Women and Curiosity in Early Modern England and France Line Cottegnies, Sandrine Parageau, John J. Thompson, 2016-04-08 In Women and Curiosity in Early Modern England and France the rehabilitation of female curiosity between the sixteenth and the eighteenth centuries is thoroughly investigated for the first time in a comparative perspective that confronts two epistemological and religious traditions In the context of the early modern blooming culture of curiosity women s desire for knowledge made them both curious subjects and curious objects a double relation to curiosity that is meticulously inquired into by the authors in this volume The social literary theological and philosophical dimensions of women s persistent association with curiosity offer a rich contribution to cultural history The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, 1911 Chopin at the Boundaries Jeffrey Kallberg, 1996 The complex cultural status of Chopin he was a native Pole and adopted Frenchman a male composer writing in feminine genres is the subject of Kallberg s absorbing book Combining social history literary theory musicology and feminist thought this book situates Chopin s music within the construct of his somewhat marginal sexual identity Men of Their Words Nigel Harkness, 2007 Whereas the centrality of femininity to nineteenth century French fiction has been the focus of widespread critical attention masculinity has until recently received little sustained treatment in either the literary or socio historical domains In this book Nigel Harkness uses the fiction of George Sand 1804 1876 the pre eminent woman writer of the period to explore questions of masculinity as they pertain to the nineteenth century French novel and to map out new approaches to the study of literary masculinity Drawing on contemporary theories of gender and narrative Harkness reveals how Sands novels repeatedly focus on a nexus of language masculinity and power in which narrative is both a vehicle for the expression of manhood and a site where masculinity is discursively performed Masculinity is thus reconfigured in Sands fiction as an identity constituted as much through words as through actions Analysis of the performances of masculinity staged in Sands novels opens onto an exploration of gendered processes of literary representation the links between masculinity and the doxa the equation of writing and power the homosocial function of acts of narration and the masculinity of authorship and authority The Romantic Art of Confession Susan M. Levin,1998 The Romantic Art of Confession is about works specifically entitled confessions written during the Romantic period in Britain and France Reading these similarly conceived texts together illuminates uniquely the Romantic art of confession as it illuminates the written craft of self recollection and definition sought both to reconcile the country with its past and construct the framework for a progressive more harmonious future Through seventeen thematic essays Aller s Retour s seeks to understand nineteenth century France as a society in perpetual motion Recognising the instability that is key to the very concept of movement this volume explores how the intellectual shifts and cross currents of the nineteenth century responded to and impacted upon each other Finally it asks why questions of motion and movement dominated this period as every sphere of French life confronted its own extremes of progress and renewal stagnancy and regression

Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis,2021-05-10 The magnitude of the legal violence exercised by the French to colonize and occupy Algeria 1830 1962 is such that only aesthetic works have been able to register its enduring effects In Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis examines the power of literature to provide what demographic data historical facts and legal trials have not in terms of attesting to and accounting for this destruction Taking up the unfinished work of decolonization since 1962 Algerian writers have played a crucial role in forging historical memory and nurturing political resistance their work helps to make possible what state violence has rendered almost unthinkable Drawing together readings of multilingual texts by Yamina Mechakra Waciny Laredj Zahia Rahmani Fadhma A th Mansour Amrouche Assia Djebar and Samira Negrouche alongside theoretical juridical visual and activist texts from both Algeria s national liberation war 1954 1962 and war on civilians 1988 1999 this book challenges temporal and geographical frameworks that have implicitly organized studies of cultural memory around Euro American reference points Jarvis shows how this literature rewrites history disputes state authority to arbitrate justice and cultivates a multilingual archive for imagining decolonized futures

Thinking through the Mothers Janet Beizer,2011-03-15 If questions of subjectivity and identification are at stake in all biographical writing they are particularly trenchant for contemporary women biographers of women. Often their efforts to exhume buried lives in hope of finding spiritual foremothers awaken maternal phantoms that must be embraced or confronted. Do women writing in fact have any greater access to their own mothers' lives than to the lives of other women whose stories have been swept away like dust in the debris of the past? In Thinking through the Mothers, Janet Beizer surveys modern women's biographies and contemplates alternatives to an approach based in lineage and the form of thought that emphasizes the line, the path, hierarchy, unity, resemblance, reflection, and the aesthetic mimesis that depends on these ideas. Through close readings of memoirs and fictions about mothers, Beizer explores how biographers of the women who came before rehearse and rewrite relationships to their own mothers biographically as they seek to appropriate the past in a hybrid genre she calls bioautography. Thinking through the Mothers features the work of George Sand and Colette and spans such varied figures as Gustave Flaubert, Julian Barnes, Louise Colet, Eunice Lipton, Vladimir Nabokov, Huguette Bouchardeau, and Christa Wolf. Beizer seeks an alternative to women's salvation biography or resurrection biography that might resist nostalgia, be attentive to silence, and reinvent the means to represent the lives of precursors without appropriating traditional models of genealogy.

Autobiography, historiography, rhetoric, 2023-10-16 George Sand and Idealism Naomi Schor, 1993. A reanalysis of Sand's major writing ranging from her early short stories to her later fiction, which identifies her writing as an example of an aesthetic mode often associated with femininity. The study compares Sand's place in the history of the realist novel to that of her male counterparts. The French Romantics' Knowledge of English Literature (1820-1848) Eric Partridge, 1924
