Hollywood or History? Paul J. Yoder, Aaron P. Johnson, 2022-05-01 Traumagenic events episodes that have caused or are likely to cause trauma color the experiences of K 12 students and the social studies curriculum they encounter in U S schools At the same time that the global COVID 19 pandemic has heightened educators awareness of collective trauma the racial reckoning of 2020 has drawn important attention to historical and transgenerational trauma At a time when social studies educators can simply no longer ignore difficult knowledge instruction that acknowledges trauma in social studies classrooms is essential Through employing relational pedagogies and foregrounding voices that are too often silenced the lessons in Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Acknowledge Trauma in Social Studies engage students in examining the role of traumatic or traumagenic events in social studies curriculum The 20 Hollywood or History lessons are organized by themes such as political trauma and war and genocide Each lesson presents film clips instructional strategies and primary and secondary sources targeted to the identified K 12 grade levels As a collection they provide ready to teach resources that are perfect for teachers who are committed to acknowledging trauma in their social studies instruction

Representing Genocide Rebecca Jinks, 2016-06-02 This book explores the diverse ways in which Holocaust representations have influenced and structured how other genocides are understood and represented in the West Rebecca Jinks focuses in particular on the canonical 20th century cases of genocide Armenia Cambodia Bosnia and Rwanda Using literature film photography and memorialisation she demonstrates that we can only understand the Holocaust s status as a benchmark for other genocides if we look at the deeper structural resonances which subtly shape many representations of genocide Representing Genocide pursues five thematic areas in turn how genocides are recognised as such by western publics the representation of the origins and perpetrators of genocide how western witnesses represent genocide representations of the aftermath of genocide and western responses to genocide Throughout the book distinguishes between mainstream and other more nuanced and engaged representations of genocide It shows how these mainstream representations the majority largely replicate the representational framework of the Holocaust including the way in which mainstream Holocaust representations resist recognising the rationality instrumentality and normality of genocide preferring instead to present it as an aberrant exceptional event in human society By contrast the more engaged representations often but not always originating from those who experienced genocide tend to revolve around precisely genocide s ordinariness and the structures and situations common to human society which contribute to and become involved in the violence

The War Hotel Arlene Audergon, 2004-12-10 Human Nature is the fuel of violent conflict The War Hotel looks at how we get aroused and how we get silenced into violent conflict We are pulled apart in the name of justice and loyalty Past trauma is triggered into a replay Out of love and longing to step beyond the ordinary world we sacrifice ourselves and others Dehumanizing the enemy disinformation torture stirring fear in order to crack down these terror tactics too are based in psychology The manipulation of psychological dynamics to create violent conflict is distressing But if our emotions and behaviour are the fuel then our awareness can impact world events There is something truly hopeful here Awareness makes a difference Examples draw particularly from the author's work in the Balkans Other examples include Nazi Germany Rwanda the Israeli Palestinian conflict Communism and its fall in Europe South Africa the treatment of Native Americans and African Americans in the USA Vietnam and the war on terror

Fighting for Darfur Rebecca Hamilton, 2004-09-04 Around the world millions of people have added their voices to protest marches and demonstrations because they believe that together they can make a difference When we failed to stop the genocide in Rwanda in 1994 we promised to never let such a thing happen again But nine years later as news began to trickle out of killings in western Sudan an area known as Darfur the international community again faced the problem of how the United Nations and the United States government could respond to mass atrocity Rebecca Hamilton passionately narrates the six year grassroots campaign to draw global attention to the plight of Darfur's people From college students who galvanized entire university campuses in the belief that their outcry could save millions of Darfuris still at risk to celebrities such as Mia Farrow who spurred politicians to act to Steven Spielberg who boycotted the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing Hamilton details how advocacy for Darfur was an exuberant multibillion dollar effort She then does what no one has done to date she takes us into the corridors of power and the camps of Darfur and reveals the impact of ordinary people's fierce determination to uphold the mantra of never again Fighting for Darfur weaves a gripping story that both dramatizes our moral dilemma and shows the promise and perils of citizen engagement in a new era of global compassion

Regulating the Use of Force by United Nations Peace Support Operations Charuka Ekanayake, 2021-05-30 This Book attempts to deduce regulatory standards that can close the gaps between the Promises made and the Outcomes secured by the United Nations in relation to its use of force It explores two broad questions in this regard why the contemporary legal framework relevant to the regulation of force during Armed Conflict cannot close the gaps between the said Promises and Outcomes and how the Unified Use of Force Rule formulated herein achieves this This is the first book to coherently analyse the moral as well as legal aspects relevant to UN use of force UN peace operations are rapidly changing Deployed peacekeepers are now required to use force in pursuance of numerous objectives such as self defence protecting civilians and carrying out targeted offensive operations As a result questions about when where and how to use force have now become central to peacekeeping While UN peace operations have managed to avoid catastrophes of the magnitude of Rwanda and Srebrenica for over two decades crucial gaps still exist between what the UN promises on the use of force front and what it achieves Current conflict zones such as the Central African Republic Eastern Congo and Mali stand testament to this This book searches for answers to these issues and identifies how an innovative mix of the relevant legal and moral rules can produce regulatory standards that can allow the UN to keep their promises The discussion covers analytical ground that must be traversed behind the scenes of UN deployment well before the first troops set foot on a battlefield The analysis ultimately produces a Unified Use of Force Rule that can either be completely or partially used as a model set of Rules of Engagement by UN forces This book will be immensely beneficial to law students researchers academics and practitioners in the fields of international relations international law peacekeeping and human rights

School of Death Worku Gizaw, 2015-02-17 it was amazing to hear conspiracy against survivors by a group of evils Even intellectuals of the nation were wondering how Al Muna and garbage trainers trained and converted Levis mind Despite the shocking incidents and public clamor Levil did not hesitate to work on human massacre In a different occasions he uttered I have received and observed the blue print of Rwandas genocide When I compare it with our School of Death project it was a mini incident True intermingled ethnic origins are segregated and the process of learning and teaching has already begun in the capital city In the same token in remote districts and provinces ethnic cleansing has commenced and people are congested in their ethnic lines Once the cleansing is completed the ultimate goal of the School of Death will manifest the maximum capacity of death production all residents of Kakuma refugee camp including the dead are hereby informed that there will be a meeting on Sunday morning regarding the cloned Mr Levil in the Horn of Africa there is a rumor that kidney market is flourishing as refugee population augmented Brokers from Asia and Middle East are negotiating for a kidney at a price of 30 000
