Joy Cumming, 2012-01-05 In this book the author Joy Cumming draws on knowledge of law assessment and measurement to provide an original analysis of the inclusion of students with impairment in educational accountability assessments in the U S England and Australia Equitable education of students with impairment is worldwide policy Educational accountability for improvement of educational outcomes is also a worldwide phenomenon The U S England and Australia are well placed economically and politically to pursue best educational practice for students with impairment and well advanced in both provision and educational accountability systems Examining these three systems enables an analysis of possible optimal practices to guide other countries The book identifies three models of impairment in place in legislation policy and enacted practice for educational accountability with students with impairment Intentions of legislation and policy reflect a social model of impairment while an individual has an impairment social practice creates the barrier that leads to a disability In implementation legislation and policy rely on a medical model of disability categorizing disability in medical or specialist terms In educational accountability practices it is argued in this book a third model of disability is created a psychometric model with impairment constructed through overemphasis on standardization of assessment processes Eight explicit and implicit assumptions that underpin the ways students with impairment are valued in educational accountability are identified and discussed Three recommendations are made to promote equitable inclusive educational accountability practices for students with impairment to inform future policy and practice in all countries

National Testing in Schools Bob Lingard,Greg Thompson,Sam Sellar,2015-11-06 Over the last two decades large scale national or provincial standardised testing has become prominent in the schools of many countries around the globe National Testing in Schools An Australian Assessment draws on research to consider the nature of national testing and its multiple effects including media responses and constructions such as league tables of performance pressures within school systems and on schools effects on the work and identities of principals and teachers and impacts on the experience of schooling for many young people including those least advantaged Using Australia as the case site for global concerns regarding national testing this book will be an invaluable companion for education researchers teacher educators teacher education students and teachers globally Data Culture and the Organisation of Teachers' Work Nerida Spina,2020-05-31 Data Culture and the Organisation of Teachers Work provides an in depth look at how the political and media scrutiny of teachers pupils and schools now organises teaching and learning Spina also examines how educational data is used in schools and where it fails to take account of the everyday experiences of school leaders teachers and students Drawing on primary research and discussing practice in relation to the National Assessment Programme Literacy and Numeracy NAPLAN this book discusses the strengths and weaknesses of a data driven approach the restrictions this can impose and how to navigate them as a teacher Ideal for scholars and postgraduate students of education this book provides a comprehensive institutional ethnographic look into the daily lived experiences of teachers and the effects of standardised testing The Education Assemblage Greg Thompson,2020-04-28 This collection works with the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze and his collaborator Felix Guattari in the context of education Deleuze once remarked that we get the philosophy we deserve because of the questions that we ask Deleuze saw that the work of philosophy was the creation of concepts those working with his theory are admonished not to follow but to think For Deleuze education remained a philosophical problem because it is connected to problems of language authority meaning and what it means to learn and think With that in mind these contributions were chosen because they apply this ethic to education to think again about what constitutes a problem In this book Deleuze s conceptual contributions such as affect assemblage the logic of sense and control society and modulation are put to work to consider various educational problems in educational settings What brings these contributions together apart from working with Deleuze is that they present education as a problem requiring new concepts Readers are invited into an encounter with Deleuze s thought because of the situations in which we find ourselves The chapters in this book were originally published as journal articles by Taylor and Francis journals The Art and Heart of Good Teaching Terence Lovat,2019-07-22 This book summarizes and updates findings from the Australian Values Education Program with a focus on the latest international research in the field both theoretical and practice based Further it provides a theoretical and practical basis for understanding the disenchantment with low level accountability approaches to learning e g NAPLAN in Australia In turn the book demonstrates the effectiveness of Values Education as a holistic pedagogy with the potential to enhance students learning effects in terms of their personal social emotional and academic development It offers well tested alternative pedagogical approaches based on research insights largely originating from actual classroom based practice The Principal and School Improvement Amanda Heffernan,2018-07-30 This book investigates the localised effects of reform by exploring the impact of a school improvement policy agenda on the work of three experienced principals It presents three longitudinal case studies within a shared specific leadership context in Queensland Australia The case studies enable an exploration of the way the principalship in this context has evolved over time providing deep insights into the practices and beliefs of three experienced school leaders working in a period of rapid and urgent systemic reform The nature of global reform policy borrowing means that the research and the findings within this monograph are relevant for international audiences The book describes a new way to understand and theorise the effects of reform policies and associated pressures on school leaders Using post structural theory it provides a better understanding of the specific effects of reform policy ensembles particularly when combined with an analysis of the ways policy and discourse work together at a wider level to create an environment that disciplines the principalship Further it sheds lights on the means of complying with or contesting policy influences and how the work of leaders has changed over time
