Half-Past Winter Nancy Hopkins Reily, 2017-11-15 Nancy Hopkins Reily thought she knew everything she needed to know when she published I Am At An Age in 1990 at age fifty She says I had compiled my life's experiences with metaphors using the mountains as background I approached my experiences as universal experiences that everyone recognized as their life Six months after the book was published I realized I had more to learn in laws sandwich generation writing over thirty four years of journaling with selective excerpts sixty four lines of genealogy laurels my aging and grandchildren I knew I would have to write a sequel And here it is twenty two years later She has eliminated most of the metaphors Some themes continue although homes clothes and make up have changed But her persona has remained the same Nancy says My ancestors gave me gifts I read that my great great grandmother born 1812 in South Carolina rode to Texas in a carriage with silver trimmings after her husband had died on their Jackson Mississippi plantation And I also found out after reading my mother's journals that she was voted unanimously the Queen of the May Pageant at Texas Christian University in 1928 Her journals of her European trip also provided insight into her relationship with my father These readings took on a life of their own as I used my years of notes teenage diaries and journals to form this gift to my descendants in this book I hope you enjoy it

Drama of the Southwest available to readers for the first time Red Meat Republic Joshua Specht, 2019-05-07 How beef conquered America and gave rise to the modern industrial food complex By the late nineteenth century Americans rich and poor had come to expect high quality fresh beef with almost every meal Beef production in the United States had gone from small scale localized operations to a highly centralized industry spanning the country with cattle bred on ranches in the rural West slaughtered in Chicago and consumed in the nation's rapidly growing cities Red Meat Republic tells the remarkable story of the violent conflict over who would reap the benefits of this new industry and who would bear its heavy costs Joshua Specht puts people at the heart of his story the big cattle ranchers who helped to drive the nation's westward expansion the meatpackers who created a radically new kind of industrialized slaughterhouse and the stockyard workers who were subjected to the shocking and unsanitary conditions described by Upton Sinclair in his novel The Jungle Specht brings to life a turbulent era marked by Indian wars Chicago labor unrest and food riots in the streets of New York He shows how the enduring success of the cattle beef complex centralized low cost and meatpacker dominated was a consequence of the meatpackers ability to make their interests overlap with those of a hungry public while the interests of struggling ranchers desperate workers and bankrupt butchers took a backseat America and the American table would never be the same again A compelling and unfailingly enjoyable read Red Meat Republic reveals the complex history of exploitation and innovation behind the food we consume today Library Journal Melvil Dewey, Richard Rogers Bowker, L. Reames, 2022-11-10 This volume presents a collection of critical essays that center women's friendship in women's literary and artistic production Analyzing cultural portrayals of women's friendships in fiction, letters, and film, these essays collectively suggest new models of literary interpretation that do not prioritize heterosexual romance. Instead, this book represents friendships as mature and meaningful relationships that contribute to identity formation and political coalition. Both the supportive and competitive aspects of friendships are shown to be crucial to women's identities as individuals, political citizens, and artists. Addressing the complexities of how 20th and 21st century cultural texts construe women's friendships as they navigate patriarchal institutions, this collection advances scholarship on friendship beyond men and masculine models.
