Hinterland Theology Alan P.F. Sell, 2008-12-01 Alan Sell maintains that systematic and constructive theology are best understood as the product of a conversation with the biblical writers the heritage of Christian thought and the current intellectual environment The conversation will benefit if the voices of hinterland writers are heard as well as those of the theological and philosophical giants In this book ten hinterland theologians associated with English Dissent are introduced and their writings are discussed Thomas Ridgley Abraham Taylor and Samuel Chandler wrote in the wake of the Toleration Act of 1689 George Payne and Richard Alliot responded to the Enlightenment and the Evangelical Revival D W Simon T Vincent Tymms and Walter F Adeney took account of modern biblical criticism and Robert S Franks and Charles S Duthie respectively lived through and followed the heyday of liberal theology The study reveals both adjustments and time lags in theology and shows how hinterland theologians can stimulate the ongoing conversation concerning theological method philosophico theological relations the Trinity the atonement and ecumenism Literary and Cultural Representations of the Hinterlands Ewa Kęłowska-Ławniczak, Dominika Ferens, Katarzyna Nowak-McNeice, Marcin Tereszewski, 2023-12-22 This interdisciplinary collection explores the diverse relationships between the frequently ignored and inherently ambiguous hinterlands and their manifestations in literature and culture Moving away from perspectives that emphasize the marginality of hinterlands and present them as devoid of agency and cultural currency this collection assembles a series of original essays using various modes of engagement to reconceptualize hinterlands and highlight their semiotic complexity Apart from providing a reassessment of hinterlands in terms of their geocultural significance this book also explores hinterlands through such concepts as nostalgia heterotopia identity formation habitation and cognitive mapping with reference to a wide geographical field Literary and filmic revisions of familiar hinterlands such as the Australian outback Alberta prairie and Arizona desert are juxtaposed in this volume with representations of such little known European hinterlands as Lower Silesia and Ukraine and the complicated political dimension of First World War internment camps is investigated with regard to Kapuskasing Ontario Rural China and the Sussex Downs are examined here as writers retreats Inner city hinterlands in Haiti India Morocco and urban New Jersey take on new meaning when contrasted with the vast hinterlands of megacities like Johannesburg and Los Angeles The spectrum of diverse approaches to hinterlands helps to reinforce their multilayered and multivocal nature as spaces that defy clear categorization The Sherbro and Its Hinterland Thomas Joshua Alldridge, 1901 Egypt and the Hinterland Frederic Walter Fuller, 1901 Slavery Hinterland Felix Brahm, Eve Rosenhaft, 2016 6 Julius von Rohr an Enlightenment Scientist of the Plantation Atlantic 7 A Hinterland to the Slave Trade Atlantic Connections of the Wupper Valley in the Early Nineteenth Century 8 Abolitionists in the German Hinterland Therese Huber and the Spread of Anti slavery Sentiment in the German Territories in the Early Nineteenth Century Afterword Bibliography of Secondary Works Cited Index Dingle and its Hinterland Felicity Hayes-McCoy, Wilf Judd, 2017-05-31 The tip of the Dingle Peninsula at the westernmost edge of Europe is one of Ireland's most isolated regions. For millennia it has also been a hub for foreign visitors; its position made it a medieval centre for traders and the wildness of its remote landscape has been the setting for spiritual pilgrimage. This seeming paradox is what makes Dingle and its western hinterland unique: the ancient native culture has been preserved while also being influenced by the world at large. This rich heritage is best understood by chatting with the people who live and work here. But how many visitors get that opportunity? Starting with Dingle town, Felicity Hayes McCoy takes us on an insiders' tour of the region, interviewing locals along the way, ranging from farmers, postmasters and boatmen to museum curators, radio presenters and sean nos singers. A resident for the last twenty years, Felicity offers practical information and advice as well as cultural insights that will give any visitor a deeper understanding of this special place.

Planetary Hinterlands Pamila Gupta, Sarah Nuttall, Esther Peeren, Hanneke Stuit, 2023-11-09. This open access book considers the concept of the hinterland as a crucial tool for understanding the global and planetary present as a time defined by the lasting legacies of colonialism, increasing labor precarity under late capitalist regimes and looming climate disasters. Traditionally seen to serve a colonial port or market town, the hinterland here becomes a lens to attend to the times and spaces shaped and experienced across the received categories of the urban, rural, wilderness or nature. In straddling these categories, the concept of the hinterland foregrounds the human and more than human lively processes and forms of care that go on even in sites defined by capitalist extraction and political abandonment. Bringing together scholars from the humanities and social sciences, the book rethinks hinterland materialities, affectivities and ecologies across places and cultural imaginations. Global North and South, urban and rural, land and water.

