Mokhobo,2013-03-19 I wrote a personal story motivated by the urge to chronicle what struck me as a unique and unusual developmental social and professional life I hope the story will interest the readers I certainly relished the nostalgia and recollections of the past from the humble beginnings and reaching the top with success in a manner from which the origins cannot be told or surmised The purpose is not to glorify poverty nor encourage social upbringing in an environment devoid of parental support but to indicate the inherent resilience of a human being It is possible to survive and succeed despite adverse circumstances if among other factors one gets lucky breaks or your journey enjoys fortunate events In my case success was certainly almost entirely the result of lucky strokes and unexplained events which came to the rescue at the right time and in the correct manner The morrow was miraculously shaped without concerted planning Assistance that came from various unsolicited quarters testified to inherent good nature of people In many a situation similar to mine the environment can be a fatal and destructive derailment One had to have the ability to learn quickly and to have the potential to avoid pitfalls Black Student Politics, Higher Education and Apartheid Saleem Badat,1999 Black Student Politics Higher Education and Apartheid examines two black national student political organisations the South African National Students Congress SANSCO and the South African Students Organisation SASO popularly associated with Black Consciousness It analyses the ideologies politics and organisation of SASO and SANSCO and their intellectual political and social determinants It also analyses their role in the educational political and social spheres and the factors that shaped their activities Finally it assesses their contributions to the popular struggle against apartheid education as well as against race class and gender oppression Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi

Makalela,2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education
