Bounded Rationality in Decision Making Under Uncertainty: Towards Optimal Granularity Joe Lorkowski,Vladik Kreinovich,2017-07-01 This book addresses an intriguing question are our decisions rational It explains seemingly irrational human decision making behavior by taking into account our limited ability to process information It also shows with several examples that optimization under granularity restriction leads to observed human decision making Drawing on the Nobel prize winning studies by Kahneman and Tversky researchers have found many examples of seemingly irrational decisions e g we overestimate the probability of rare events Our explanation is that since human abilities to process

information are limited we operate not with the exact values of relevant quantities but with granules that contain these values We show that optimization under such granularity indeed leads to observed human behavior In particular for the first time we explain the mysterious empirical dependence of betting odds on actual probabilities This book can be recommended to all students interested in human decision making to researchers whose work involves human decisions and to practitioners who design and employ systems involving human decision making so that they can better utilize our ability to make decisions under uncertainty Global Perspectives on Language Assessment Spiros Papageorgiou, Kathleen M. Abstracts for Policy Analysis, 1977-07 Social Studies Education in South and South East Asian Contexts Kerry J Kennedy, 2021-07-22 The education of young people is context bound This edited volume explores the contexts that characterise South and South East Asia and their influence on social studies education There is not a single context across this broad geographical expanse rather different religions different political systems and different values exert influences that create distinctive programmes that characterise different countries Yet there are also commonalities such as the post colonial nature of most of the countries portrayed in this book determined efforts at establishing new national communities and multiple value systems that lead to distinctive local priorities There are also voices of resistance in these chapters recognising the realities of local contexts but also recognising the need for change Social studies education in these contexts may well be descended from its origins in North America but in South and South Asian contexts it has taken on new purposes new forms and new values Education researchers policymakers and postgraduate students in comparative education will find the volume useful in its exploration and comparison of the social studies curricular and reforms that shaped them

Children of the Dream Rucker C. Johnson, 2019-04-16 An acclaimed economist reveals that school integration efforts in the 1970s and 1980s were overwhelmingly successful and argues that we must renew our commitment to integration for the sake of all Americans We are frequently told that school integration was a social experiment doomed from the start But as Rucker C Johnson demonstrates in Children of the Dream it was in fact a spectacular achievement Drawing on longitudinal studies going back to the 1960s he shows that students who attended integrated and well funded schools were more successful in life than those who did not and this held true for children of all races Yet as a society we have given up on integration Since the high point of integration in 1988 we have regressed and segregation again prevails Contending that integrated well funded schools are the primary engine of social mobility Children of the Dream offers a radical new take on social policy It is essential reading in our divided times      An Evaluation of the Public Schools of the District of Columbia National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Testing and Assessment, Committee for the Five-Year (2009-2013) Summative Evaluation of the District of Columbia Public Schools, 2015-08-31 An Evaluation of the Public Schools of the District of Columbia is a comprehensive five year summative evaluation report for Phase Two of an initiative to evaluate the District of Columbia s public schools Consistent with the recommendations in the 2011 report A Plan for Evaluating the District of Columbia s Public Schools this new report describes changes in the public schools during the period from 2009 to 2013 An Evaluation of the Public Schools of the District of Columbia examines business practices human resources operations and human capital strategies academic plans and student achievement This report identifies what is working well seven years after legislation was enacted to give control of public schools to the mayor of the District of Columbia and which areas need additional attention      Education in the Arab World Serra Kirdar, 2017-06-29 Education in the Arab World is a critical reference guide to development of education in Algeria Bahrain Egypt Iraq Jordan Kuwait Lebanon Libya Morocco Oman Palestine Qatar Saudi Arabia Sudan Syria Tunisia the United Arab Emirates and Yemen The chapters written by local experts provide an overview of the education system in each country as well as discussion of educational reforms and socio economic and political issues Including a comparative introduction to the issues facing education in the region as a whole this book is an essential reference for researchers scholars international agencies and policy makers      The Politics and Governance of Basic Education Brian Levy, Robert Cameron, Ursula Hoadley, Vinodhan Naidoo, 2018-09-05 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education Using the vivid example of South Africa a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re orient the system towards learning