Port-Cities and their Hinterlands Robert Lee, Paul McNamara, 2022-03-14. This interdisciplinary book brings together eleven original contributions by scholars in the United Kingdom, continental Europe, America and Japan, which represent innovative and important research on the relationship between cities and their hinterlands. They discuss the factors which determined the changing nature of port-hinterland relations in particular and highlight the ways in which port cities have interacted and intersected with their different hinterlands as a result of both in and out migration, cultural exchange and the wider flow of goods, services and information. Historically, maritime commerce was a powerful driving force behind urbanisation and by 1850, seaports accounted for a significant proportion of the world's great cities. Ports acted as nodal points for the flow of population and the dissemination of goods and services, but their role as growth poles also affected the economic transformation of both their hinterlands and forelands. In fact, most ports, irrespective of their size, had a series of overlapping hinterlands, whose shifting importance reflected changes in trading relations, political frameworks, migration patterns, family networks and cultural exchange. Urban historians have been criticised for being concerned primarily with self-contained processes which operate within the boundaries of individual towns and cities, and as a result, the key relationships between cities and their hinterlands have often been neglected. The chapters in this work focus primarily on the determinants of port hinterland linkages and analyse these as distinct but interrelated fields of interaction Marking a significant contribution to the literature in this field Port Cities and their Hinterlands provides essential reading for students and scholars of the history of economics

Struggle for Control of the Hinterland of the Bight of Biafra Dr. Frank Nwabueze Ihekweaba, 2016-02-23 This book tells the story of the people of Igbo land at the middle of the nineteenth century when Europe and Europeans held the dominant power over the lives and affairs of many peoples in Africa This dominance however was never supposed to be total or absolute Nevertheless it managed to cast a constricting shadow with its associated if unhealthy ambience on the day to day lives of the people using the overwhelming military and economic power at its disposal at a time when Africans were either recovering from five hundred years of stupor brought on by its own dark ages AD

11001600 or the shock and paralysis that followed the Moroccan Mohamedan and Spanish mercenary assisted mayhem and chaos of 1591 against the African kingdoms of West Africa But the white man would soon lose most of his political and economic opportunities and some of the absolute attributes he had mustered over the years the moment Britain and the other European races saw themselves as divinely appointed to right the wrongs of mankind He would from then on render himself vulnerable to the tide of African enlightenment and progress which was then building up everywhere once the trade by which he had gained his ascendancy over the other races of mankind began to decline In addition European ascendancy witnessed an unusual reversal of luck when its residual strengths recently boosted with the development of some newer types of weaponry the Maxim machine gun in the UK 1883 and the Mauser Machine gun 1891 in Germany weapons whose astonishing power and versatility had not previously been seen or tested in any battlefield became more widely available to European and non European troops These however could not provide definitive answers to all the tactical and strategic imperatives of the developing new battlefield which European armies had sought Nevertheless these new weapons became celebrated after they were successfully used to hold the line and repel hordes of brave native fighters armed only with machetes and spears South Africa and bows and arrows Kitcheners Sudan enabling British forces to claim easy victories over the native forces several Victoria Crosses would be won on both battlefronts by the British army The success of the campaigns clearly went to the heads of the victorious army commanders Thus were sown the seeds that would grow leading to the idea of invincibility of the white man in the battlefield and the tragic events that preceded the First World War 1914-1918

Roman and Medieval Exeter and their Hinterlands Stephen Rippon, Neil Holbrook, 2021-04-30 This first volume presenting research carried out through the Exeter A Place in Time project provides a synthesis of the development of Exeter within its local regional national and international hinterlands Exeter began life in c AD 55 as one of the most important legionary bases within early Roman Britain and for two brief periods in the early and late 60s AD Exeter was a critical centre of Roman power within the new province When the legion moved to Wales the fortress was converted into the civitas capital for the Dumnonii Its development as a town was however relatively slow reflecting the gradual pace at which the region as a whole adapted to being part of the Roman world The only evidence we have for occupation within Exeter between the 5th and 8th centuries is for a church in what was later to become the Cathedral Close In the late 9th century however Exeter became a defended burh and this was followed by the revival of urban life Exeter's wealth was in part derived from its central role in the south west's tin industry and by the late 10th century Exeter was the fifth most productive mint in England Exeter's importance continued to grow as it became an episcopal and royal centre and excavations within Exeter have revealed important material culture assemblages that reflect its role as an international port
