Shakespeare, Italy, and Transnational Exchange Enza De Francisci,Chris Stamatakis,2017-05-12 This interdisciplinary transhistorical collection brings together international scholars from English literature Italian studies performance history and comparative literature to offer new perspectives on the vibrant engagements between Shakespeare and Italian theatre literary culture and politics from the sixteenth to the twenty first century Chapters address the intricate two way exchange between Shakespeare and Italy how the artistic and intellectual culture of Renaissance Italy shaped Shakespeare s drama in his own time and how the afterlife of Shakespeare s work and reputation in Italy since the eighteenth century has permeated Italian drama poetry opera novels and film Responding to exciting recent scholarship on Shakespeare and Italy as well as transnational theatre this volume moves beyond conventional source study and familiar questions about influence location and adaptation to propose instead a new evolving paradigm of cultural interchange Essays

Memoir Letters from Another Climate explores the connection between menopause mourning and memory through nine fictional letters written to different addressees. The letters explain the author's own experience of having a hysterectomy without her permission during surgery for endometriosis and being thrown into instant menopause. Herrmann expresses her experiences differently in each letter based on the recipient's gender, sexual identity, and age, revealing the complexities of accepting menopause. Psychotherapists, psychologists, physicians, medical students, academics, and those interested in women's health and women's studies will receive insight into one woman's experience and will learn how our bodies mold our sexual identity and shape many aspects of our lives. Writing these letters from the point of view of a scholar engaged in personal narrative but not in the familiar narrative of a woman married with children, Herrmann examines her journey of loss, recovery, and healing through feminist theory. The letters in A Menopausal Memoir reveal many other issues, including the relationship between the female body and the meanings attached to it, the different ways women tell their stories about difficult experiences, negotiating the relationship between growing older and sexual identity, the body's response to the loss of organs that form its history, the connection between body identity and disease. A highly personal yet theoretical approach to the experience of menopause. A Menopausal Memoir explores how changes in the body affect your sexual identity, your relationships, and your feelings as a woman. Mother Tongue Wallis Wilde-Menozzi, 2020-03-17 A probing and poetic examination of language, food, faith, and family attachment in Italian life through the eyes of an American who moved to Parma with her husband and family. In the 1980s, the American writer Wallis Wilde Menozzi moved permanently with her Italian husband and her daughter to Parma, a sophisticated city in northern Italy where he became a professor of biology. Her search for rootedness in the city that was to be her home introduced her to complexities in her identity as she migrated into another language and looked for links beyond the joys of Verdi, Correggio, and Parmesan cheese, which visitors have rightly extolled for centuries. The local resistance to change, perceived as individualistic, led Wilde Menozzi to explore the pull and challenge of difference and discover the backbone she needed for artistic freedom. In Mother Tongue, Wilde Menozzi offers stories of far-sighted lives, remarkable Parma men, and remarkable women, including the Renaissance abbess Giovanna Piacenza, the fighting Donella Rossi Sanvitale, and her own indefatigable mother-in-law. Framed with a new introduction by the author and a new foreword by Patricia Hampl, this classic on diversity and tolerance, family, faith, and food in Italy and the United States is at once timeless and timely, a large, beautiful window into the intelligent, literate, reflective life of Italy. Shirley Hazzard. Italian Humanist Photography from Fascism to the Cold War Martina Caruso, 2020-08-19 Spanning four decades of radical political and social change in Italy, this interdisciplinary study explores photography's relationship with Italian painting, film, literature, anthropological research, and international photography. Evocative and powerful Italian social documentary photography from the 1930s to the 1960s is a rich source of cultural history reflecting a time of dramatic change. This book shows, through a wide range of images, some published for the first time, that to fully understand the photography of this period we must take a more expansive view than scholars have applied to date considering issues of propaganda aesthetics religion national identity and international influences By setting Italian photography against a backdrop of social documentary and giving it a distinctive place in the global history of photography this exciting volume of original research is of interest to art historians and scholars of Italian and visual culture studies The Edinburgh Companion to Women in Publishing, 1900-2020 Nicola Wilson, Claire Battershill, Sophie Heywood, MARRISA JOSEPH, Daniela La Penna, Helen Southworth, Alice Staveley and Elizabeth Willson Gordon, 2024-02-29 Women's creative labour in publishing has often been overlooked This book draws on dynamic new work in feminist book history and publishing studies to offer the first comparative collection exploring women's diverse deeply embedded work in modern publishing Highlighting the value of networks collaboration and archives the companion sets out new ways of reading women's contributions to the production and circulation of global print cultures With an international intergenerational set of contributors using diverse methodologies essays explore women working in publishing transatlantically on the continent and beyond the Anglosphere The book combines new work on high profile women publishers and editors alongside analysis of women's work as translators illustrators booksellers advertisers patrons and publisher's readers complemented by new oral histories and interviews with leading women in publishing today The first collection of its kind the companion helps establish and shape a thriving new research field
