2024-25 TGT/PGT Economics Solved Papers YCT Expert Team , 2024 25 TGT PGT Economics Solved Papers The Flight of Icarus Yiannis Drossos, 2020-12-10 This book provides a detailed analysis of the institutional transformations brought about by the financial crisis focusing on the institution building course of Europe and the Constitution bending course in several Member States It discusses the seemingly contradictory interplay between national and European institutions and the law resulting from the crisis arguing that the anti crisis exceptionality constitutes the matrix of the new normality of the reformed European economic governance The author carries out a critical analysis of the new economic governance and its case law with regular reference to relevant political episodes key economic figures and to the hitherto lax modes and rules The author also offers deep insights into the Greek adjustment programme and the crisis related Greek and Portuguese constitutional case law presented in comparison with the German and French case law The book concludes with a critical overview of the profound mutations in the role of national Constitutions instigated by the new European economic governance and the emergence of a democratically deficient meta constitutional mode of functioning of both the European institutions and national Constitutions Somali Piracy Jade Lindley, 2016-06-23 Maritime piracy off the coast of Somalia was first recognised as a global concern in 2008 after the hijackings of World Food Programme vessels It remains a serious impediment to international maritime trade and a significant risk to seafarers Bringing a criminological perspective to the subject this book presents an analysis of Somali piracy by means of Routine Activity Theory and regulatory pluralism Based on data from a range of sources including published documents and in depth interviews with representatives of industry government and international organisations the study concludes that no one institution or policy will suffice to control Somali piracy Accordingly a number of different actors and institutions have a role to play in reducing the supply of motivated offenders the vulnerability of prospective victims and in enhancing guardianship The book envisages a holistic counter piracy program based on a pluralistic regulatory model that is sustainable within the region and managed by the region providing the best opportunity for both the immediate future and for long term success This study will be essential reading for criminologists public policy and legal scholars as well as policy makers and regulators in countries affected by and dealing with piracy and international professional advocacy groups operating in the maritime space The Economics of Climate Change and the Change of Climate in Economics Kevin Maréchal, 2013-05-02 Climate change is without question the single most important issue the world faces over the next hundred years The most recent scientific data have led to the conclusion that the globally averaged net effect of human activities since 1750 has been one of warming and that continued greenhouse gas emissions at or above current rates would cause this process to continue to the severe detriment of our environment This unequivocal link between climate change and human activity requires an urgent world wide shift towards a low carbon economy and coordinated policies and measures to manage this transition The starting point and core idea of this book is the long held observation that the threat of climate change calls for a change of climate in economics. Inherent characteristics of the climate problem including complexity, irreversibility and deep uncertainty challenge core economic assumptions and mainstream economic theory appears inappropriately equipped to deal with this crucial issue. Kevin Mar chal shows how themes and approaches from evolutionary and ecological economics can be united to provide a theoretical framework that is better suited to tackle the problem. Routledge Handbook of the Economics of Climate Change

Adaptation Anil Markandya, Ibon Galarraga, Elisa Sainz de Murieta, 2014-01-03 Climate change is one of the greatest challenges facing human kind owing to the great uncertainty regarding future impacts which affect all regions and many ecosystems. Many publications deal with economic issues relating to mitigation policies but the economics of adaptation to climate change has received comparatively little attention. However this area is critical and a central pillar of any adaptation strategy or plan and is the economic dimension which therefore merits the increase in attention it is receiving. This book deals with the difficulties that face the economics of adaptation. Critical issues include uncertainty, baselines, reversibility, flexibility and adaptive management, distributional impacts, discount rates and time horizons, mixing monetary and non monetary evaluations and limits to the use of cost benefit analysis, economy wide impacts and cross sectoral linkages. All of these are addressed in the book from the perspective of economics of adaptation. Other dimensions of adaptation are also included such as the role of low and middle income countries, technology and the impacts of extreme events. This timely book will prove essential reading for international researchers and policy makers in the fields of natural resources, environmental economics and climate change. The Sustainable Economics of Elinor Ostrom Derek Wall, 2014-02-24 Elinor Ostrom's Nobel Prize winning work on common pool property rights has implications for some of the most pressing sustainability issues of the twenty first century from tackling climate change to maintaining cyberspace. In this book Derek Wall critically examines Ostrom's work while also exploring the following questions: is it possible to combine insights rooted in methodological individualism with a theory that stresses collectivist solutions? Is Ostrom's emphasis on largely local solutions to climate change relevant to a crisis propelled by global factors? This volume situates her ideas in terms of the constitutional analysis of her partner Vincent Ostrom and wider institutional economics. It outlines her key concerns including a radical research methodology, commitment to indigenous people and the concept of social ecological systems. Ostrom is recognised for producing a body of work which demonstrates how people can construct rules that allow them to exploit the environment in an ecologically sustainable way without the need for governmental regulation and this book argues that in a world where ecological realities increasingly threaten material prosperity such scholarship provides a way of thinking about how humanity can create truly sustainable development. Given the inter disciplinary nature of Ostrom's work this book will be relevant to those working in the areas of environmental economics, political economy, political science and ecology. Competition Policy for the New Era Tembinkosi Bonakele, Eleanor Fox, Liberty Mncube, 2017-12-01

