The Blues John McDermott, 2014-10-17 Back in the innocent days of the 1970s John McDermott was a terrific basketball player from Monmouth County NJ a sweet stroking lefty who played at a high level at Raritan HS and Brookdale Community College with savvy and ease that matched his friendly easy going nature Until I read his book however I was not aware of the depths of his alcohol and drug addictions or his numerous medical issues McDermott's autobiography A Legend in His Own Mind is an extraordinary confessional that makes Keith Richards life as told in his great 2010 bio A Life look mild by comparison McDermott hasn't had an easy day since he was 19 yet on nearly every page he expresses his love and gratitude for his family and friends and his enduring connection to basketball This is a tale worth reading _____ 4 0 out of 5 stars Story from the heart

_____ In his book John was able to recall his life through the experiences and relationships established through his journey back from addiction An effective story that helped John reach his goals and begin a new life Well written I thought and the stories brought vivid images back to me having grown up in Hazlet in the same time period and knowing John as an athlete of the highest level in Raritan High School sports _____ 5 0 out of 5 stars Just like making a bank shot at Leocadia court _____ I find it remarkable that John could remember all the characters that pass through his life while he was slipping in and out of substance abuse I hope and pray John stays clean and continues to be a great role model _____ I am only half way through the book and cannot put it down I graduated with John but never knew him He made me aware of a subculture in my town that I never knew existed John provides play by play in many of the games he played in and tells his story well An amazing journey Keep the faith 5 0 out of 5 stars Daughters of the American Revolution, Michigan Society Records Daughters of the American Revolution of Michigan,1997 Minutes of the state executive board proceedings of the Michigan state conferences publications reports and scrapbooks also papers concerning their genealogical work record of activities during World War I and II historical files for individual chapters of the Michigan D A R and photographs Case Studies in Science Education: The case reports ,1978 History of Fayette County, Indiana ,1917 Nursing Theory Ann Marriner-Tomey,2002 This new edition demonstrates theory based nursing practice showing how nursing theory guides critical thinking for decision making in professional nursing practice Includes a new section on nursing philosophies of Nightingale Watson and Brenner and a new section on middle range nursing theories including six new chapters

Nye,1997 Nye analyzes the transformation of the Grand Canyon and Niagara Falls into tourist sites the history of light shows at world s fairs the New Deal programs designed to provide electricity to rural areas and the Apollo 11 moon to reveal how the spaces we live in and the technology we use are integral to American identity and a key part of American self representation Nye also turns his attention to the Internet where technology has not simply transformed space but created a whole new kind of space and with it new stories Nye analyzes the transformation of the Grand Canyon and Niagara Falls into tourist sites the history of light shows at world s fairs the New Deal programs designed to provide electricity to rural areas the Apollo 11 moon landing and the new narratives of the Internet to reveal how the spaces we live in and the technology we use are integral to American identity and a key part of American self representation In examining the interaction of technology space and American narrative Nye argues against the idea that technology is an inevitable and insidious controller of our lives Instability in the Middle East Karel Černý,2017-07-01 Middle Eastern instability is manifest externally in many ways by crises afflicting governing regimes the rise of political Islam terrorism revolution civil war increased migration and the collapse of many states This book examines the roots of this instability using a theoretically original and empirically supported historical sociological comparative analysis Up till now interpretations of the development of the post colonial Middle East have been dominated by two opposing theses The first views the region as backward unchanging and rigid the second as undergoing excessively rapid transformation This book offers an alternative perspective focusing on the highly uneven and unsynchronised pace of change in individual dimensions of Middle Eastern modernisation What we are seeing is 1 rapid socio demographic change a sharp increase in the population and the proportion of young people rapid urbanisation and the expansion of the media and education 2 slower and unstable economic change dependency on oil exports high unemployment and 3 slow or regressive political change erosion of the capacity to govern the absence of democratisation and liberalisation The theoretical model employed emerged from a critical reading of theories of modernisation and a concept of multiple modernities that also allows for an interrogation of the broader cultural religious and international political context of uneven modernisation in the Middle East This model is then tested empirically using the time series 1960 2010 of dozens of indicators covering the demographic social economic and political dimensions of the modernisation process In general the book does not concentrate on externally monitorable political actors and their rivalries as so often is the case Instead it focuses on the political rivalries of deep long term cumulative demographic social and economic change taking place beneath the surface It looks at changes that are not simply taking place in individual countries of the Middle East but since the end of the Second World War have affected the entire region and are responsible for the emergence of a Middle East completely different to that to which we were accustomed for many decades
