Transparency in Assessment - Exploring the Influence of Explicit Assessment Criteria Anders Jönsson,Frans

Prins,2019-04-03 In many schools and higher education institutions it has become common practice to share assessment criteria with students Sometimes it is required for accountability purposes at other times criteria are used as a means to communicate expectations to students However the idea that explicit assessment criteria should be shared with students has been contested On the one hand research has shown that explicit criteria may positively affect student performance reduce their anxiety as well as support students use of self regulated learning strategies On the other hand there are fears that explicit criteria may have a restraining influence on students learning as well as limiting their autonomy and creativity There are also indications of students becoming more performance oriented as opposed to learning oriented when being provided with explicit assessment criteria Taken together it is not fully understood under which circumstances it is productive for student learning to share explicit assessment criteria and under which circumstances it is not In particular empirical research on the proposed negative effects of sharing criteria with learners is limited and most fears voiced in the literature are based on individual experiences and anecdotal evidence In this book we therefore bring different perspectives on transparency in assessment together in order to further our understanding of how students are influenced by the use of explicit assessment criteria A deeper understanding of the influence of explicit assessment criteria on students understanding of criteria motivation and learning is equally imperative for future research and educational practice both of which need to go beyond individual opinions and convictions

Argumentative Writing in a Second Language Alan R.

Hirvela,Diane Belcher,2021-12-13 Argumentative Writing in a Second Language is a collection on teaching argumentative writing offering multiple vantage points drawn from the contributors own teaching and research experiences The value of learning how to compose argumentative texts cannot be overstated and yet very little attention has been allocated to the equally important topic of how argumentation is or can be taught in the L2 context Thus this volume shifts attention to teachers and argumentative writing instruction especially within increasingly common multimodal and digital literacy settings While doing so it provides a comprehensive wide ranging view of the L2 argumentative writing landscape within an instructional lens Part I of the volume is topic oriented and focuses on explorations of important issues and perspectives while Part II features several chapters reporting classroom based studies of a variety of instructional approaches that expand our understanding of how argumentative writing can be taught The book will be of value to pre service and in service teachers in varying instructional contexts as well as teacher educators and L2 writing scholars researchers

Reading, Writing, and Rigor Nancy Boyles,2018-04-12 What does rigor a word that frequently pops up in conversations about education really mean More specifically what does it mean for literacy instruction and how does it relate to challenging standards based assessments In this informative and practical guide literacy expert Nancy Boyles uses the framework from Webb s Depth of Knowledge DOK to answer these questions offering experience based advice along with specific examples of K 8 assessment items Boyles defines rigor and shows how it relates to literacy at each DOK level and explains the kind of International Practices to Promote Budget Literacy Harika Masud, Helene Pfeil, Sanjay Agarwal, Alfredo Gonzalez Briseno, 2017-08-09 Budget literacy is defined as the ability to read decipher and understand public budgets to enable and enhance meaningful citizen participation in the budget process It is comprised of two main parts i a technical understanding of public budgets including familiarity with government spending tax rates and public debt and ii the ability to engage in the budget process comprising of practical knowledge on day to day issues as well as an elementary understanding of the economic social and political implications of budget policies the stakeholders involved and when and how to provide inputs during the annual budget cycle Given that no international standards or guidelines have been established for budget literacy education to date this book seeks to address this gap by taking stock of illustrative initiatives promoting budget literacy for youth in selected countries The underlying presumption is that when supply side actors in the budget process governments simplify and disseminate budget information for demand side actors citizens this information will then be used by citizens to provide feedback on the budget However since citizens are often insufficiently informed about public budgets to constructively participate in budget processes one way to empower them and to remedy the problem of budget illiteracy is to provide budget literacy education in schools to youth helping them evolve into civic minded adults with the essential knowledge needed for analyzing their government's fiscal policy objectives and measures and the confidence and sense of social responsibility to participate in the oversight of public resources This book elaborates on approaches learning outcomes pedagogical strategies and assessment approaches for budget literacy education and presents lessons that are relevant for the development improvement or scaling up of budget literacy initiatives

Innovations in Teaching and Learning: International Approaches in Developing Teacher Education and Curriculum for The Future Marco

Ferreira, Lawrence Meda, Markus Talvio, 2024-04-16 During the last few years teachers across cultures have faced a lot of unprecedented demands in developing their methods in instruction Population mobility unstable labour market and globalisation change society around us rapidly In addition education per se is constantly changing and redefining and modifying learning and teaching environments are an ongoing process For example modern educational psychology including positive psychology movements emphasizing collaborative knowledge creation calls teachers to facilitate their students learning and wellbeing and to create a positive learning environment instead of using traditional frontal teaching and other teacher centered methods Digital revolution has challenged teachers to adapt new educational settings and to update their pedagogical approaches into more use of digital solutions Indeed the COVID 19 pandemic propelled the teachers to offer new optimal learning experiences

Student-Led Assessment Starr Sackstein, 2024-01-03 The single greatest authority on student learning is the student doing the learning but the right structures must be in place for students voices to be clearly heard and truly valued Conventional formative and summative assessment are most often conducted through one size fits all quizzes and tests that yield narrow predetermined categories of data about students academic progress But if we want a truly accurate look at what how and to what extent students are learning who better to consult than the obvious experts on the matter the students themselves In this lively and comprehensive guide veteran teacher and author Starr Sackstein provides the tools needed to help students compile and present evidence of learning through portfolios and student led conferences from templates and rubrics to personal testimonials reflection questions and activities The book features Forms applicable across grade levels and content areas for unpacking standards co constructing success criteria with students evaluating current classroom practices and more Real life perspectives and scenarios from educators in the field who have embraced portfolios and student led conferences over standardized tests and letter grades Practical experience based guidance for building classroom and schoolwide learning cultures that promote both learner agency and academic achievement The resources recommendations and reflections in Student Led Assessment allow educators at all levels to develop systems and protocols for ensuring student ownership of and pride in their own hard won achievement

Assessing Foreign Language Students' Spoken Proficiency Martin East, 2016-02-02 This book presents an in depth study of assessment innovation and its impact on teaching and learning The context is New Zealand and the focus is additional languages other than English and the recent introduction of a radical new assessment of students spoken proficiency called interact The book crosses the traditional theoretical and methodological boundaries associated with language testing research which focuses on assessment performance and presents an alternative approach where stakeholders become the centre of interest It advances our understanding of how assessment innovation impacts on two key groups teachers and students in schools based on data collected from a substantial two year research project It presents an account of these stakeholders perceptions of the validity and usefulness of the new assessment in comparison with the more traditional test that it has replaced Assessing Foreign Language Students Spoken Proficiency makes an outstanding and original contribution to the field of second and foreign language teaching providing a theory and research based account of the development of a learner centred approach to oral proficiency assessment It is an important resource for teachers and teacher educators as well as assessment and curriculum specialists worldwide It deserves to be widely read
