Resources in Education ,2001 Critical CALL - Proceedings of the 2015 EUROCALL Conference, Padova, Italy Francesca Helm,Linda Bradley,Marta Guarda,Sylvie Thouësny,2015-12-02 The theme of the conference this year was Critical CALL drawing inspiration from the work carried out in the broader field of Critical Applied Linguistics The term critical has many possible interpretations and as Pennycook 2001 outlines has many concerns It was from these that we decided on the conference theme in particular the notion that we should question the assumptions that lie at the basis of our praxis ideas that have become naturalized and are not called into question Over 200 presentations were delivered in 68 different sessions both in English and Italian on topics related specifically to the theme and also more general CALL topics 94 of these were submitted as extended papers and appear in this volume of proceedings Academic Literacy and the Nature of Expertise Cheryl Geisler,2013-11-05 The first full length account integrating both the cognitive and sociological aspects of reading and writing in the academy this unique volume covers educational research on reading and writing rhetorical research on writing in the disciplines cognitive research on expertise in ill defined problems and sociological and historical research on the professions The author produced this volume as a result of a research program aimed at understanding the relationship between two concepts literacy and expertise which traditionally have been treated as quite separate phenomena A burgeoning literature on reading and writing in the academy has begun to indicate fairly consistent patterns in how students acquire literacy practices This literature shows furthermore that what students do is quite distinct from what experts do While many have used these results as a starting point for teaching students how to be expert the author has chosen instead to ask about the interrelationship between expert and novice practice seeing them both as two sides of the same project a cultural historical professionalization project aimed at establishing and preserving the professional privilege The consequences of this professionalization project are examined using the discipline of academic philosophy as the site for the author s investigations Methodologically unique these investigations combine rhetorical analysis protocol analysis and the analysis of classroom discourse The result is a complex portrait of how the participants in this humanistic discipline use their academic literacy practices to construct and reconstruct a great divide between expert and lay knowledge This monograph thus extends our current understanding of the rhetoric of the professions and examines its implications for education