The Arms Race in Asia Andrew T.H. Tan,2013-12-13 This book is the first systematic examination of the emerging arms race in Asia The global trade in arms is to a large degree underpinned by the strong demand for arms in Asia and the Middle East the two largest arms export markets in the world Of these two regions Asia has become particularly significant led by the emergence of China and India as major powers It is therefore not surprising that the rapid military modernisation in Asia accompanied by significant increases in the size and sophistication of armed forces has generated attention as to its trends key characteristics causes and implications This phenomenon which has become evident since the end of the Cold War has also been widely described as an Asian arms race This book evaluates the key conceptual ideas which can shed light on this phenomenon as well as examining the complex mix of internal external and technological factors that have led to its emergence The volume explores the way in which the arms race is leading ultimately to three distinctive blocs in the emerging geostrategic landscape a loose bloc of US allies in the region a counter bloc of potential US adversaries and a neutral bloc of states with industrial age armed forces whose allegiances will vary according to circumstances and geostrategic developments The Arms Race in Asia concludes that if the emerging arms race is left unchecked it is likely that Asia will increasingly become a region of instability marked by conflicts and interstate wars The book will be of great interest to students of Asian politics strategic studies defence studies security studies and IR in general

Tarp,2018-10-25 By 2030 more than three quarters of the world s absolute poor are projected to live in Africa Accelerating economic growth is key to rising incomes on the continent and central to this challenge is establishing activities that are capable of employing large numbers of unskilled workers that can raise productivity through innovation and that can power growth through exports Such structural transformation is a key driver of growth and between 1950 1996 about half of the economic catch up by developing countries led by East Asia was due to rising productivity in manufacturing combined with growing agricultural output Africa however has lagged behind In 2014 the average share of manufacturing in GDP in sub Saharan Africa hovered around 10 per cent unchanged from the 1970s leading some observers to be pessimistic about Africa s potential to catch the wave of sustained rapid growth and rising incomes Industries Without Smokestacks Industrialization in Africa Reconsidered challenges this view It argues that other activities sharing the characteristics of manufacturing including tourism ICT and other services as well as food processing and horticulture are beginning to play a role analogous to that played by manufacturing in East Asia This reflects not only changes in the global organization of industries since the early era of rapid East Asian growth but also advantages unique to Africa These industries without smokestacks offer new opportunities for Africa to grow in coming decades Routledge Handbook of Sport and Legacy Richard Holt,Dino preservation of colonial borders that had been enshrined in the Charter of the Organisation of African Unity The precedent set by the independence of Eritrea seemed to encourage southern Sudan to press forward for independence through a two pronged approach of armed struggle and diplomacy led by the Sudan People's Liberation Army Movement This book attempts to understand national regional and continental dimensions of the unresolved issues that could result in the escalation of conflict in the Sudan It examines internal dynamics of the Sudan after secession of the south and how these dynamics might affect neighbouring countries in the geopolitical regions the Horn of Africa the Great Lakes Region and Central Africa A section of the book is dedicated to dynamics within South Sudan as a new state Post conflict South Sudan as country was marked by extreme poverty lack of infrastructure and prevalence of inter communal armed violence This book proposes possible policies to prevent the country from descending into a state of economic and social chaos The book provides the argument that equitable and rational transformative socio economic programmes and policies could greatly reduce potentials for conflict This book calls on policy makers to pursue policies that could lead to concrete projects planned to alleviate poverty and provision of basic social services such as education health and safe water The book comes to the conclusion that political stability will depend on collective actions of stakeholders to ensure that peace prevails both in the north and the south to guarantee human security in the region
