The End of Dissatisfaction? Todd McGowan, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2004 Gary Olson Award for best book in cultural theory presented by JAC Exploring the emergence of a societal imperative to enjoy ourselves Todd McGowan builds on the work of such theorists as Jacques Lacan Slavoj Žižek Joan Copjec and Theresa Brennan to argue that we are in the midst of a large scale transformation a shift from a society oriented around prohibition i.e. the notion that one cannot just do as one pleases to one oriented around enjoyment McGowan identifies many of the social ills of American culture today as symptoms of this transformation the sense of disconnection the increase in aggression and violence widespread cynicism political apathy incivility and loss of meaning Discussing these various symptoms he examines various texts from film literature popular culture and everyday life including Toni Morrison's Paradise Tony Kushner's Angels in America and such films as Dead Poets Society and Trigger Effect Paradoxically The End of Dissatisfaction shows how the American cultural obsession with enjoying ourselves actually makes it more difficult to do so

Science and Society Catherine

Nelson-McDermott, Don LePan, Laura Buzzard, 2014-04-28 Developed for use in college and university courses Science and Society provides a broad selection of science writing intended to help students think critically about science and related ethical issues and to write effectively about science in a variety of styles The anthology combines pieces aimed at a general audience including essays by Stephen Jay Gould Elizabeth Kolbert and Malcolm Gladwell with a substantial selection of academic writing including research articles from journals such as The Lancet Science and PLOS ONE The volume is arranged thematically according to discussion topics ranging from climate change and factory farming to gender discrimination in the sciences and corporate involvement in medical research Special attention is given to controversial works including Stanley Milgram's Behavioral Study of Obedience and to examples of science gone wrong such as Andrew Wakefield's infamous paper falsely linking the MMR vaccine to autism The volume's introduction outlines major issues in contemporary science such as publication bias and the commercialization of research as well as introducing writing concepts such as objectivity of tone and active passive voice Each article is accompanied by discussion questions and by helpful explanatory footnotes for non specialist readers

Justifying Revolution Gary L. Steward, 2021 Historians have debated how the clergy's support for political resistance during the American Revolution should be understood often looking to influence outside of the clergy's tradition In Justifying Revolution The American Clergy's Argument for Political Resistance 1750-1776 Gary L. Steward explores the theological background and rich Protestant history available to the American clergy as they considered political resistance and wrestled with the best course of action for them and their congregations He argues that rather than deviating from their inherited modes of thought the clergy who supported resistance did so in ways that were consistent with their own theological tradition

The Politics Of Pain Ronald D. Crelinsten, Alex Schmid, 2019-07-11 Although a wave of democratization appears to be sweeping the globe torture persists in more than seventy-five nations Despite widespread condemnation of torture and the efforts of international and nongovernmental organizations to end it the politics of pain continues in a broad range of social and political systems This book is one of the first to systematically examine the psychological, cultural, and social origins of torture It provides profiles of torturers and of those who direct them in their brutal activities The contributors provide case studies from the past and present including Somoza's National Guard in Nicaragua and regimes in the Southern Cone of Latin America and in Greece

The Broadview Anthology of Expository Prose - Third Canadian Edition Laura Buzzard, Don LePan, Nora Ruddock, Alexandria Stuart, 2017-08-08 The third Canadian edition of this anthology has been substantially revised and updated for a contemporary audience a selection of classic essays from earlier eras has been retained but the emphasis is very much on twenty-first century expository writing There is also a focus on issues of great importance in twenty-first century Canada such as climate change the Truth and Reconciliation Commission the Jian Ghomeshi trial Facebook police discrimination trans rights and postsecondary education in the humanities Works of different lengths and levels of difficulty are represented as are narrative, descriptive, and persuasive essays and new to this edition lyric essays For the new edition there are also considerably more short pieces than ever before a number of op-ed pieces are included as are pieces from blogs and from online news sources The representation of academic writing from several disciplines has been increased and in some cases the anthology also includes news reports presenting the results of academic research to a general audience Also new to this edition are essays from a wide range of the most celebrated prose writers of the modern era from Susan Sontag, Eula Biss, and Michel Foucault to Anne Carson and Ta-Nehisi Coates The anthology also offers increased diversity of representation including for example a larger proportion of First Nations writers and women writers than previous Canadian editions Unobtrusive explanatory notes appear at the bottom of the page and each selection is preceded by a headnote that provides students with information regarding the context in which the piece was written Each reading is also followed by questions for discussion A unique feature is the inclusion of a set of additional notes on the anthology's companion website notes designed to be of particular help to EAL students and/or students who have little familiarity with Canadian culture The anthology is accompanied by two companion websites The student website features additional readings and interactive writing exercises as well as the additional notes The instructor website provides additional discussion questions and for a number of the anthology selections background information that may be of interest     The Bulkeley Genealogy Donald Lines Jacobus,1933     Pure-bred Dogs, American Kennel Gazette ,1968-12     The Trowbridge Genealogy Francis Bacon Trowbridge,1908     To Love, Honor, and Obey...
