leadership on its toes and on the right track In effect Murray Lincoln himself has played this role regardless of the organization he s worked for or the spot he might have occupied on the organization chart As New England s first county agricultural agent back in 1914 he was no less a vice president in charge of revolution than he is today as president of some fifteen different business enterprises Indeed it s been said of him that when he goes to Heaven he ll take one look around decide the place could stand some straightening up and ask St Peter for a broom Mr Lincoln s thought and experience have led him to become one of the world s foremost advocates of consumer cooperation as an economic way of life In consumer cooperation he sees the national recognition as the executive secretary of the cooperatively centered Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Today he is head of Nationwide Insurance which has assets of more than three hundred and fifty million dollars and a group of other companies whose activities span such diversified fields as broadcasting manufacturing credit finance and building He was the first president of CARE and since 1941 has been president of the Cooperative League of the U S A He was a lay representative of American agriculture on the five member U S delegation to the United Nations Conference on Food and Agriculture at Hot Springs Virginia in 1943 An early consultant to the United Nations Economic and Social Council he is now a member of the executive committee of the U S Committee for the United Nations He has also served or is serving on such bodies as President Truman s Commission on Higher Education the National Commission for Adult Literacy the National Child Labor Committee and the National Planning Association Whatever his job or title his role has always been that of the creative and controversial leader a man impatient with the status quo eager to change things for the better and convinced that things can be better if people will only work together to make them so This book is the personal recollection of the life of Murray Danforth Lincoln born in 1892 It represents a remarkable feat of recall by a man who has never kept a diary who wrote few letters and even fewer articles for publication In so far as it has been possible or practical names dates figures facts have been checked and corrected However because this is a personal record of one man s life and times there are bound to be some errors and omissions For what Murray Lincoln thought felt saw and remembers I offer no apology nor explanation For what I have failed to elicit from him I beg your indulgence David Karp

The Oxford Handbook of Agricultural History Jeannie M. Wayne, 2024 Agricultural history has enjoyed a rebirth in recent years in part because the agricultural enterprise promotes economic and cultural connections in an era that has become ever more globally focused but also because of agriculture s potential to lead to conflicts over precious resources The Oxford Handbook of Agricultural History reflects this rebirth and examines the wide reaching implications of agricultural issues featuring essays that touch on the green revolution the development of the Atlantic slave plantation the agricultural impact of the American Civil War the rise of scientific and corporate agriculture and modern exploitation of agricultural labor
