Phillips, 2016-10-19 From its origins in academic discourse in the 1970s to our collective imagination today the concept of rape culture has resonated in a variety of spheres including television gaming comic book culture and college campuses Beyond Blurred Lines traces ways that sexual violence is collectively processed mediated negotiated and contested by exploring public reactions to high profile incidents and rape narratives in popular culture The concept of rape culture was initially embraced in popular media mass media social media and popular culture and contributed to a social understanding of sexual violence that mirrored feminist concerns about the persistence of rape myths and victim blaming However it was later challenged by skeptics who framed the concept as a moral panic Nickie D Phillips documents how the conversation shifted from substantiating claims of a rape culture toward growing scrutiny of the prevalence of sexual assault on college campuses This in turn renewed attention toward false allegations and away from how college enforcement policies fail victims to how they endanger accused young men Ultimately she successfully lends insight into how the debates around rape culture including microaggressions gendered harassment and so called political correctness inform our collective imaginations and shape our attitudes toward criminal justice and policy responses to sexual violence Age of Anxiety Anthony M. Wachs, Jon D. Schaff, 2019-11-29 Age of Anxiety Meaning Identity and Politics in 21st Century Film and Literature analyzes literature and films that speak to our age of anxiety resulting from the decline of narratives that provided individuals with a meaningful human life. The authors argue that the twentieth century sought to free individuals from the constraints of authoritative cultural traditions and institutions liberating the autonomous self. Yet this has given rise to anxiety rather than liberation. Instead of deriving one's sense of purpose from one's role and place within a community, the consumer has been deceived into thinking that their identity can be purchased through the meaning represented by the conspicuous consumption of a brand. The same phenomenon manifests itself in politics within recent populist revolts against globalist politics. In addition, the rapid pace of technological development is driving an unprecedented faith in the malleability of human beings, raising doubts as to what it means to be a person. Utilizing paradigms from the fields of Communication, Rhetoric, and Political Philosophy, the book shows how the self has been displaced from its natural habitat of the local community. The book traces the origins of modern anxiety as well as possible remedies. Considered in the book are such popular culture artifacts as Downton Abbey, Wall-E, Hacksaw Ridge, Westworld, and Lord of the Rings, and zombie films.

Post-heritage Perspectives on British Period Drama Television Will Abbiss, 2023-06-09. Drawing upon the existing scholarship of period drama and emerging research into new media ecologies instigated by television streaming services such as Netflix, this book establishes a critical framework for understanding the representation of nationhood and cultural identity in television drama. By formalising the term post-heritage, the book proposes a methodology which recognises the interplay of traditional and innovative elements within period drama productions. The book applies this critical perspective to popular British period drama productions from the 2010s with examples including The Crown, the society dramas of Upstairs Downstairs and Downton Abbey, Steven Knight's Dickens adaptations, and Stephen Poliakoff's recent oeuvre to demonstrate the benefits of evaluating period drama as part of twenty-first century television's developments. It challenges the assumptions around characteristics and ideological purpose that period drama discourse often contends with and offers new perspectives on understanding the past through televisual representations. This book will be important reading for students and scholars of television studies, film studies, and cultural studies.
