The Lowdown on China's Higher Education Martin Wolff, 2011-07-12 Obviously you are not chanting the exultations of China which many of my country people are used to listening to A Chinese scholar recognizes that this book is not a further attempt to curry favor with China by tickling its leaders ears This book examines what is right and the truth about what is wrong with English language education in Chinese colleges and universities As our Chinese colleague further states Most Chinese are learning English like one learning swimming ashore We have been writing about these shortcomings for ten years It arises because administrators posted to their positions due to party affiliation and good standing are basically ignorant of administration and educational matters The VIPs of EEC believe that they know while they don't what are under their supervision the professionals of EEC believe that what they are doing academically is helpful while it s not The two types are making the common non professional people believe that they are knowingly reliable while they are not The educated as well as the illiterate do not know what to do and what not to do what is correct and what is wrong what is worthy and what is not etc The weakness from the historical perspective is also a consequence of modern Chinese history whose knowledge most Chinese people are poor at but reluctant to admit This book could not be published within China due to its truthfulness

Writing in Film Studies, from Professional Practice to Practical Pedagogy Bryan Mead,2024-01-09 A common refrain heard from instructors in offices across the world is that students have a hard time producing quality written discourse This is no different in the world of film studies where many undergraduate students struggle to cogently discuss the films they watch in class How can film instructors help students become better writers This book answers this question by first uncovering the disciplinary expectations we have for students and then offering strategies to explicitly teach those expectations in the classroom This book examines and identifies the disciplinary conventions of professional film studies discourse along with the expectations we have for student writing in undergraduate film courses What becomes clear from this analysis is that the pedagogical expectations we have for students are aligned with and shaped by professional writing in the discipline It helps to uncover the argument types instructors take for granted and helps those teaching undergraduate students not only to know what those expectations are but also how to use that knowledge to foster better student writing
