Proceedings of the ... International Conference for the Psychology of Mathematics Education ,1992      The Underrepresentation of Women in Science: International and Cross-Disciplinary Evidence and Debate Stephen J. Ceci, Wendy M. Williams, Shulamit Kahn, 2018-04-20 There is no shortage of articles and books exploring women's underrepresentation in science. Everyone is interested: academics, politicians, parents, high school girls and boys, women in search of college majors, administrators working to accommodate women's educational interests; the list goes on. But one thing often missing is an evidence-based examination of the problem, uninfluenced by personal opinions, accounts of lived experiences, anecdotes, and the always encroaching inputs of popular culture. This is why this special issue of Frontiers in Psychology can make a difference. In it, a diverse group of authors and researchers with even more diverse viewpoints find themselves united by their empirical, objective approaches to understanding women's underrepresentation in science today. The questions considered within this special issue span academic disciplines, methods, levels of analysis, and nature of analysis; what these articles share is their scholarly, evidence-based approach to understanding a key issue of our time.

Empowering Science and Mathematics for Global Competitiveness Yuli Rahmawati, Peter Charles Taylor, 2019-06-07 This conference proceedings focuses on enabling science and mathematics practitioners and citizens to respond to the pressing challenges of global competitiveness and sustainable development by transforming research and teaching of science and mathematics. The proceedings consist of 82 papers presented at the Science and Mathematics International Conference SMIC 2018, organised by the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences, Universitas Negeri Jakarta, Indonesia. The proceedings are organised in four parts: Science, Science Education, Mathematics, and Mathematics Education. The papers contribute to our understanding of important contemporary issues in science, especially nanotechnology, materials, and environmental science; science education in particular; environmental sustainability; STEM and STEAM education; 21st century skills; technology education; and green chemistry and mathematics and its application in statistics, computer science, and mathematics education.

Evaluating and Improving Undergraduate Teaching in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Center for Education, Committee on Recognizing, Evaluating, Rewarding, and Developing Excellence in Teaching of Undergraduate Science, Mathematics, Engineering, and Technology, 2003-01-19 Economic, academic, and social forces are causing undergraduate schools to start a fresh examination of teaching effectiveness. Administrators face the complex task of developing equitable, predictable ways to evaluate, encourage, and reward good teaching in science, math, engineering, and technology. Evaluating and Improving Undergraduate Teaching in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics offers a vision for systematic evaluation of teaching practices and academic programs with recommendations to the various stakeholders in higher education about how to achieve change. What is good undergraduate teaching? This book discusses how to evaluate undergraduate teaching of science, mathematics, engineering, and technology, and what characterizes effective teaching in these fields Why has it been difficult for colleges and universities to address the question of teaching effectiveness The committee explores the implications of differences between the research and teaching cultures and how practices in rewarding researchers could be transferred to the teaching enterprise How should administrators approach the evaluation of individual faculty members And how should evaluation results be used The committee discusses methodologies offers practical guidelines and points out pitfalls Evaluating and Improving Undergraduate Teaching in Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics provides a blueprint for institutions ready to build effective evaluation programs for teaching in science fields      United States Code United States,1989      Children's drawings:
