Williams, 2008-11-11. Written by a history educator, this exciting guide provides a unique approach that makes it easy for middle and high school teachers to engage students' critical thinking in history and social studies. Each ready to use technique demonstrates how students can use primary and secondary sources to solve historical mysteries. Includes sample lessons and case studies for Grades 5-12. Overcoming Obstacles: A Passion for Teaching and Living Jackie T. Sistrunk, 2012-03-28. Jackie Sistrunk, a national board certified teacher with 30 years experience, has put together this book of her favorite and most successful learning strategies. Why? She is most happy when she sees or hears about strategies that have worked as have hers, and wants teachers to break out of the paradigm of just doing what the textbook says and do things differently. Jackie has used these strategies successfully with all her students she taught: kids in grades four through seven for the lowest scoring kids in her school, and for gifted students. The Civic Mission of Museums Anthony Pennay, 2020-12-15 Museums have long sought to maintain relevance in the daily lives of their communities. Over the past several decades, museums have shifted as a field from a focus on collections to a focus on connecting with audiences. More recently, museums must confront political polarization and a decreasing sense of trust in nearly every public institution. As a result, few institutions are better positioned to serve the country than museums. In fact, polls show that museums rank among the most trusted institutions in the country regardless of political belief. During tumultuous times, this trust means that museums have a unique and important responsibility to fulfill their civic mission. A century ago, John Cotton Dana argued that the most important thing a museum can do is produce a public benefit. The Civic Mission of Museums argues that museums play an essential role in the cultivation of engaged and informed citizens. The book outlines a spectrum of civic learning that includes civic knowledge, civic mindset, civic skillset, and civic action. It offers concrete examples of impactful civic programming, exhibits, and public engagement from a diverse set of museums. It ends with a practical toolkit gleaned from across the country for museum professionals to utilize.
