Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1832 Pulp, Paper, and Board; Quarterly Industry Report, 1970 Reports and Documents United States. Congress, Colonialism in Africa 1870-1960: Volume 5, A Bibliographic Guide to Colonialism in Sub-Saharan Africa L. H. Gann, Peter Duignan, 1969 A comprehensive study of recent African history examining the political social and economic effects of colonialism The Report: South Africa 2013 Oxford Business Group, 2013-09-04 The Rainbow Nation benefits from an internationally competitive private sector which accounts for roughly 70% of GDP and extremely competitive infrastructure its utility sector for example produces just under half of the total power generated on the African continent South Africa represents by far the most developed market in Africa but there are still some structural challenges it is grappling with Government strategies have set a target of increasing labour market participation from 54% in 2010 to 65% by 2030 bringing the number of workers in the formal sector to 25.3m people and lowering unemployment from 25% to 6% While its fiscal space is narrow long term investments in infrastructure education and health are expected to be key to attaining its growth potential Recent years have seen both the public and private sectors look to strengthen regulatory frameworks in mining and industry in some cases like the automotive sector with impressive results Media Ownership in Africa in the Digital Age Winston Mano, Loubna El Mkaouer, 2022-10-24 Who owns the media and communications in Africa today and with what implications The book elegantly answers this urgent question by unpacking multiple dimensions of media ownership through rare and authoritative perspectives including both historical and contemporary digital developments It traces the evolving forms of ownership of media and communications in specific African contexts showing how they interact with broader changes in and outside the continent The book also shows how Big Techs such as Meta formerly known as Facebook are involved in a scramble for Africa's digital ecosystem and how their advance brings both opportunities and concerns about ownership and control The chapters analyse evolving forms of ownership and their implications on media concentration and democracy across Africa The book offers a nuanced account of how media ownership structures are in some instances captured with an ever growing and complex ecosystem that also has new opportunities for public interest media Offering a significant representation of the trends and diversity of existing media systems the book goes beyond the postcolonial geographical divisions of North and Sub Saharan Africa to highlight common patterns and significant similarities and differences of communications ownerships between and within African countries The contributors expose media and communications ownership patterns in Africa that are centralised and yet decentralising and in some cases battling resurging and globalising Summary of World Broadcasts British Broadcasting Corporation. Monitoring Service, 1973 Press Freedom in Africa Herman Wasserman, 2013-09-13 This book gives an overview of current debates surrounding press freedom in Africa in response to ongoing contestations between media and governments on the continent Through case studies of individual African countries as well as international comparisons a wide range of global contributors provide critical assessments of the state of press freedom on the continent and critical perspectives on the dominant discourses around freedom and democracy. Some fear an alarming slide towards a media intolerant environment in South Africa and the proposed Media Appeals Tribunal and the Protection of State Information Bill POSIB have met with strong criticism from journalism practitioners and educators. This book examines these and other recent developments seen to represent a threat to press freedom on the African continent. Contributors to the volume take a comparative look at the situation in South Africa within a broader global context of transitions to democracy and globalised marketization of the media as well as inspecting specific African examples that may serve to illuminate broader trends. Case studies from different African countries are examined but in the process the discourses around press freedom are also subjected to critical scrutiny. Critics state that the South African media are not without fault and that part of journalism scholarship's role is to continue to point to these shortcomings and to suggest ways of improving the media's democratic responsibility. Press Freedom in Africa provides a range of perspectives on the heated debates surrounding press freedom. It illustrates the importance of research-based scholarly interventions into the often emotional and rhetorical debates surrounding the role of the media in African society. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ecquid Novi African Journalism Studies. Tabloid Journalism in Africa Brian Chama, 2017-04-12. This book provides a timely and important summary of tabloid journalism in Africa which clearly shows how tabloids in the African context play a unique role in the democratization process. Prior to this book very little was known about how tabloid journalists operate in Africa. The book first explores the global practice of journalism and then focuses on tabloid journalism finally situating the discussion within the African context. As well as concentrating on how tabloid journalism can be seen as part of the broader neo liberal thinking in Africa in which democracy and freedom of expression is promoted it also looks at how tabloid journalism practice has been met with resistance from the alliance of forces. Chama draws on examples from across the continent looking at success stories and struggles within the sometime infotainment genre. Tabloid Journalism in Africa concludes that even though challenges exist there is a strong case to suggest that the practice of tabloid journalism is being readily accepted by many people as part of the unique voices of democracy even those which might be shocking yet true. Central Africa University of London: Institute of Commonwealth Studies, 2005-11-11.
