I have volunteered as a Pharmacy Assistant for Interfaith Medical Center-Brooklyn, NY. I have also volunteered in a Respiratory Care Unit, Nursing Unit, and Donor Registration Assistant and Safety monitor for various organizations across New York. Being involved in voluntary work presented me with an opportunity to interact with patients suffering from various ailments first hand. I was particularly sparked with the pharmacist assistant position as it presented with a much needed chance to experience what it means to become a pharmacist; the experience was memorable and only served to cement my deathless desire to become a pharmacist. The voluntary positions together with the job placements that I have held before (Home Health Aid, Library Assistant, and Office Assistant) have greatly helped me improve my communication skills. I understand that for any pharmacist, effective communication skills are indispensable since without these, one is not able to communicate with the patients. Currently I possess effectual communication skills (both written and spoken) that enable me communicate effectively with all and sundry. Additionally, the placements as well as the voluntary opportunities helped realize the importance of building special relationships and trust with all the patients; I understand that Service delivery in pharmacy is grossly dependent such special relationships and trust with patients.

Getting accepted to pursue Doctors degree in pharmacy will open a new chapter of my life. I am committed to making the new experiences that accompany my admission into the doctor of pharmacy program attention-

The Complete MD/PhD Applicant Guide Jonathan Sussman, Jordan Setayesh, Amitej Venapally, 2020-09-22. This book is a student reference guide book for the MD/PhD application process. It begins with an overview of the structure of a typical MD/PhD program as well as student outcomes and career choices of MD/PhD graduates. Next is an outline of the academic and extracurricular prerequisites as well as the basic components of the application itself. The authors then address the factors that MD/PhD students should consider when selecting schools to which to apply. Continuing to the main application, examples are provided of all the different essay types that MD/PhD applicants will encounter along with comments on how to address the deliberately vague and abstract prompts while tailoring the responses to the combined degree program. Most uniquely included is a very detailed explanation of the many types of interviews that applicants will encounter and how to prepare for them by integrating extensive personal experience and first-hand discussions with MD/PhD program leaders. Lastly, there will be a discussion on how to cope with the year-long timeline that constitutes this application process and provide guidance regarding properly responding to acceptances and waitlist offers. Written by a team of authors each experienced with the MD/PhD application, this book aids the prospective applicant with navigating this challenging process.
