Moi Reporting Dates 2015 16 Academic Year:

The Report: Indonesia 2018 Oliver Cornock, 2018 In 2018 the Indonesian economy recorded a growth rate of 5.2% the highest in five years. This was in spite of a slump in the rupiah and a trade imbalance and took place against a backdrop of rising US interest rates and deteriorating trade relations between the world's two biggest economies. The country's emphasis on industrialisation and infrastructure development is laying the foundations for continued economic growth. Moreover, the archipelago's growing middle class population, geographical position and human capital development agenda alongside progress in free trade agreements make it a strong contender on the global economic stage. The country holds considerable potential for developing entrepreneurial and creative prowess already being home to four unicorn startups. Investors have continued to look beyond traditional destinations with emerging cities like Surabaya and Palembang showing strong possibilities for economic growth. Although the outcome of the April 2019 national election will determine the course of further infrastructure development and tax reforms, the future looks promising with predictions of continued growth accompanied by stable inflation.

Public Diplomacy in Vietnam Vu Lam, 2022-08-12 This book explores how Vietnam's leadership conceptualises and conducts public diplomacy (PD) and offers a comparative analysis with regional powers. Drawing on social constructivism as its theoretical framework, it investigates the rationale behind an authoritarian regime's implementation of public diplomacy to contribute to a better understanding of the broader framework of foreign domestic policy. This theoretical and practical exploration of Vietnam's PD in cases of cultural diplomacy, South China Sea diplomacy and online activism situates it in the general academic and theoretical discussion on soft power. Key variables to the conceptualisation and conduct of Vietnam's PD, namely national interest, national identity and changing information technologies, especially the Internet and social media, are also thoroughly investigated. With crosscutting themes ranging from politics and international relations to communication studies, it will appeal to students and scholars of identity politics, populism and nationalism.

A post-separation Social Accounting Matrix for the Sudan Siddig, Khalid, Elagra, Samir, Grethe, Harald, Mubarak, Amel, 2018-02-24 The 2012 Social Accounting Matrix (SAM) for the Sudan, with a special focus on agriculture, water and energy, is built using data from domestic sources in the Sudan, including the Central Bureau of Statistics, the Ministry of Agriculture, the Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning and the Central Bank of Sudan, besides other external sources. Major data sets used include the 2012 National Accounts and Trade Statistics of the CBS, the 53rd Annual Report of the Central Bank of the Sudan, the 2011 Labor Force Survey, the 2009 Household Income and Expenditure Survey, the 2009-2012 Agricultural Production Cost Survey and the 2005 Industrial Survey. Data from external sources are used to complement national sources. These sources include IMF studies on government finances, FAO reports and data on agriculture and ILO reports on labor. The SAM distinguishes between agricultural activities based on modes of irrigation: energy based on its major source and water based on modes of production and types of uses. Land is divided into irrigated and non irrigated while natural water resources are added in a separate account Households are categorized by state location rural and urban and income quintiles Labor accounts are differentiated based on location rural and urban skill level and gender
