range of informal and distance forms It includes chapters on human capital human rights and human development and on education gender and development and draws on examples from a wide range of countries and regions such as India Hong Kong Kenya and South Africa The book has a well developed pedagogy including text boxes chapter summaries key questions links to websites and videos and annotated further reading sections Particular attention is paid to ensuring that a plurality of voices contexts and educational sub sectors are represented in the boxes weblinks and references Education and Development provides an introductory overview to the field aimed at the undergraduate level while critically engaging with key themes and questions The book will also be of interest to development practitioners policymakers entrepreneurs and corporate employees engaged in aspects of education and development work Constitutional Democracy in Crisis? Mark A. Graber,Sanford Levinson,Mark Tushnet,2018-08-23 To what extent is the world including the United States facing a serious threat to the protection of constitutional democracies This collection brings together leading scholars to engage critically with the crises facing constitutional democracies today The book is organized in four parts background and how the present situation arose a selection of specific country studies global themes and worldwide forces and conclusions from the above and hypotheses about the future The Moral Economy of Elections in Africa Nic Cheeseman,Gabrielle Lynch,Justin Willis,2021-02-18 Do elections turn people into democratic citizens Elections have long been seen as a way to foster democracy development and security in Africa with many hoping that the secret ballot would transform states Adopting a new approach that focusses on the moral economy of elections Nic Cheeseman Gabrielle Lynch and Justin Willis show how elections are shaped by competing visions of what it means to be a good leader bureaucrat or citizen Using a mixed methods study of elections in Ghana Kenya and Uganda they explore moral claims made by officials politicians civil society international observers and voters themselves This radical new lens reveals that elections are the site of intense moral contestation which helps to explain why there is such vigourous participation in processes that often seem flawed Demonstrating the impact of these debates on six decades of electoral practice they explain why the behaviour of those involved so frequently transgresses national law and international norms as well as the ways in which such transgressions are evaluated and critiqued so that despite the purported significance of vote buying the candidates that spend the most do not always win Intimate afterlives of empire Astrid Rasch,2025-09-02 Through close readings of almost twenty autobiographies written after the break up of the British Empire the book examines how individuals engage with the changing narrative landscape brought about by decolonisation It considers the autobiographies less for what they may teach us about the moment remembered and more as windows on the act of remembering This adds a crucial dimension to our understanding of the legacies of colonialism and how the ongoing process of decolonisation is reflected on the level of the individual It argues that autobiographers are at once influenced by and seek to influence the cultural memory of empire and its legacies and the authors own position in both Situated at the intersection of imperial decolonisation history memory

studies and life writing studies the book uncovers this intimate afterlife of empire

Embracing the Song of Appearance: An Psychological Symphony within Kenya Univercities Placement Points 2015 2016

In some sort of eaten by displays and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous transmission, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony produced by the written word often fade in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless noise and distractions that permeate our lives.
