A History of European Folk Music Jan Ling,1997 The aim of this study is to increase understanding of folk music within an historical European framework and to show the genre as a dynamic and changing art form The book addresses a plethora of questions through its detailed examination of a wide range of music from vastly different national and cultural identities It attempts to elucidate the connections between and the varying development of the music of peoples throughout Europe firstly by examining the ways in which scholars of different ideological and artistic ambitions have collected studied and performed folk music then by investigating the relationship between folk and popular music Jan Ling is Professor of Musicology at Göteborg University Sweden Epic Grief Christos Tsagalis, 2012-08-06 This study of the gooi or personal laments in Homer's Iliad once and for all articulates the poetic techniques regulating this type of speech Going beyond the tendency to view lament as a repetitive and group based activity this work shows instead the primacy of the goos a sub genre which the Iliad has produced by absorbing the funerary genre of lament Oral theory narratology semiotics rhetorical analysis are deftly applied to explore the ways personal laments develop principal epic themes and unravel narrative threads weaving the thematical texture of the entire Iliad and beyond the wrath of Achilles the deaths of Patroclus and Hector the grief of Achilles and his future death the foreshadowing of Troy's destruction Winner of the Annual Award in Classics 2007 of the Academy of Athens The Long Shadow of Antiquity Gregory S.
