Islam The Straight Path 4th Edition Esposito:

Islam John L. Esposito, 1988 The world's largest religion Islam is also one of the fastest growing and most politically potent yet its nature remains obscure to many westerners despite its common theological and historical roots with Judaism and Christianity Combining the finest Western scholarship with an insider's understanding of the Muslim world this book provides a brief yet comprehensive introduction to the faith belief and practice of Islam from the seventh century to the contemporary resurgence Drawing on his extensive experience traveling researching and teaching in the Muslim world John L. Esposito records the struggle of Muslims to define and follow their way of life through the development of Islamic law theology mysticism and philosophy bringing his discussion to life with excerpts from a wide range of original sources Written for a broad audience Islam The Straight Path addresses the powerful and pervasive role of Islam in modern Muslim life and the issues that Islam faces avoiding simplified political generalizations about the contemporary scene Completely up to date this book is indispensable to understanding the Islamic world during this turbulent and important period in its history

Wahhabi Islam Natana J. DeLong-Bas, 2008-08-22 Before 9/11 few Westerners had heard of Wahhabism Today it is a household word Frequently mentioned in association with Osama bin Laden Wahhabism is portrayed by the media and public officials as an intolerant puritanical militant interpretation of Islam that calls for the wholesale destruction of the West in a jihad of global proportions In the first study ever undertaken of the writings of Wahhabism's founder Muhammad Ibn Abd al Wahhab 1702-1791 Natana DeLong-Bas shatters these stereotypes and misconceptions Her reading of Ibn Abd al Wahhab's works produces a revisionist thesis Ibn Abd al Wahhab was not the godfather of contemporary terrorist movements Rather he was a voice of reform reflecting mainstream 18th century Islamic thought His vision of Islamic society was based upon a monotheism in which Muslims Christians and Jews were to enjoy peaceful co-existence and cooperative commercial and treaty relations Eschewing medieval interpretations of the Quran and hadith sayings and deeds of the prophet Muhammad Ibn Abd al Wahhab called for direct historically contextualized interpretation of scripture by both women and men His understanding of theology and Islamic law was rooted in Quranic values rather than literal interpretations A strong proponent of women's rights he called for a balance of rights between women and men both within marriage and in access to education and public space In the most comprehensive study of Ibn Abd al Wahhab's interpretation of jihad ever written DeLong-Bas details a vision in which jihad is strictly limited to the self-defense of the Muslim community against military aggression Contemporary extremists like Osama bin Laden do not have their origins in Wahhabism she shows The hallmark jihadi focus on a cult of martyrdom the strict division of the world into two necessarily opposing spheres the wholesale destruction of both civilian life and property and the call for global jihad are entirely absent from Ibn Abd al Wahhab's writings Instead the militant stance of contemporary jihadism lies in adherence to the writings of the medieval scholar Ibn Taymiyya and the 20th century Egyptian radical Sayyid Qutb This pathbreaking book fills an enormous gap in the literature about Wahhabism by returning to the original writings of its founder Bound to be controversial it will be impossible to ignore

Hispanic Muslims in the United States Victor Hugo Cuartas,2020-03-31 The empirical case in this study is that of the Hispanic Catholic converts to Islam in the Washington DC Metropolitan and New Jersey areas of the United States The central research question is To what extent do Hispanic Muslim converts play a role in making different choices regarding religious commitment and practice The argument is that not only do both the more and less active converts play a central role in making choices during the pre affiliation and post affiliation stages but that these choices can often be strategic in nature as they practice the new religion in the United States These choices are shaped by multiple factors This contributes to a new understanding of the prevailing debates among Muslims in Europe and the United States on the nature of Muslim minorities in the West that Muslims here are not merely transplanted but are active participants of diverse expressions of local Islam The evidence in my research shows that being less active does not mean converts do not play a role or make choices Both more active and less active converts make choices based on multiple factors This is especially significant as the main aim of this thesis is to show that the converts make choices and play a role in the post affiliation stage and that these often have strategic elements

The Woman Question in Islamic Studies Kecia Ali,2024-09-17 The interconnected ways that sexism functions in academic Islamic studies and how to shift professional norms toward parity Despite remarkable shifts in the demographics of Islamic studies in recent decades the field continues to be dominated by men who often relegate other scholars and their work particularly research on gender to its periphery while treating subfields in which men predominate as more rigorous and central In The Woman Question in Islamic Studies Kecia Ali explores the interconnected ways that sexism functions in academic Islamic studies Examining publications citations curricula and media representations Ali finds that despite the growth and depth of scholarship on Islam and gender men continue to overlook women's scholarship even in work that purports to discuss gender issues. Moreover, media and social media dynamics make talking about Islam and Muslims for broader audiences especially fraught for scholars who are not men, particularly when the topic is gender or sexuality. Combining broad surveys with more focused analyses of a smaller set of texts, Ali shows that textbooks and syllabi continue to exclude women as historical actors and scholars and to marginalize gender and sexuality as subject matter. Finally, she provides a Beginner's Guide to Eradicating Sexism in Islamic Studies, offering practical strategies to help scholars avoid common pitfalls in their own work and contribute to broader professional transformations.

