Psychology of Career Adaptability, Employability and Resilience Kobus Maree, 2017-12-05 This book examines how the career counselling profession should respond to the changes in the world of work that have resulted from the increasing need to communicate faster and disseminate information more efficiently. It emphasizes the twin aims of enhancing a person's career adaptability and helping them to become more employable rather than linearly trying to find a job and remaining in one organisation for their entire career lives. The book shows that to achieve these aims, people need to acquire career resilience, especially since the world of work no longer provides workers with work holding environments for the duration of their career lives. It takes into account historical analyses which show that whenever major technological change has occurred and widespread job losses have ensued, people have managed to use the new technology to create new employment opportunities. Readers from career psychology and management research, vocational and professional career coaching and students of career psychology will find this book delivers sound updated theory demonstrating how perceived threats in the 21st century can conceivably be turned into opportunities.

Crustal Evolution of Southern Africa A. J. Tankard, Martin Martin, K. A. Eriksson, D. K. Hobday, D. R. Hunter, W. E. L. Minter, 2012-12-06 Syntheses of the geology of major areas of the Earth's crust are increasingly needed in order that the features of and the problems associated with the secular evolution of the continents can be understood by a wide audience. Southern Africa is fortunate in having a remarkable variety of geological environments developed without many breaks over 3.8 Ga and many of the rock groups are household names throughout the geological world. In one respect the geology of Southern Africa is particularly important: cratonization clearly began as early as 3.0 Ga ago, in contrast to about 2.5 Ga in most other continental areas such as North America. This book documents very well the remarkable change in tectonic conditions that took place between the Early and Mid Precambrian; we have here evidence of the very earliest development of rigid lithospheric plates. This book is a tribute to the multitudes of scientists who have worked out the geology of Southern Africa over many years and decades. Whatever their discipline, each provided a step in the construction of this fascinating story of 3.8 Ga of crustal development. In the book, the reader will find a detailed review of the factual data together with a balanced account of interpretative models without the indulgence of undue speculation. One of its attractions is its multidisciplinary approach which provides a stimulating challenge to the reader.

Principles of Precambrian

Geology Alan M. Goodwin, 1996-06-18 Principles of Precambrian Geology is an update to the 1991 book Precambrian Geology: The Dynamic Evolution of the Continental Crust by the same author. The new edition covers the same topics in a more concise and accessible format and is replete with explanatory figures, tables and illustrations. The book serves as a modern comprehensive statement on the Earth's Precambrian crust, covering the main aspects of distribution, lithostratigraphy, age and petrogenesis of Precambrian rocks by continent within the context of the Earth's evolving continental crust. Principles of

Precambrian Geology provides a suitable framework for assessing various Earth dynamic and biospheric hypotheses including the modern plate tectonic paradigm and the Gaian hypothesis Despite the concise format the new edition provides extensive updated references to support the information presented It is designed to serve the needs of student teacher explorationist and general student of the continental crust Updated to provide more concise accessible information Extensive illustrations tabulations and maps Provides a framework for assessing recent hypothesis on Earth dynamics Covers main aspects of distribution lithostratigraphy age and protogenesis of Precambrian rocks

Emerging Voices Human Sciences Research Council, Education Policy Consortium (South Africa), 2005 This examination graphically illustrates the conditions that make dreams of a better life for all virtually unrealizable in rural areas of South Africa Through the voices of rural people themselves this study tells not only what the problems surrounding education are but also what can and should be done when the South African government launches its offensive against poverty in rural areas Rigorous and qualitative the text is an overview of the need of great numbers of people for the opportunities and capabilities that education can provide for their futures It also shows the existing situation of many impoverished populations worldwide and illustrates that poverty and inequality continue where such issues are not addressed

Improving National Education Systems After COVID-19 Nuno Crato, Harry Anthony Patrinos, 2024-10-14 This open access book compares and analyses the results in twelve countries of the two latest international student assessments Progress in International Reading Literacy Study 2021 PIRLS and the Programme for International Student Assessment 2022 PISA and tries to disentangle the effects of the pandemic from the long term trends in education It is one of the first or maybe the first published volumes to provide a global assessment of the devastating impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on student learning as measured by independent international comparative surveys The 12 countries discussed in this volume represent a wide variety of educational systems including Chile Ecuador England Estonia Italy the Netherlands Poland Portugal South Africa Spain and the United States It compiles diverse scenarios including countries that are high performers countries that perform at the OECD mean and countries that are struggling to attain the OECD average Each country has its history that reflects efforts to cope with pandemic school closures and to improve educational achievement A major topic discussed in this edited volume is related to understanding the diverse circumstances for the variations in results within different countries Why did learning loss in specific locations How much learning was lost Why is a country continuously declining Why is another country constantly improving Why is there higher or less levels of inequality How is a country regularly improving with an outdated curriculum Which policies have worked and which ones have not What can we do now This book is a valuable contribution to answer these concerns based on a diverse sample of countries and research questions

Goodwin,2016-02-06 The main goal of this book is to provide a modern comprehensive statement on the Earth's Precambrian crust It uses geographic and tectonic location lithostratigraphy geochronology and petrogenesis as a basis for considering Precambrian coastal evolution including the role of plate tectonics Detailed consideration is given to the endogenic and exogenic processes which formed the continental crust and also to its subsequent secular evolution across Precambrian time An essential reference volume for every Precambrian geologist Early Precambrian Processes M. P. Coward,Alison C. Ries,1995 This volume contains a selection of 16 papers written by colleagues and students of the late Professor John Sutton FRS John Sutton was one of the most eminent geologists of his time He was interested in every aspect of the Earth Sciences although his passion was for Precambrian rocks throughout the world and particularly those of NW Scotland The papers included in this volume reflect the wide interests of John Sutton and provide the latest ideas and information on the Early Precambrian Geological Society of America Bulletin Geological Society of America,1975 Vols 1-44 include Proceedings of the annual meeting 1889-1933 later published separately Risk and Opportunity Jan H. decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI
