appear to have run through sparsely settled areas of the landscape on high ground and corresponded to a series of kingdoms that emerged during the Late Iron Age In eastern England at least these pre Roman socio economic territories appear to have survived throughout the Roman period despite a trend towards cultural homogenization brought about by Romanization Although there is no direct evidence for the relationship between these socio economic zones and the Roman administrative territories known as civitates they probably corresponded very closely The fifth century saw some Anglo Saxon immigration but whereas in East Anglia these communities spread out across much of the landscape in the Northern Thames Basin they appear to have been restricted to certain coastal and estuarine districts The remaining areas continued to be occupied by a substantial native British population including much of the East Saxon kingdom very little of which appears to have been Saxon By the sixth century a series of regionally distinct identities that can be regarded as separate ethnic groups had developed which corresponded very closely to those that had emerged during the late prehistoric and Roman periods These ancient regional identities survived through to the Viking incursions whereafter they were swept away following the English re conquest and replaced with the counties with which we are familiar today

Annual Report United States. National Park Service. Water Resources Division,2006 Heritage Politics in Adelaide Sharon Mosler,Sharon Ann Mosler,2011 In the 1970s the Australian Commonwealth Government and three States Victoria 1974 New South Wales 1977 and South Australia 1978 passed legislation to protect the built heritage within their jurisdictions The legislation was primarily a response to two factors a large number of public protests against the demolition of historic buildings in all Australian states by the 1970s and the influence of the UNESCO World Heritage Convention which the Whitlam Government 1972 75 embraced enthusiastically The other states with governments that were more influenced by development interests were slow to follow the federal lead In this study Sharon Mosler examines heritage issues and conflicts in Adelaide from enactment of the first South Australian Heritage Act in 1978 to its successor in 1993 and also analyses issues leading from that period into the twenty first century State legislation introduced by the Labor government of Premier Mike Rann 2002 present has affected the built environment significantly since this book began The Rann government has given the built heritage a low priority in its strategic plan compared to population growth while the Adelaide City Council has become more balanced in the past decade although the council too has focussed on increasing Adelaides population The result has been more high rise buildings at the expense of heritage conservation and historic precincts Advanced Technology Solar Telescope, Haleakalā, Maui ,2009

Charlestown Navy Yard Stephen P. Carlson,2010 Bosnia and the Destruction of Cultural Heritage Helen Walasek,contributions by Richard Carlton,Amra Hadžimuhamedović,Valery Perry,Tina Wik,2016-03-03 The massive intentional destruction of cultural heritage during the 1992 1995 Bosnian War targeting a historically diverse identity provoked global condemnation and became a seminal marker in the discourse on cultural heritage It prompted an urgent reassessment of how cultural property could be protected in times of conflict and led to a more definitive recognition in international humanitarian law that destruction of a people's cultural heritage is an aspect of genocide Yet surprisingly little has been published on the subject This wide ranging book provides the first comprehensive overview and critical analysis of the destruction of Bosnia Herzegovina's cultural heritage and its far reaching impact Scrutinizing the responses of the international community during the war including bodies like UNESCO and the Council of Europe the volume also analyses how after the conflict ended external agendas impinged on heritage reconstruction to the detriment of the broader peace process and refugee return It assesses implementation of Annex 8 of the Dayton Peace Agreement a unique attempt to address the devastation to Bosnia's cultural heritage and examines the treatment of war crimes involving cultural property at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia ICTY With numerous case studies and plentiful illustrations this important volume considers questions which have moved to the foreground with the inclusion of cultural heritage preservation in discussions of the right to culture in human rights discourse and as a vital element of post conflict and development aid

Re-thinking Intellectual Property YiJun Tian, 2008-08-20 Copyright laws along with other Intellectual Property Rights IPRs constitute the legal foundation for the global knowledge based economy and copyright law now plays an increasingly important role in the creation of business fortunes the access to and dissemination of knowledge and human development in general This book examines major problems in the current IPR regime particularly the copyright regime in the context of digitization knowledge economy and globalization The book contends that the final goals of IP law and policy making are to enhance the progress of science and economic development and the use and even distribution of intellectual resource at the global level By referring to major international IP consensus recent developments in regional IP forums and the successful experiences of various countries YiJun Tian is able to provide specific theoretical policy and legislative suggestions for addressing current copyright challenges The book contends that each nation should strengthen the coordination of its IP protection and development strategies adopt a more systematic and heterogeneous approach and make IP theory policy specific legal mechanisms marketing forces and all other available measures work collectively to deal with digital challenges and in a way that contributes to the establishment of a knowledge equilibrium international society
