Goddess Of The Hunt Covert Passions:

Goddess of the Hunt Becky Flade, 2014-02-15 CODENAME DIANA CIA field agent Paige Aster hides a cunning intelligence and lethal skill behind a mask of golden beauty It serves her well as she moves from one undercover assignment to the next CURRENT MISSION Retrieve a stolen United States military defense program from a terrorist cell in Dublin Ireland before they trade it to Islamic extremists in exchange for munitions Her only back up on this time sensitive mission is a deeply embedded MI 6 operative HER ASSET Eoin Fitzpatrick has sacrificed everyone he holds dear to bring these terrorists to justice He ll sacrifice Diana too if she threatens to compromise his mission or his cover He has orders to do just that his agency is only doing hers a favor COMPROMISED Paige expects danger but welcomes passion taking her pleasure where and when it s offered She s not prepared for the effect Eoin has on her Or what happens when she surrenders to him Paige burns for Eoin but will he leave her burned Hunting Men Dave Smith, 2006-12-01 In Hunting Men poet Dave Smith reasserts the validity of poetry in our times With eloquence grace and a searching intelligence Smith illuminates both poems and poets Believing that great poetry cannot be divorced from an intimate organic link to place he builds a compelling case for the importance of southern poets Like the hunters who taught Smith as a young man patience observation and willingness to rely on his senses he leads readers on an expedition through a specific poetic place with a sure sense of direction and destination Beginning with a discussion of southern poetry that seeks to define the form and its value for a global readership the first of the book s three sections also includes reflections on Edgar Allan Poe John Crowe Ransom Robert Penn Warren and James Dickey In the second part Smith focuses on contemporary poets Richard Hugo Stephen Dunn Stephen Dobyns and Larry Levis among others In the final chapters he examines how he came to be a poet and reflects on the nature and practice of poetry Smith describes himself as a poet born and raised in the South but never entirely comfortable with the neighborhood or many of the public assumptions about southernness By describing why southern poetry is important to him he reveals why poetry matters to all of us as he asserts the moral weight of regional art My success if it occurs will be to send readers to the books of the poets where the world as they knew it waits and is full of the delights of the unglimped and known Tracts Relating to the Attempts to Convert to Christianity the Indians of New England ,1834 University Sermons New and Old Charles John Vaughan, 1888 Eyesight Alone Caroline A. Jones, 2005 Even a decade after his death Clement Greenberg remains controversial One of the most influential art writers of the twentieth century Greenberg propelled Abstract Expressionist painting in particular the monumental work of Jackson Pollock to a leading position in an international postwar art world On radio and in print Greenberg was the voice of the new American painting and a central figure in the postwar cultural history of the United States Caroline Jones s magisterial study widens Greenberg s fundamental tenet of opticality the idea that modernist art is apprehended through eyesight alone to a broader arena examining how the critic s emphasis on the specular resonated with a society increasingly invested in positivist approaches to the world Greenberg's modernist discourse Jones argues developed in relation to the rationalized procedures that gained wide currency in the United States at midcentury in fields ranging from the sense data protocols theorized by scientific philosophy to the development of cultural forms such as hi fi that targeted specific senses one by one Greenberg's attempt to isolate and celebrate the visual was one manifestation of a large scale segmentation or bureaucratization of the body's senses Working through these historical developments Jones brings Greenberg's theories into contemporary philosophical debates about agency and subjectivity Eyesight Alone offers artists art historians philosophers and all those interested in the arts a critical history of this generative figure bringing his work fully into dialogue with the ideas that shape contemporary critical discourse and shedding light not only on Clement Greenberg but also on the contested history of modernism itself

Text/Events in Early Modern England Sandra Logan, 2018-01-18 Engaging with a range of events historical moments theatrical performances public presentations and courtly intrigues and the texts that record them this book explores representational practice as a component of Elizabethan political culture Considering the inscriptive production of mediated indirect experience as an authorial challenge to the value of the immediate direct experience of events and conversely recognizing the multi valent impact of theatrical performance and performativity as a reinvigoration of the immediate this study traces the emergence of realness as a textual effect and a mode of political intervention This interactive refractive nexus of experience and inscription comprises what Sandra Logan calls the text event The four primary foci of this investigation the 1558 coronation entry the 1575 entertainments at Kenilworth the 1590s dramatizations of the reign of Richard II and the Essex trial of 1601 serve as exempla of four moments in the reign of Elizabeth I which suggest an increasingly complex interaction between events and texts developing in the last half of the sixteenth century Logan argues that in representing England's recent and distant past a wide range of social subjects engaged in a struggle for intellectual credibility and social viability and in the process generated a contingent public sphere within which history framed as a coherent narrative shaped by causal relationships was brought to bear on the concerns of the Elizabethan present and future Assessing how these chronicles short prose histories and historical dramas each made use of the materials and techniques of the others blurring the distinctions between historiography and poetry as well as between past and present Logan considers the conjunctions between the development of new genres and perceptions about inscription and experience and changing socioeconomic institutions and practices
