

NIGHT BY ELIE WIESEL - BLACKOUT POETRY ACTIVITY!

Night by Elie Wiesel Blackout Poetry

Creating a blackout poem looks like an easy process, but it is actually much more complicated.

Steps:

1. Read the page first looking for keywords. A key word could be something like "prisoner" or "Nazi," something you know you could find a strong poem around. Lightly circle these words with a pencil (working with these words is easiest).
2. Then, you can look for words to help your key words make sense. For example, if you found "prisoner" and "Nazi" as the first word, you might look for words containing words like "Nazi" and "Nazi" to create a flow that reads "the prisoner is a Nazi".
3. When you are choosing key words and finding those words again, try to avoid phrases. The poem is to come out of the text, not just highlight phrases from the original piece of literature.
4. When you are done, you can lightly circle and underline that it satisfies the requirements for the poem and that it makes sense. If it doesn't make sense, this is your last chance to make the poem better before you start thinking over the poem.

Risking Truth Scott A. Ellington,2008-09-01 Ours is a world characterized by change Often the most fundamental changes in our lives result from experiences of profound suffering and loss as we are wrenched from our familiar world and driven into one that is alien In the midst of such loss we are compelled to choose between trying to cling to the remnants of a reality that is passing away and trying to make a home in a strange new world Biblical prayers of lament wait for us at this crossroad of loss and newness Prayers of lament are marked both by loss and by the inexplicable silence of God Everything we believe about God s justice and goodness is placed in doubt by his hiddenness

The cry of lament is an act of tremendous risk To lament is to abandon the sinking ship of religious certainty and strike out in a small dingy amidst stormy seas in search of a hidden God Faced with God's silence the biblical writers are willing to place at risk their most fundamental beliefs and to lament The Psalm writers risk the loss of the Exodus story by crying out to a God who has failed to save demanding that he once more part the chaotic waters and make a way in the desert Job risks the loss of a moral God by confronting God with his injustice Jeremiah risks the loss of the covenant by calling out for God to return yet again to a faithless partner and a failed marriage Matthew and John the Revelator recognize that the coming of Messiah is impelled by the cries of innocent sufferers Throughout the Bible lament risks the possible loss of relationship with God and presses for a new though uncertain experience of God's presence The Oxford History of Life-Writing Patrick Hayes, 2022 This volume is devoted to life writing in English from 1945 to the present day a period in which life writing became an increasingly popular and accessible form