The Middle East and North Africa Alasdair Drysdale, 2024-10-15 This contemporary text, the first in over a decade on the region, presents the geography of the Middle East and North Africa defined as the Arab World, Israel, Turkey, Iran, and Afghanistan. Thematically organized, the book's eleven chapters focus on the region's physical and climatic setting, demographic characteristics, migration patterns, religious and linguistic diversity, political map, offshore claims, oil and gas resources, and subregions and states. Within this framework, Drysdale emphasizes pressing current problems: the impact of climate change in a region where some areas already suffer from extreme summer heat and aridity; the challenge of providing additional water in a region where per capita availability of freshwater is already the lowest in the world; the impact of high fertility and rapid population growth in a fragile environment where economies are often unable to absorb young workers entering the labor force; the looming prospect of an aging population; the effects of out and in migration; the diverse impact and role of Islam in daily and public life; the integrative consequences of linguistic and ethnic diversity; the evolution and imperfections of the political map; ongoing territorial and boundary disputes that often have global repercussions; external dependence on the region's prolific oil and gas resources; and the extreme regional inequalities associated with their presence or absence. This timely and insightful analysis is essential reading for students of the region who need a better understanding of key regional characteristics, challenges, and issues.

Between Islamic and Secular Law Arezoo Sang Bastian, 2024-01-31 When describing the legal systems and laws of today s Muslim majority states in the Middle Eastern and

North African region two categories of laws are identified one derived from Islamic and one from non Islamic law Following this notion the literature finds that novel legal areas do not have any connection to Islamic law since they were not regulated by classical Islamic law In contrast the topic of organ transplantation is inherently connected to Islamic law because Islam considers itself to encompass all aspects of life This research based on the analysis of organ transplantation laws of the MENA states encourages to rethink that a strict dichotomy between Islamic and non Islamic laws does not exist Organ transplantation laws in MENA states generally follow an international legal standard while also complying with the sharia

Overcoming Orientalism Tamara Sonn,2021-05-28 Orientalism is the term applied to scholarship that reduces Islam and Muslims to stereotypes of ignorance and violence in need of foreign control It has been used to rationalize Europe s colonial domination of most of the Muslim world and continued American led interventions in the post colonial period In the past 30 years it has been represented by claims that a monolithic Islam and equally monolithic West are distinct civilizations sharing nothing in common and indeed involved in an inevitable clash from which only one can emerge the winner Most recently it has appeared in Alt Right rhetoric Anti Muslim sentiment measured in public opinion polls hate crime statistics and legislation is reaching record levels Since John Esposito published his first book nearly 40 years ago he has been guiding readers beyond such politically charged stereotypes The essays in this volume highlight the contributions of scholars from a variety of disciplines who like and often inspired by John Esposito recognize the misleading and politically dangerous nature of Orientalist polarizations They present Islam as a multi faceted and dynamic tradition embraced by communities in globally interconnected but substantially diverse contexts over the centuries The contributors follow Esposito s lead stressing the profound commonalities among religions and replacing Orientalist discourse with holistic analyses of the complex historical phenomena that affect developments in all societies In addition to chapters focusing on diversity among Muslims and interfaith relations this collection includes chapters assessing the secular bias at the root of Orientalist scholarship and contemporary iterations of Orientalism in the form of Islamophobia

Historical Dictionary of the Crusades Corliss K. Slack,2013-05-09 The crusades were among the longest and most bitter wars in human history and consisted of no less than seven major expeditions from Western Europe from the late 11th to the early 14th centuries for the purpose of wresting Jerusalem and the Holy Land from the control of the Muslims In the end it was the Muslims who won and the Christians who suffered a major setback and the Middle East remained firmly in Muslim hands This was one of the worst clashes between different religions and civilizations and for long it was largely forgotten or brushed over That is no longer the case with many Muslims regarding Western interference in the region as a
