Historical Memory of Central and East European Communism Agnieszka Mroziak, Stanislav Holubec, 2018-03-19 Every political movement creates its own historical memory The communist movement though originally oriented towards the future was no exception The theory of human history constitutes a substantial part of Karl Marx's and Friedrich Engels's writings and the movement inspired by them very soon developed its own strong historical identity combining the Marxist theory of history with the movement's victorious milestones such as the October Revolution and later the Great Patriotic War which served as communist legitimization myths throughout almost the entire twentieth century During the Stalinist period however the movement's history became strongly reinterpreted to suit Joseph Stalin's political goals After 1956 this reinterpretation lost most of its legitimating power and instead began to be a burden The unwanted memory of Stalinism and subsequent examples of violence the Gulag Katy the 1956 Budapest uprising and the 1968 Prague Spring contributed to the crisis of Eastern European state socialism in the late 1980s and led to attempts at reformulating or even rejecting communist self identity This book's first section analyzes the post 1989 memory of communism and state socialism and the self identity of the Eastern and Western European left The second section examines the state socialist and post socialist memorial landscapes in the former German Democratic Republic Czechoslovakia Czech Republic Poland Lithuania Ukraine and Russia The final section concentrates on the narratives the movement established when in power about its own past with the examples of the Soviet Union Poland Romania and Czechoslovakia

Flight Risk Forrest L. Marion, 2018-10-15 From the 1920s Afghanistan maintained a small air arm that depended heavily upon outside assistance Starting in 2005 the United States led an air advisory campaign to rebuild the Afghan Air Force AAF In 2007 a formal joint combined entity led by a U S Air Force brigadier general began air advisor work with Afghan airmen Between 2007 and 2011 these efforts made modest progress in terms of infrastructures personnel and aircraft accessions and various training courses But by 2010 advisors increasingly viewed AAF command and control C2 as a problem area that required significant improvement if a professional air force was to be built In the spring of 2011 major institutional changes to AAF C2 procedures were being introduced when nine U S air advisors were killed The attack was the worst single incident loss of U S Air Force personnel in a deployed location since 1996 and the worst insider attack since 2001 From the day of that tragic event the cultural chasm between Afghanistan and the West became more apparent This dilemma continues with no end in sight to an air advisory mission of uncertain long

Trailblazing Women of Australian Public Broadcasting 1945 1975 offers a compelling new perspective of Australian radio and television history It chronicles how a group of female producers defied the odds and forged remarkable careers in the traditionally male domain of public affairs production at the ABC in the post war decades Kay Kinane Catherine King Ther se Denny and Joyce Belfrage were ambitious and resourceful producers part of the vanguard of Australian broadcasters who used mass media as a vehicle for their social and political activism Fiercely dedicated to their audiences they wrote directed and produced ground breaking documentaries and current affairs programs that celebrated Australian life while also challenging its cultural complacency its racism and sexism They immersed themselves in the ABC s many networks of collaboration and initiated a range of strategies to expand their agency and authority With vivid descriptions of life at the ABC it traces their careers as they crossed borders and crossed mediums following them as they worked on location shoots and in production offices in television studios control rooms and radio booths In doing so it highlights the barriers both official and unofficial that confronted so many women working in broadcasting after World War II

