10. Factorial ANOVA: Factorial ANOVA is used when there are two or more independent variables (factors) and one dependent variable. It allows you to examine the main effects of each factor and the interaction between factors. For example, you might want to know if the effect of a treatment (Factor 1) on a response variable (Factor 2) depends on the level of another factor (Factor 3). Factorial ANOVA can be conducted using software like SPSS, R, or Python.
