Auler, Philippe Audra, 2017-08-17 This book illustrates the diversity of hypogene speleogenetic processes and void conduit patterns depending on variations of the geological environments by presenting regional and cave specific case studies The cases include both well known and newly recognized hypogene karst regions and caves of the world They all focus on geological hydrogeological geodynamical and evolutionary contexts of hypogene speleogenesis The last decade has witnessed the boost in recognition of the possibility global occurrence and practical importance of hypogene karstification speleogenesis i.e. the development of solutional porosity and permeability by upwelling flow independent of recharge from the overlying or immediately adjacent surface Hypogene karst has been identified and documented in many regions where it was previously overlooked or misinterpreted The book enriches the basis for generalization and categorization of hypogene karst and thus improves our ability to adequately model hypogene karstification and predict related porosity and permeability It is a book which benefits every researcher student and practitioner dealing with karst

Psychiatry of Intellectual Disability Across Cultures, 2023-10-18 Intellectual disability is a lifelong condition involving deficits in both intellectual and adaptive functioning. Individuals with intellectual disability experience a greater burden of co-occurring physical and mental illness compared to the general population and often need a significant degree of support from healthcare professionals and carers as well as family and friends. Additionally, their lives can be greatly influenced both positively and negatively by the cultures in which they exist, including societal attitudes, belief systems, and norms. An insightful addition to the Oxford Cultural Psychiatry series, Psychiatry of Intellectual Disability across Cultures explores the health support structures and societal attitudes towards people with intellectual disabilities throughout the world. Written by international experts of intellectual disability and mental health, this comprehensive textbook covers broad topics such as anthropology, mental health, physical health, research, and sexuality. It also comprises chapters dedicated to specific geographic regions such as Africa, America, Australasia, Europe, India, the Middle East, and the United Kingdom and Ireland.

African Paleoecology and Human Evolution Sally C. Reynolds, René Boë, 2022-06-09. Humans evolved in the dynamic landscapes of Africa under conditions of pronounced climatic, geological, and environmental change during the past 7 million years. This book brings together detailed records of the paleontological and archaeological sites in Africa that provide the basic evidence for understanding the environments in which we evolved. Chapters cover specific sites with comprehensive accounts of their geology, paleontology, paleobotany, and their ecological significance for our evolution. Other chapters provide important regional syntheses of past ecological conditions. This book is unique in merging a broad geographic scope of all of Africa and deep time framework of the past 7 million years in discussing the geological context and paleontological records of our evolution and that of organisms that evolved alongside our ancestors. It will offer important insights to anyone interested in human evolution, including researchers and graduate students in paleontology, archaeology, anthropology, and geology.
