Essential Guide to Qualitative Methods in Organizational Research Catherine Cassell, Gillian Symon, 2004-04-28 Essential Guide to Qualitative Methods in Organizational Research is an excellent resource for students and researchers in the areas of organization studies, management research, and organizational psychology, bringing together in one volume the range of methods available for undertaking qualitative data collection and analysis. The volume includes 30 chapters, each focusing on a specific technique. The chapters cover traditional research methods, analysis techniques, and interventions, as well as the latest developments in the field. Each chapter reviews how the method has been used in organizational research, discusses the advantages and disadvantages of using the method, and presents a case study example of the method in use. A list of further reading is supplied for those requiring additional information about a given method. The comprehensive and accessible nature of this collection will make it an essential and lasting handbook for researchers and students studying organizations.

Mourning the Dreams Claudia Malacrida, 2016-09-17 Mourning the Dreams is an accessible and moving account of parents' experiences of grief and recovery after losing an infant during pregnancy, childbirth, or within the first month of life. Drawing from the sociology of emotions, health research, and psychology, her own experience, and a range of qualitative methods, Claudia Malacrida finds that bereaved parents not only grieve their child and its unrealized potential but often find their personal experiences are at odds with social forces and prevailing assumptions about the nature of their loss and how they should react to it. She explores the meanings parents create as they face denial, silence, and other reactions from friends, family, communities, coworkers, the medical community, and even within spousal relationships. She also describes the courage and creativity of parents who create and negotiate meanings that help them grieve, recover, and manage relationships.

Redescribing Horizontal Geographies Olaf Kühne, 2024-06-08 The first book in the series provides the concept of a theoretical redefinition of horizontal geographies. These denote the spatial syntheses as undertaken in various disciplines, whether as regional studies, area studies, new regional geography, and many more. The basis of the redescription is philosophical neopragmatism, which has occasionally been taken up in the spatial sciences but has never been differentiated into a theory-driven empirical research program. This development of the research program guides the present book. Philosophical neopragmatism especially as conceptualized by Richard Rorty focuses in particular on contingency of society self and language which also allows spatial syntheses to be understood not as images of reality but as contingent proposals for redescribing spaces As a result of the complexity of spatial processes their horizontal geographic study requires a triangulation of theories methods researcher perspectives data and the involvement of people without expert special knowledge To highlight the contingency of the spatial syntheses the presentation of the results here especially graphic and cartographic resorts to the attitude of irony Regarding the six levels of triangulation neopragmatism acts as a meta theoretical orientation framework Against the background of the complexity of spatial developments on the one hand and to operationalize Rorty s principle of private self creation and public solidarity on the other hand Ralf Dahrendorf s concept of life chances is drawn upon Especially in the differentiation of this concept made in this book it serves on the one hand for an understanding access of the also spatial expression of options and ligatures and on the other hand it offers a normative framework for the evaluation of socio spatial developments The reference to neopragmatic studies on spatial syntheses conducted to date and evaluated in this book shows the potential of the approach elaborated here in conceptual detail for the first time

Things that Matter William L. Randall,Matte Robinson,2023-11-30 Many of us have particular things in our lives photographs paintings old letters books furniture jewellery or clothing that hold special meaning for us Often they correspond to pivotal memories and can be central to our sense of self and our life narratives all the more so as we age Things That Matter sheds important light on the intricate intertwining of mementos with stories and vice versa in most people s lives The book explores the significance of cherished objects within the life stories of nine participants in a qualitative study of the links between reminiscence and resilience in later life The researchers who conducted the study represent a variety of fields including gerontology social work ministry nursing literature and education The book details how life stories can be fraught with a wide range of insights and questions from the memories that get stirred up as people embark on the process of life review prompted by the challenges and changes of aging Shedding light on the complex emotional psychological and spiritual findings of the study Things That Matter ultimately reveals the intricacy of personal narrative and the incredible ways in which things and stories are interwoven in our lives over time

Beyond Narrative

Coherence Matti Hyvärinen, 2010 Beyond Narrative Coherence reconsiders the way we understand and work with narratives. Even though narrators tend to strive for coherence they also add complexity challenge canonical scripts and survey lives by telling highly perplexing and contradictory stories. Many narratives remain incomplete ambiguous and contradictory. Obvious coherence cannot be the sole moral standard the only perspective of reading or the criterion for selecting and discarding research material. Beyond Narrative Coherence addresses the limits and aspects of narrative dis coherence by offering a rich theoretical and historical background to the debate. Limits of narrative coherence are discussed from the perspective of three fields of life that often threaten the coherence of narrative illness arts and traumatic political experience. The authors of the book cover a wide range of disciplines such as psychology sociology arts studies political science and philosophy.

Sizonqoba! Outliving AIDS in Southern Africa Ngcaweni, Busani, 2017-04-11 The aim of this book is to better understand the phenomenon of HIV in a country that has faced the fullest might of the disease and yet after first faltering has made more progress than any other country in the world in its response to HIV. It aims to reflect the complexity of this narrative and the range of widely differing insights by featuring what is likely the largest number of contributors in a single publication on the subject in South Africa as well as a full spectrum of specialised areas ranging from high end science to personal reflections.

Employment Relations in the Voluntary Sector Ian Cunningham, 2012-08-06 This new book addresses the topical issues surrounding employment relations in UK voluntary organizations that operate within the quasi market of social care. Combining an analysis of the established literature with in depth qualitative field work Ian Cunningham explores the nature of power relations between state and voluntary sector implications of employment policy and subsequent pressures for change in pay and working conditions the influence of trade unions in the sector management s capacity to resist external pressure and employee responses to this environment. Cunningham s focus on the employment relationship in this sector is unique highlighting a complex and variable pattern of interdependence and subordination between government agencies and voluntary sector employers. The author examines the way in which financial pressures from the state coupled with weak unionization diminish working conditions arguing that employee morale will not be sustained if the voluntary sector fails to maintain its autonomy and minimize its dependency on state funding.

Transitioning into New Manufacturing Paradigm Dr. Azlan Nithia, 2018-11-15 The customers prefer small lot sizes multimodels with model variations short delivery lead times and low cost. The organization that cannot transition to the new manufacturing paradigm of buyer centric strategy their rigidity of the current mass production seller centric will eliminate them from the industry. There are many organizations that implemented robotics and automation to reduced labor but they have also increased their changeover time and made the internal processes more complex rigid and created imbalance to the flow due to the single minded focus of only labor reduction. To survive and succeed in the fierce market competition the organizations must transition to the new manufacturing paradigm. The organizations must develop their people capabilities agility speed responsiveness and be able to deliver products at the lowest cost The concept of mass production of large lot sizes and lesser model changeovers are not acceptable this thinking must be evaporated to succeed in the new customer centric business This book introduces practically proven concepts that will transition the manufacturing organization from the mass production focus built on rigidity to a high performing organization equipped with agility flexibility short lead times multimodel production and new organization culture that drives daily continuous improvement and problem solving This book shows the whats and hows to transition to the new manufacturing paradigm and successfully compete to win in the fierce customer centric business
