Ziolkowski,2016-01-22 In antiquity and the Middle Ages memory was a craft and certain actions and tools were thought to be necessary for its creation and recollection Until now however many of the most important visual and textual sources on the topic have remained untranslated or otherwise difficult to consult Mary Carruthers and Jan M Ziolkowski bring together the texts and visual images from the twelfth through the fifteenth centuries that are central to an understanding of memory and memory technique These sources are now made available for a wider audience of students of medieval and early modern history and culture and readers with an interest in memory mnemonics and the synergy of text and image The art of memory was most importantly associated in the Middle Ages with composition and those who practiced the craft used it to make new prayers sermons pictures and music The mixing of visual and verbal media was commonplace throughout medieval cultures pictures contained visual puns words were often verbal paintings and both were used equally as tools for making thoughts The ability to create pictures in one s own mind was essential to medieval cognitive technique and imagination and the intensely pictorial and affective qualities of medieval art and literature were generative creative devices in themselves

Commentary on Mark Charles Spurgeon, Baptist pastor Charles Haddon Spurgeon is remembered today as the Prince of Preachers But in addition to his sermons he regularly reading a Bible passage before his message and gave a verse by verse exposition rich in gospel insight and wisdom for the Christian life Sample Mark 15 1 3 1 And straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council and bound Jesus and carried him away and delivered him to Pilate The whole council could be there so early in the morning for such an evil purpose Wicked men are very diligent in carrying out their sinful schemes so when Christ was to be murdered his enemies were there as Luke tells us as soon as it was day How much more diligent ought the followers of Christ to be to give him their devoted service It is a good thing to begin the day with united prayer and holy converse with his people Let these wicked men who were so early in the morning seeking to secure the death of Christ make us ashamed that we are not more diligent in his blessed service 2 And Pilate asked him Art thou the King of the Jews And he answering said unto him Thou sayest it Jesus did not look much like a king as he stood before Pilate there was little enough of the robes of royalty about his simple apparel Yet even in his humiliation there must have been so much of majesty that even the governor was prompted to ask Art thou the King of the Jews There was no longer any reason why the King should conceal his true position so he answered Thou sayest it It is even as thou sayest I am the King of the Jews The Jews rejected their King He came unto his own and his own received him not Yet was he their King although they refused to bow before his sceptre of grace and mercy 3 And the chief priest
