Indian Muslim Minorities and the 1857 Rebellion Ilyse R. Morgenstein Fuerst, 2017-08-14 While jihad has been the subject of countless studies in the wake of recent terrorist attacks scholarship on the topic has so far paid little attention to South Asian Islam and more specifically its place in South Asian history Seeking to fill some gaps in the historiography Ilyse R Morgenstein Fuerst examines the effects of the 1857 Rebellion long taught in Britain as the Indian Mutiny on debates about the issue of jihad during the British Raj Morgenstein Fuerst shows that the Rebellion had lasting pronounced effects on the understanding by their Indian subjects whether Muslim Hindu or Sikh of imperial rule by distant outsiders For India's Muslims their interpretation of the Rebellion as jihad shaped subsequent discourses definitions and codifications of Islam in the region Morgenstein Fuerst concludes by demonstrating how these perceptions of jihad contextualised within the framework of the 19th century Rebellion continue to influence contemporary rhetoric about Islam and Muslims in the Indian subcontinent Drawing on extensive primary source analysis this unique take on Islamic identities in South Asia will be invaluable to scholars working on British colonial history India and the Raj as well as to those studying Islam in the region and beyond

New Approaches to Islam in Film Kristian Petersen, 2021-04-26 Many global film industries fail in expanding the role of Muslims on screen Too often they produce a dichotomy between good and bad Muslims limiting the narrative domain to issues of national security war and terrorism Naturally much of the previous scholarship on Muslims in film focused on stereotypes and the politics of representation This collection of essays from an international panel of contributors significantly expands the boundaries of discussion around Muslims in film asking new questions of the archive and magnifying analyses of particular cultural productions The volume includes the exploration of regional cinemas detailed analysis of auteurs and individual films comparison across global cinema and new explorations that have not yet entered the conversation The interdisciplinary collection provides an examination of the multiple roles Islam plays in film and the various ways Muslims are depicted Across the chapters key intersecting themes arise that push the limits of how we currently approach issues of Muslims in cinema and ventures to lead us in new directions for future scholarship This book adds new depth to the matrix of previous scholarship by revisiting methodological structures and sources as well as exploring new visual geographies transnational circuits and approaches It reframes the presiding scholarly conventions in five novel trajectories considering new sources exploring new communities probing new perspectives charting new theoretical directions and offering new ways of understanding conflict in cinema As such it will be of great use to scholars working in Islamic Studies Film Studies Religious Studies and Media Islam, the West, and Tolerance A. Tyler, 2008-04-14 This book provides an honest assessment of the contemporary relationship between Western and Islamic cultures and puts forth the cross cultural idea of tolerance as one invaluable approach for affecting peaceful coexistence Veiled Superheroes Sophia Rose Arjana, 2017-11-01 This groundbreaking study examines Muslim female superheroes within a matrix of Islamic theology feminism and contemporary political discourse Through a close reading of texts including Ms Marvel Qahera and The 99 Sophia Rose Arjana argues that these powerful and iconic characters reflect independence and agency reflecting the diverse lives of Muslim girls and women in the world today