Cultural Studies 50 Years On Kieran Connell, Matthew Hilton, 2016-09-30 Stuart Hall conceptualized his time at the Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies as a series of interruptions It was this fluidity that gave rise to Hall s conception of cultural studies as a moving target a fusion of a range of disciplinary approaches that was uniquely influenced by politics in the world beyond the academy The political commitments of those at the Centre were wide ranging and from its embrace of collective ways of research and decision making to its deployment of various strands of European Marxist theory had a critical impact on the Centre s working practices Yet as the diverse work of many of these same scholars has shown the political climate of the present day is almost unrecognizable from that of the mid 1960s to the mid 1980s arguably the most productive period in the Centre s history Cultural Studies 50 Years On explores how the political social and cultural contexts of the early 21st century influenced the object and method of doing cultural studies In bringing together a historical reassessment of the Centre with present day questions regarding the future of the field the aim is not to reduce cultural studies to the work of a single now defunct institution Instead it aims to utilize what is a critical moment in the trajectory of the field in order to take stock of where it has come from and to explore where it might be going Rewrite Man Alison Macor,2017-05-30 From Hallingdal to Houston Hollywood on the Colorado Breaking away Highway to the danger zone Hollywood gothic One hit after another Batmania The man Hollywood trusts Conclusion Bringing the Future Within Reach Robert S. geography sociology anthropology and development studies Dynamics of Religion Christoph Bochinger, Jörg Rüpke, 2016-11-21 Religious ideas practices discourses institutions and social expressions are in constant flux This volume addresses the internal and external dynamics interactions between individuals religious communities and local as well as global society The contributions concentrate on four areas 1 Contemporary religion in the public sphere The Tactics of Invisibility among Religious Communities in Europe Religion Intersecting De nationalization and Re nationalization in Post Apartheid South Africa 2 Religious transformations Forms of Religious Communities in Global Society Political Contributions of Ancestral Cosmologies and the Decolonization of Religious Beliefs Esoteric Tradition as Poetic Invention 3 Focus on the individual Religion and Life Trajectories of Islamists Angels Animals and Religious Change in Antiquity and Today Gaining Access to the Radically Unfamiliar in Today s Religion Religion between Individuals and Collectives 4 Narrating religion Entangled Knowledge Cultures and the Creation of Religions in Mongolia and Europe Global Intellectual History and the Dynamics of Religion On Representing Judaism Early Ecotheology and Joseph Sittler Panu Pihkala, 2017 When did Christians begin to address environmental questions What can be learned from these pioneering thinkers This study reveals that between 1910 and 1954 many theologians called for responsibility towards nature The focal point is the work of Joseph Sittler 1904 1987 an American Lutheran and ecumenical theologian The role of these early ecotheologians is discussed in relation to environmental history and education The findings show that ecotheology was not as strongly separated from other environmentalism as it was after the 1960s Series Studies in Religion and the Environment Studien zur Religion und Umwelt Vol 12 Subject Religious Studies Environmental Studies Ecotheology Joseph Sittler Democracy Promotion, National Security and Strategy Robert Pee, 2015-07-24 This book investigates the relationship between democracy promotion and US national security strategy through an examination of the Reagan administration s attempt to launch a global campaign for democracy in the early 1980s which culminated in the foundation of the National Endowment for Democracy in 1983 and through an analysis of the early political interventions of the Endowment until 1986 A case study of the formation and early operations of the National Endowment for Democracy under the Reagan administration based on primary documents from both the national security bureaucracy and the private sector shows that while democracy promotion provided a new tactical approach to the conduct of US political warfare operations these operations remained tied to the achievement of traditional national security goals such as destabilising enemy regimes and building stable and legitimate friendly governments rather than being guided by a strategy based on the universal promotion of democracy This book will be of interest to students and scholars of US Foreign Policy Democracy Promotion and for those seeking to gain a better understanding of the Reagan Administration Ambition, Pragmatism, and Party Scott Kaufman, 2017-12-04 Within eight turbulent months in 1974 Gerald Ford went from the United States House of Representatives where he was the minority leader to the White House as the country s first and only unelected president His unprecedented rise to power after Richard Nixon s equally unprecedented fall has garnered the lion's share of scholarly attention devoted to America's thirty eighth president But Gerald Ford's 1913-2006 life and career in and out of Washington spanned nearly the entire twentieth century Ambition Pragmatism and Party captures for the first time the full scope of Ford's long and remarkable political life The man who emerges from these pages is keenly ambitious determined to climb the political ladder in Washington and loyal to his party but not a political ideologue Drawing on interviews with family and congressional and administrative officials presidential historian Scott Kaufman traces Ford's path from a Depression era childhood through service in World War II to entry into Congress shortly after the Cold War began He delves deeply into the workings of Congress and legislative executive relations offering insight into Ford's role as the House minority leader in a time of conservative insurgency in the Republican Party Kaufman's account of the Ford presidency provides a new perspective on how human rights figured in the making of U S foreign policy in the Cold War era and how environmental issues figured in the making of domestic policy It also presents a close look at the 1976 presidential election emphasizing the significance of image in that contest and extensive coverage of Ford's post presidency In sum Ambition Pragmatism and Party is the most comprehensive political biography of Gerald Ford and will become the definitive resource on the thirty eighth president of the United States
