Keller, 2019-01-31 Winner 2020 Al Lowman Memorial Prize for Best Book on Texas County or Local History There is a deep and abiding connection between humans and the land in Pinto Canyon a remote and rugged place near the border with Mexico in the Texas Big Bend Here the land assumes a certain primacy defined not by the ephemera of plants and animals but by the very bedrock that rises far above the silvery flow of Pinto Creek looming masses that break the horizon into a hundred different vistas Yet over time people managed to survive and sometimes even thrive in this harsh environment In the Shadow of the Chinatis combines the rich narratives of history natural history and archeology to tell the story of the landscape as well as the people who once inhabited it Settling the land was difficult staying on it even more so but one family proved especially resilient Rising above their meager origins the Prietos eventually amassed a 12 000 acre ranch in the shadow of the Chinati Mountains to become the most successful of

Pinto Canyon's early settlers But starting with the tense years of the Great Depression the family faced a series of tragedies one son was killed by a Texas Ranger and another by the deranged son of Chico Cano the Big Bend's most notorious bandit Ultimately growing rifts in the family forced the sale of the ranch marking the end of an era Bearing the hallmarks of an epic tragedy the departure of the Prieto family signaled a transition away from ranching towards a new style of landownership based on a completely different model Today Pinto Canyon's scenic and scientific value increasingly overshadows the marginal economics of its past In the Shadow of the Chinatis reveals a rich tapestry of interaction between humans and their environment providing a unique examination of the Big Bend region and the people who call it home

Critical Animal Geographies Kathryn Gillespie, Rosemary-Claire Collard, 2015-01-30 Critical Animal Geographies provides new geographical perspectives on critical animal studies exploring the spatial political and ethical dimensions of animals lived experience and human animal encounter It works toward a more radical politics and theory directed at the shifting boundary between human and animal Chapters draw together feminist political economic post humanist anarchist post colonial and critical race literatures with original case studies in order to see how efforts by some humans to control and order life human and not violate constrain and impinge upon others Central to all chapters is a commitment to grappling with the stakes violence death life autonomy of human animal encounters Equally the work in the collection addresses head on the dominant forces shaping and dependent on these encounters capitalism racism colonialism and so on In doing so the book pushes readers to confront how human animal relations are mixed up with overlapping axes of power and exploitation including gender race class and species

Achieving sustainable production of sheep Prof. J. P. C. Greyling, 2017-09-15 Discusses research on factors affecting carcass composition and meat quality Reviews advances in breeding such as the use of molecular markers Summarises key developments in understanding and improving the health and welfare of sheep

Biosecurity in Animal Production and Veterinary Medicine Jeroen Dewulf, Filip Van Immerseel, 2019-12-01 Globally the way the animal production industry copes with infectious diseases is changing The excessive use of antimicrobials is under debate and it is becoming standard practice to implement thorough biosecurity plans on farms to prevent the entry and spread of pathogenic micro organisms Not only in farm animal production but also in facilities where companion animals are kept including in veterinary practices and clinics awareness of the beneficial implications of a good biosecurity plan has raised The book Biosecurity in Animal Production and Veterinary Medicine is the first compilation of both fundamental aspects of biosecurity practices and specific and practical information on the application of the biosecurity measures in different animal production and animal housing settings
