The Art of Uncertainty David Spiegelhalter, 2025-03-04 Named a Best Book of the Year by Forbes and The Economist From our greatest living statistical communicator Tim Harford comes an invaluable data driven guide for understanding and learning to embrace risk and uncertainty in our daily lives How dangerous is our diet How much of sports falls into the realm of luck When authorities categorize a given event as highly likely how likely is that really Whether we re trying to decide if the benefits of a new medication are worth the chance of side effects or if artificial intelligence truly threatens humanity our lives are riddled with uncertainties both everyday and existential yet it can be difficult to know how to properly weigh all those unknowns Luckily for us renowned statistician David Spiegelhalter has spent his career dissecting data to resolve the apparently random and decode the many decisions we face with imperfect information In The Art of Uncertainty he shows how we can become better at dealing with what we don t know to make smarter choices in a world so full of puzzling variables In lucid lively prose Spiegelhalter guides us through the principles of probability illustrating how they can help us think more analytically about everything from medical advice to sports to climate change forecasts He demonstrates how taking a mathematical approach to phenomena we might otherwise attribute to fate or luck can help us sort hidden patterns from mere coincidences better evaluate cause and effect and predict what s likely to happen in the future Along the way we learn how a misinterpretation of a probability contributed to the infamous Bay of Pigs fiasco why a ship twice the size of the Titanic sank without a trace and why we can be so confident that no two properly shuffled decks of cards have ever been in the same order Sparkling with wit and fascinating real world examples this is an essential guide to navigating uncertainty while also retaining the humility to admit what we don t or simply cannot know contributors provide a range of perspectives on international historical and policy contexts in order to deepen our understanding of significant debates in geography education. Key debates include geography's identity as an academic discipline, what constitutes knowledge in geography, places and regional geography, what it means to think geographically, constructing the curriculum, how we link assessment to making progress in geography, the contribution of fieldwork and outdoor experiences, technology and the use of Geographical Information, school geography and employability, understanding the gap between school and university geography, evidence-based practice and research in geography education. The comprehensive, rigorous coverage of these key issues together with carefully annotated selected further reading will help support and shape further research and writing. Debates in Geography Education is a key resource that is essential reading for all teachers and researchers who wish to extend their grasp of the place of geography in education. Mark Jones is Senior Lecturer in Education at the University of the West of England, Bristol, UK. David Lambert is Professor of Geography Education at UCL Institute of Education, London, UK.

An Introduction to the Study of Education David Matheson, 2014-09-15 This fully updated fourth edition of An Introduction to the Study of Education provides a comprehensive and reflective introduction to the study of education, inviting students to question what education is, who it is for, and what purpose it serves. Taking the reader from the early years through to lifelong learning, it examines all forms of education and learning. This new edition includes ten completely new chapters and a step-by-step guide to essay writing. There is also a companion website to accompany the book, featuring additional chapters which can be visited at www.routledge.com/cw/matheson. This fully updated fourth edition provides a full exploration of the historical, sociological, philosophical, and psychological roots of education, a clear focus on the individual levels of education: preschool, compulsory, post-compulsory, and lifelong learning, the latest debates within special educational needs, an in-depth examination of learning styles, insights into the historical development of education, and the role of and background to research in education, a focus on current educational practice and diversity across the United Kingdom and Ireland. Written in a clear and accessible style, this is the essential core text for all beginning students on undergraduate and postgraduate courses in Education Studies and all those interested in education today, where it came from and where it is going.

40 Ways to Diversify the History Curriculum Elena Stevens, 2022-07-14 In writing this book, Elena Stevens aims to respond to calls for a more diverse, decolonised curriculum, calls which have become more insistent following the reinvigoration of the Black Lives Matter movement, the MeToo movement, and other landmark events. Highlighting the lived experiences of women, the working classes, and BAME and LGBTQ communities in particular, 40 Ways to Diversify the History Curriculum draws upon a wide range of personal stories to exemplify significant historical moments and shed new light on topics that have traditionally been taught through narrower lenses. The book serves as a resource bank for teachers wishing to enliven and diversify history lessons at Key Stages 2, 3, GCSE, A level, and beyond. Elena helpfully opens with a discussion of the theoretical, historiographical, developments that lay behind calls to diversify the curriculum and to accompany each of the 40 historical case studies she provides ideas and activities for translating the case studies into lesson plans and enquiries Furthermore Elena also guides teachers in shaping new enquiries from scratch Suitable for teachers of secondary school and Key Stage 2 history What is a Mathematical Concept? Elizabeth de Freitas, Nathalie Sinclair, Alf Coles, 2017-06-22 Leading thinkers in mathematics philosophy and education offer new insights into the fundamental question what is a mathematical concept The Times Index ,2012 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement
